Government Starting Extensive Dredging Of Branford River Channel

Dredger Already On The Job, Prepared To Undertake Task Of Channel Clearing — Some Of Dredged Material
Will Be Dumped On Meadows

Extensive dredging operations on the Branford River are in prospect which will deepen and greatly improve the channel of the local stream. The dredger is already on the spot and preliminary surveys have been made on the necessary dyking and other details. The contract for the work was let by the Federal Government which will undertake the work as a part of the regular Rivers and Harbors maintenance service.

The project will consist of two sections. Near the Malleable Iron factory a suction dredge pump will take the accumulated silt from the channel, and scows will carry it to be dumped on the meadows near the old Roddin Quarry. The spot is sometimes called "The Pines," and is near the Armstrong residence.

The channel near the mouth of the river will also be dredged but in this place the mud will be taken out beyond the mouth of the river and will be dumped in the Sound. This will be the simpler of the two operations since it will be necessary to construct dykes to retain the fill which will be dumped on the meadows farther up the river.

This dredging work is a repetition of similar work which has to be cared for periodically to keep the channel from filling up entirely with the accumulated silt which is being constantly washed down from the upper sections of the river.

Attempts by local interests to get the Federal Government interested in a more extensive and more permanent development of the Branford River have so far proved futile. The work now going

Branford Man Gives Lecture On Astronomy

A young man, Lewis Doolittle of Stony Creek, presented a lecture and motion picture Tuesday night in Blackstone Memorial Library entitled "A Journey to the Moon".

Mr. Doolittle has been called upon to give such talks by many of the town's organizations and his lecture Tuesday was attended by many who had previously heard him.

The motion pictures were the only ones of their kind ever taken and were photographed at the McMath-Hubert Observatory at the University of Michigan.

They included the spiral nebula, a huge universe made up of stars, like the Milky Way; Saturn, ten times larger than the Earth in diameter. The outstanding feature about Saturn is the famous rings, three in number, composed of swarms of tiny satellites, all formed.

Western Auto Store To Open Here Next Week

New Local Concern Will Carry
Complete Line Of Auto
Accessories

One of the outstanding events in Branford business history is the opening of the new Western Auto Associate Store, owned and operated by Stanley Tolman at Branford.

Most car owners in this vicinity are familiar with the Western Auto Supply Company of Kansas City, Missouri, because this is the firm that used to send out so many of the little catalogs known as the "Auto Owners' Supply Book" offering attractive prices on practically everything needed for an automobile. It is the oldest and largest organization of its kind in the world, founded in 1909 and now operating more than 178 stores in the eastern and central parts of the United States.

This Company is now co-operating with more than 800 individual merchants throughout the country to enable them to offer the public merchandise with an established reputation for quality at money-saving prices that would be impossible without this combined buying power.

Public Urged By Post Office To Shop Early

During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 percent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas Day the public of Branford should shop and mail early.

The Branford Post Office urges the public to do Christmas shopping so that gifts, greetings and letters to relatives, friends and loved ones can be mailed a week or ten days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received before Christmas Day but will be a great aid to your postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend the Christmas holiday with their families.

Fine Concert Planned By Musical Art Society Here Sunday Evening

Widely Known Local Musical Group Will Render Choice
Selection Of Well-Known Hymns Of
The Yuletide Season

An outstanding feature of the Yuletide season in Branford, and one that will bring pleasure to a great many people, will be the Christmas program to be presented in the Baptist Church next Sunday evening, December 12, at 8:00 p. m. by the Branford Musical Art Society. The program includes many of the fine old Christmas hymns that have become endeared to the people by long association with the holiday that is dedicated to happiness and good will.

The Musical Art Society is composed of a large number of talented musicians and in previous appearances during the past several years it has won itself a reputation which extends far beyond the confines of our own community. The concert Sunday evening will be one of many occasions upon which the group has given its efforts for the enjoyment of the Branford public.

The following program will be given:

"Nazareth," Gounod; Mrs. Geo. Fouser, violin; Mrs. Alfred Burr, violin; Mr. Harry Lindberg, violin; Mrs. Raymond Pinkham, viola; Miss Cornelia Osborn, cello; Mrs. Roy Cox, harp; Mr. Everett Lindberg, trumpet; Mrs. S. V. Osborn, organ; Proclamation Hymn, No. 39, "O Come All Ye Faithful"; "No Candle was there and no fire," Lehmann from Breton; folk songs, Mrs. William Rice; "Hallelujah, Christ is Born," Bishop.

Purchase Stamps Early To Avoid Christmas Rush

There appears to be some confusion on the part of the Branford public with respect to the rate of postage on Christmas and other greeting cards sent under cover of unsealed envelopes.

Printed greeting cards mailed under cover of unsealed envelopes are chargeable with postage at the third class rate of 1½ cents for each 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces, regardless of whether addressed for delivery through post-office boxes or general delivery, or by city or rural carrier; the 1 cent drop-letter rate applicable at non-letter-carrier offices does not apply to such cards in unsealed envelopes.

Purchase postage stamps in advance of the Christmas rush, thereby avoiding inconvenience and delay.

Only special delivery and perishable mail and "Gift Parcels" are to be delivered on Christmas day. Mail early.

Library Club To Hold Dance Friday Night

The annual dance of the Library Club of the Branford High School will be held in the school gymnasium on Friday evening. The affair will be a Christmas dance with decorations and general atmosphere in the Yuletide tradition.

Favors will be given to every girl who attends. An excellent orchestra has been secured and everything possible has been done to assure a successful affair. A large attendance of the students and the younger alumni is anticipated.

Chaperones will be Superintendent and Mrs. Raymond E. Pinkham, members of the school board, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. John Carr.

The committee for the dance includes Catherine Neal, chairman; Alice Wilson, Mary Fitzgerald, Barbara Carr and Eileen Mooney.

Christmas Sale By Garden Club

Dried bouquets, centerpieces dish gardens and gourds will be on sale tomorrow afternoon during a Christmas tea given by the Branford Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Harry A. Smith of Averill Place.

Mrs. Frederick Catlin is chairman and has the following committee: Mrs. R. Earle Beers, Mrs. Frank Stone, Mrs. Norman V. Lamb, Mrs. Paul Shephardson, Mrs. Robert J. Plumb, Mrs. Dana L. Blanchard, Mrs. Raymond Van Wie, Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. Mortimer D. Stanley, Mrs. Frank Lowe, Mrs. Joseph Martin, Mrs. Rufus Shephard, Mrs. Thomas Paradise and Mrs. H. E. H. Cox.

Seeing Eye Dog Will Appear At Trinity Church

Next Monday evening there will be an unusual opportunity when Miss Ethel Stevens of New Haven will come to Trinity Parish House and bring her dog, "the seeing eye". Miss Stevens will speak on "What the guide dog means to me and how I learned to use it." The Girls' Friendly Society is sponsoring this and inviting all who are interested to come and hear Miss Stevens and see a demonstration of tricks by this valuable dog.

Over the radio the Town Crier, Alexander Woolcott has so often spoken of and for this cause of the Blind but this is the first time a Branford audience has been privileged with a visit from one of these dogs and its master and many are planning to attend.

The time will be 8 o'clock and there will be a silver collection for this worthy cause.

The Girls' Friendly Society are selling tickets for the moving picture "Heidi," featuring Shirley Temple, to be shown at the Branford Theatre, Dec. 13 and Dec. 14. This is an excellent picture both for children and adults. Plan to get your tickets ahead from one of the members of G. F. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madeira left Tuesday noon from Stony Creek to pass the winter in Florida.

Loan Official Is Speaker, At Rotary Club

The Branford Rotarians heard a very interesting talk on a subject which has been lately receiving wide attention when Frederick W. Midgley, executive secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of New Haven addressed the weekly meeting Monday noon on the topic "A Century and a Half of Cooperative Home Finance" Mr. Midgley explained in considerable detail the present day efforts of the Federal government to aid home owners through the associations.

The five minute speaker was Walter H. Palmer who talked about St. Louis, Mo.

Visiting Rotarians were R. D. Case, D. I. Chapman, R. F. Bailey, A. B. King, Roy Koontz, R. S. Judd, Walter Tompkins and C. W. Whitteley, all of New Haven.

Luncheon For Women GOP's

Mrs. Chauncey Upton will be hostess to the Women's Republican club at a covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock Monday.

This is the annual meeting and a program is being arranged by Mrs. Arthur Bowman and Mrs. Grace Hunter.

Members who wish transportation are asked to be at Collins and Freeman's at 12:50. Those attending are reminded to bring a cup and table silver.

XMAS EVE PARTY & DANCE
A Christmas Eve party and dance will be given by the Moose Hill Democratic Club at the club rooms, on Friday evening, December 24, at 8:00 p. m. Tickets will be 25 cents. Refreshments will be served.

Falling Tree Causes Trouble

Traffic was delayed and trolley passengers transferred about nine o'clock Tuesday evening when a huge tree was blown across the street at Gray Gables cottage, Main Street, Short Beach.

Connecticut Light and Power and trolley lines were pulled apart for several hundred feet. Workmen remained throughout the night making repairs and carting away the branches and limbs.

Yule Festival At East Haven December 18th

Among the unusually interesting events of the holiday season in this vicinity will be the Christmas Festival and Drawing under the auspices of the East Haven Democratic Town committee, Saturday evening December 18, at Jeffersonian Hall, 204 Main Street, East Haven. The committee working on this Festival and Drawing are: Arthur T. Connor, Dr. Rocco Bove, Richard L. Watson, John Simon, Thomas F. Reynolds.

Many valuable prizes will be given away including food stuffs of all kinds, novel toys and dolls, and various kinds of home utensils. Many of the prizes will be on display next week in the window of one of the East Haven Merchants.

There will be entertainment given by prominent musicians, singers and dancers and will add to the Christmas spirit of the festival.

Invitations are now being distributed by various members of the Town Committee and may be obtained from the committee sponsoring this function or from any member of the Democratic Town Committee.

Many prominent state and national officials are planning to attend this Festival as guests of the Town Committee. The names of some of these officials will be announced later.

Tabor Lutheran Church Christmas Candle Light Service will be held Sunday evening Dec. 19th at 7 P. M.

John Connelly Announces Fair Trade Contract

Fair Trade contracts covering hundreds of items sold by druggists, department stores and specialty shops in Connecticut have been signed by more than 60 manufacturers doing business in this state.

John H. Connelly, local enforcement officer of the Connecticut Fair Trade Committee, drug division, stated today. A bulletin listing the names of the manufacturers has just been issued by William H. Meyer of Hartford, executive secretary of the Fair Trade committee.

The list of manufacturers signing the contracts looks like the Who's Who of the American drug and cosmetic trade. Mr. Connelly says and it includes "the cream of the crop." Virtually all of the contracts already have been put into force and prices are now marked in accordance with the provisions of the pacts. The contracts cover all sorts of drugs, standard, proprietary, accessories, beauty and toilet preparations, standard household

Abbott Page Is Now Youth Of 81 Summers

We hear from our esteemed correspondent, Professor Abbott Page of California, that he has just celebrated his 81st birthday on November 24. He is just recovering from an illness that kept him in bed for a time.

He speaks of having Thanksgiving dinner about the black walnut table formerly owned by T. F. Hamner and "round which he brought up his family of children."

Professor Page specifies that his letter is not for publication, but we have taken the liberty of passing along a few of its outstanding points since we know how many of our people are interested in hearing about our "local boy" who "made good" in the Golden West.

Old Branford Telephone Directory Found

Ralph Beers of North Branford Sends The Southern New England Telephone Co. Old Book Published About 1895.

An old telephone directory was forwarded to the Southern New England Telephone Company by Ralph Beers of North Branford, son of the man listed.

The November "Telephone Bulletin" publishes the directory and states that Harry Pond, an old-time Branfordite, dates the directory at about 1895. Incidentally, Pond's telephone number was 17 until two years ago. The telephone company checked with the current directory and found that out of the 68 listings, 14 still have telephone service. The best the company could do on numbers was in the case of Nathan Harrison house, 6-2. The number today is 6-3. Just by way of comparison, there are over 2,000 telephones in Branford now.

A perusal of the listings will reveal the names of those who are still here, and will also recall many well-known people who have passed away or moved out of town.

East Haven High School Notes

Appraisal reports were issued on Wednesday, Dec. 1 for the first quarterly marking period. The report form adopted last March was again used. Subsequent reports will be issued in February, April, and June.

Members of the faculty bowl every Monday evening at the local alley. Plans are being made for a night with a team composed of members of the school board. James Maloney is bowling champion.

A special luncheon was served on Monday in the school cafeteria in honor of "Cliff" Needham, who was presented at the high school by the English IV class in a morning and afternoon program of Penbrook Indian lore. William E. Ferguson and Carl A. Garvin, chairman of the extra-curricular activities, were invited by the boys as special luncheon guests.

A special radio broadcast has been arranged by James Maloney for members of the club, which will take place on the radio on Thursday, Dec. 15 and 16, in the high school auditorium. The puppets have been modeled and dressed by members of the club, which has been constructed by Mr. Albert Knox's Stagercraft Club, the curtains made by members of Miss Alice Hall's home-making classes, and the furniture fashioned by Mr. Min member of Mr. Horace Baker's man and art class. Miss Milton G. May will serve as musical accompanist.

The Western Auto Supply Company Store here in Branford will carry the same general line of supplies, accessories, and tools, including such well-known brands as Davis DeLuxe tires, Wizard batteries, Truonion radios, Western Flyer bicycles, etc., hitherto offered only at the big city stores.

It is stated that the new store offers the largest and most complete stocks of auto supplies and accessories in this city. Every item is of selected quality and backed by Western Auto's guarantee of "satisfaction or money back."

Mr. Tolman explains that because of his favorable arrangements with the Western Auto Supply Company he will be able to offer the same merchandise at approximately the same prices as those in the big city stores.

The new store will be open for business Saturday, Dec. 11th, but Saturday, Dec. 18 will be the "Official Opening Day" and Mr. Tolman promises to have special prices on a number of popular items in honor of the occasion.

The Branford High School teachers met with Principal C. C. Townsend presented for the teachers' consideration certain matters having to do with the recent reorganization of the school.

Following the meeting Miss Pond of the faculty served tea in the cafeteria.

MUSIC LOVERS FROM BRANFORD ATTEND CONCERT

Musicians from Branford who attended the third concert by the New Haven Orchestra Association in Woolsey Hall expressed regret that more Branford people did not attend to hear the Third Symphony by Richard Donnan.

Jan Sibelius under the direction of Richard Donnan.

The talents of the young pianist, Roger Cushman were brought out in Cesar Franck's Symphonie Variations. He gave an entirely masterful performance, with unusually flexible, enviable tones.

The Moon, Mr. Doolittle explained, because it reflects the sun's rays. With the aid of charts and diagrams the speaker explained how the unaided eye sees the body in a sequence of positions.

Lewis Doolittle of Stony Creek spoke yesterday at the Clinton-Madison Guilford Rotary Club. He also showed a motion picture "A Journey to the Moon."

MISS HOLABIRD IS WEDDED TO ROBERT BARTON

Miss Marian Ruth Holabird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harrison Holabird of Killam Point, and Robert Jackson Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Barton of Cloud Land Farm, Clintonville, were married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Plymouth Church, New Haven, by Rev. Dr. J. H. Jones.

Miss Ruth Moffett played a program of wedding music. Richard Holabird, brother of the bride, sang "At Dawning" and "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a satin gown made with train and an antique veil draped from halo or orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Alexander Hurley, as matron of honor, dressed in white crepe with red velvet jacket and a white halo hat. Her bouquet was of red and white carnations.

The groom, who is Miss Mary Johnson Thorpe, Russell Long was best man and the ushers were Donald Thompson of Branford, Roland Thompson of Yonkers, N. Y., Donald Holabird, brother of the bride, John Elbert Barton, brother of the groom.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Barton will be at home to their friends after January 1 in 3524 Bronx Boulevard, New York.

Washington (IPS)—It won't be long, say the inventors, before we'll be sleeping in air-conditioned beds. That the air-conditioning industry, already giving employment to thousands in newly created jobs, may expand to the field of conditioning beds, was indicated here last week when a New York inventor received a patent for a bed air-conditioner.

His invention is a pipe arrangement that is fitted to a bed. Condition air—cool and fresh—flows out from the sleeper from holes in the pipe.

SATURDAY BROADCAST
Miss Jane Johnson will broadcast the following program of songs Saturday 4:15 over station WELI, Finnish Folk Songs, "The River in Finnish"; Ah! Robert, Idyl of My Heart, Meyerbeer; Vale Kennedy; "Come! Turn the Key, Sohma Burns will accompany Miss Johnson.

The Women's Auxiliary met for a business meeting and covered luncheon Monday noon at the firehouse.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

We'll drive moderately, and if we have an accident, it will be a nicer one

How to Have More Trivial Accidents

If we are going to have automobile accidents, let's have little ones. It is not such a serious matter when we don't a faster. What we don't want to do is kill.

How shall we select for ourselves the smaller or more insignificant of the two? I have a book in my bag, compiled by The Travelers Insurance Company, of last year's crashes and crashes, tells us which kind of accidents are the deadliest. Let's get a line on 'em and avoid 'em!

About the worst way to crash your car is in an automobile accident in a little alley. With an intersection at the wheel, your chance of death is greater than in a sober main street wheel. I mean if you take 1,000 drunk collisions and 1,000 sober accidents there'll be more deaths in the drunk accidents.

Even an intoxicated pedestrian has a better chance of being killed than a driver in a "drunk" accident.

There has been a lot of loose talk about the safety of driving fast. A lot of people think that it is all right to drive fast if they drive "careful". The figures show that the rate of death per accident which involves exceeding the speed limit is much worse than the average death rate for any other cause.

Times play a part, also. The death rate at night is much higher than during the day. It is much worse than during daylight, and they're more apt to be little if you know about and avoid these "killer" spots and practices.

NEW SCOUT TROOP
Miss Virginia Brackett, leader, announces the following names of the newly formed group of Short Beach Girl Scouts: Angie Patrol, Claire Poulton, leader, Barbara Miller, assistant leader, Audrey Heiser, Shirley Mason, Virginia Carey, Shirley Heardon, Lenrice Tucker, Gull patrol; Jean Maurer, leader, Josephine Nugent, assistant leader, Virginia Poulton, Jean Allen, Nina Miller, Dorothy Babcock, Lone Pine Patrol; Dorothy Purcell, leader; Shirley Fern assistant leader; Lacy, Pacello, Helen Jurczyk, Anna Bogacka, Dolly Allmanberger, Charlotte Young, Rita Peck, Shirley Englight and Barbara Lassen.

Man About Town

I notice that the trolley company is repairing the cement around the rails from the Library down through Main Street. They have also set up several new poles.

The old Red Men's Hall looks pretty spiffy with its new coat of shingles. That's a lot better.

Not much room for the column this week—Too many odds. Awful nuisance but somehow we can't get the owner to leave them out.

A certain male observer who stood and watched the line-up in front of the Branford Theatre on bank night claims that within the space of ten minutes he saw four women slip into the line ahead of their turn, and no man.

We often hear women demanding equal rights with men. If we gave some of them just that we would have to set them back a considerable distance from where they are at present.

Now, now, ladies, I said "some of them" didn't I?

Postmaster Joseph H. Driscoll got himself into an embarrassing situation down at Harbor Street school when they had the fire there last week.

Just for a joke he told some of the boys that there would be no more school until the building was fixed up again. That was good enough for the kids, and immediately a general exodus got under way.

The principal stopped the movement just in time but he had to send out couriers to recall some of the sprint starters.

Learning the cause of the furor, the principal suggested that perhaps Mr. Driscoll could find something that needed attention at the post office.

Our worthy P. M. thought that wasn't a bad idea.

There is something fascinating about the way some nations get what they want.

For instance, I have always coveted the Zachar homestead at Main and Rogers Streets. How fine it could get over there with a shot run drive out the present owners and take possession, all on the plan of self-defense.

Saw a flock of wild geese Sunday but they were flying east, not south because we got rain early this week instead of snow.

Not yours truly, I can't remember that I ever had to shovel any rain off my walk.

As far as I know the Conn. Light and Power Company and Hamilton Shops were the first to get up their Christmas lights. I noticed them first Monday night.

Had you noticed that the M. T. P. Co. sit a. m. while it is now blowing only on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

Didn't know that I ever heard it, but now that it is silent I wake up regularly at six with a vague feeling that something is wrong.

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Winchester, Supervisor of Motor Equipment, Colonial Gas Marketers

Back in the earlier days of the automobile, car owners took a peculiar pride in their cars. They repaired and serviced their cars. They ground the valves, adjusted the carburetor, replaced the broken and old a multi-tude of repair

Today, few car owners think of the intricacy of the machine. The mechanic, however, still thinks of it as properly serviced. In fact, modern cars need more attention than the motorist who takes good care of his car.

If he uses a good service station, he keeps the car properly lubricated, changes his oil regularly and has his air cleaner or checked, his battery checked, keeps his tires inflated, has his radiator cleaned and flushed several times a year, and drives slowly there is not much likelihood of his car breaking down or requiring a great deal of repair.

Choose a modern, properly equipped service station or garage upon which you can rely. Let this organization take care of your needs. Let it check your car's oil, air cleaner, oil filter, headlights, windshield wiper and other parts.

When it is all over, you will like to tinker around the car, you can keep it clean and polished up. Wash the bolts and screws, shine the chromium, repaint the top.

Worn, rusty or scraped spots on the fenders, clean the headlight glass and polish the hub caps. You'll keep elegantly busy this way.

There might be grounds for civil suit in that.

Mysterious packages are beginning to be smuggled into our house. It seems hardly possible that the hide and snop season is here again.

Our worthy P. M. thought that wasn't a bad idea.

At the latest hearing to be held on the subject many outstanding citizens of the community urged upon the Federal representative that the river had been a scene of busy activity in times past and that it would become so again if it were properly improved. The official, however, held that such claims were purely speculative, and turned in an unfavorable report to the district office in Boston. Making All The Schools Safer

Here is good news. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the country has been making real progress in protecting school children against the most horrible of hazards, fire.

This marks the fourth year of a campaign to make such terrible catastrophes as the Collinsville school fire impossible. School officials and fire chiefs have shown enthusiasm in cooperating with the National Board, which has prepared a Self Inspection Blank for Schools.

on may be described as a routine matter. The Federal authorities are adverse to spending a great deal of money on the river because they hold that no proof has been offered that the improved stream would be used commercially to an extent that would warrant the expenditures. At the latest hearing to be held on the subject many outstanding citizens of the community urged upon the Federal representative that the river had been a scene of busy activity in times past and that it would become so again if it were properly improved. The official, however, held that such claims were purely speculative, and turned in an unfavorable report to the district office in Boston. The latter took the same thumbs down attitude in its report to Washington, and the desired development failed to materialize.

Another request for a breakthrough at the mouth of the river to provide a safe anchorage for pleasure craft met with a similar fate.

in the past three years, 400,000 copies of the blank have been used. Various state departments of education have endorsed and recommended it. In the words of W. E. Mallick, General Manager of the National Board, "We will never know how many school fires and deaths have been prevented by this work, but we are satisfied that the plan for periodic inspections of school buildings is practical and effective. Even in new schools of modern design and fire-resistive construction, constant supervision of the maintenance factors is necessary if the lives of the school children are to be properly safeguarded. The Self Inspection Blank for Schools covers the maintenance as well as the structural conditions in schools."

School boards which take advantage of this service to check the schools under their jurisdiction, and correct hazards, are to be commended. And school boards which do not, to put it mildly, are derelict in their duty. Thousands of American schools are fire traps—other thousands contain grave dangers which can be eliminated. Street Transit Company Urges Winter Caution

Calls Attention To Accident Hazard Under Winter Conditions With Trolleys And Buses

With bad weather due during the coming months, when pavements will be wet or covered with ice or snow most of the time, the Street Transit Company today urged auto drivers to exert extra precaution against accidents with its trolleys, which cannot be turned from their paths to avoid collision, as can an auto. The buses, on the other hand, can be turned but not with the agility of a private motor car. In keeping with the general drive on the part of the state traffic authorities to reduce accidents, the company pledged the utmost on its own part with respect to safe operation of private vehicles causing them to be in the street cars usually results in the smaller car coming off second best. It urged especially that drivers refrain from attempts to pass buses on the right, from following such vehicles too closely and from passing on the left on narrow streets. It urged that drivers moving into the opposite direction. Accidents do not happen, they are caused, and everyone has to remain constantly on the alert, company officials said.

Common Colds Most Prevalent In Late Autumn

With the annual high point in the number of common colds occurring regularly in the late fall season, Dr. Robert A. Fraser, Chief Medical Director of the New York Life Insurance Company, offers ten rules that will help men, women and children avoid this widespread malady. They are:

1. Get plenty of sleep, fresh air and sunshine.
2. Eat well nourishing food you need, but avoid overeating.
3. Dress sensibly and with regard to the climate.
4. If you get wet, change to dry clothing as soon as possible.
5. Breathe through your nose, not your mouth.
6. "Cleanliness is next to godliness." Bathe daily.
7. Avoid constipation.
8. Get outdoor exercise every day. Long walks are excellent.
9. Keep away from people who have colds.
10. "It's goes without saying," Dr. Fraser adds, "that those with colds must use handkerchiefs when sneezing, coughing or expectorating to avoid infecting others."

"Overeating lowers resistance, making the individual more susceptible to colds. If you have difficulty in breathing properly, see your doctor promptly; your tonsils, adenoids, sinuses or teeth may need attention. Don't go from a hot room out into the cold without suitable protection and never cool off by sitting in a draft or directly in front of an electric fan."

Mountain Laurel May Be Used For Christmas Greens

By Austin F. Hawes (State Forester)

Mountain laurel may legitimately be used for Christmas greens, provided it has been taken with the owner's knowledge and consent. In keeping with the general drive on the part of the state traffic authorities to reduce accidents, the company pledged the utmost on its own part with respect to safe operation of private vehicles causing them to be in the street cars usually results in the smaller car coming off second best. It urged especially that drivers refrain from attempts to pass buses on the right, from following such vehicles too closely and from passing on the left on narrow streets. It urged that drivers moving into the opposite direction. Accidents do not happen, they are caused, and everyone has to remain constantly on the alert, company officials said.

The use of large numbers of Christmas trees often causes criticism, and as a matter of fact, seasonal use is an unimportant drain upon our forests when compared to the year-round cutting of trees for lumber, pulp and other purposes. Many farmers secure a considerable income from the sale of Christmas trees, and their growth is so rapid they constitute a legitimate farm crop. In fact, some Connecticut landowners have already planted considerable areas with spruce for this purpose.

NOTHING BULKY BUT PLENTY OF ROOM IN THIS CONCRETE HOUSE

"Quiet, but oh so practical!" That's the expression of one who has seen and the idea behind the design of several others who have examined this attractive six-room house. Here's an arrangement of rooms (with a large fireplace) dining room (with a large fireplace) between the living room (and garage), kitchen, two bedrooms, bath, and two-car garage. There is nothing bulky, no waste space, and plenty of room in this house. One of the bedrooms may be transformed into a study or a play room, and if there is need for only one car, part of the garage may be used for storage space.

Design of the garage, made possible by the driveway approach from the rear, gives it the appearance of an open room on the house. Construction in concrete, masonry, stucco, and the garage is a sturdy, fireproof and termite-proof structure. This house is built on a concrete foundation. The use of large numbers of Christmas trees often causes criticism, and as a matter of fact, seasonal use is an unimportant drain upon our forests when compared to the year-round cutting of trees for lumber, pulp and other purposes.

The guiding principle underlying the use of all kinds of Christmas trees should be to make suitable provision for another crop. City people cannot expect landowners to sacrifice a legitimate income from their land, but they may with reason demand that our forests be kept in a productive condition for the enjoyment of future generations.

Marines In Cuba Guard Naval Base

Washington, D. C. — Despite the political storms which have occasionally swept over Cuba, U. S. Marines peacefully occupy a section of the country, maintaining a strict neutrality and avoiding any interference in Cuban affairs.

This peaceful occupation has been of long duration—some thirty-four years, in fact—ever since our government leased a naval base on the shores of Guantanamo Bay at the eastern end of the south coast of the island in 1903. Following the Spanish-American War, the United States, through an agreement with the Cuban government, secured an area of some 47 square miles at Guantanamo for use as a naval base. Its land-locked harbor of two basins, about 4 miles long and 10 miles wide, and the narrow entrance to the harbor give protection from storms and safety from surprise attacks at sea. It provides an ideal base for our fleet. In thirty-odd years the location has been developed into one of the finest naval bases in the world and has been visited by virtually every war of our Navy. It is a convenient port during maneuvers, an excellent location for the refueling of war vessels, and has a splendid range for target practice ashore. The Marines are proud of the fact that they were the first troops to land in Cuba during the Spanish-American War. A battalion came ashore at Guantanamo Bay and held that base despite the efforts of 6,000 Spaniards to dislodge them. They had several lively skirmishes with the enemy, and today more than one monument stands there in memory of the sea soldier dead. American friendship for the Cuban people has been continuous ever since our nation joined hands with them in fighting a common fight. Of course events have not always run smoothly on the island, and on at least three occasions since the Spanish-American War armed intervention became necessary and Marines were landed there, remaining until peace was restored.

When another political upheaval occurred in 1933, the American Government decided to maintain a "hands-off" policy and let the Cubans work out their own salvation. Our naval vessels with Marines aboard were in close proximity to observe conditions, but made no armed landing, merely remaining in Cuban waters to evacuate Americans if necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kelly, of Stannard Avenue have moved to Essex.

Harold G. Baldwin, of Bradley Avenue has recovered from an illness.

In the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Department of Commerce, Certain education, and experience in fishery work are required. Full information may be obtained from the Local Post Office.

Jeffs Meet Branford Big Five at East Haven Sunday Night

The Branford High Alumni tilt which for the past ten years has been a restricted affair will not, so this season, Coach Knecht of the Branford High Hornets announced when interviewed on the annual contest this week. "I believe that greater interest in the game can be aroused if all the athletes who have played basketball for the High School can be rounded up and the best ten or twelve be selected from that group to meet the present High School quintet," he went on to state.

Local High Quintet In Meriden Saturday

The Jeffersonian team completely crushed a speedy Bridgeport Springwood five at the former's playing court last Sunday night when they rolled up a 41 to 24 win in forty minutes of furious play that completely belied the score.

Yale Bowl Makes Work Miserable

A rainy football day at the huge Yale Bowl makes life very miserable for the working squad which cleans the saucer next day. There are 18 miles of benches to cover, and the recent Princeton game, nine truckloads of debris were hauled away.

Great Interest Is Being Shown In Town-Gown Tilt

When this arrangement was made known the old players were quick to back it up and immediately speculation ran rife on who would make up the Alumni team. Some were of the opinion that the old Alumni should organize for the game to show "these high school upstarts" how the game should be played while others held out that a collegian five made up of the men who are going or have gone to college, and have played basketball, should take the kids down a peg but through it all the "kids" sat back and laughed at the grand spectacle.

Meriden Group Are Mostly High School Graduates And Include Many Former Stars Who Will Give Local Team Strong Battle—Opening Contest Will Mean Nothing In League Standing

Johnny Knecht will give his Branford High school boys a real workout Saturday night against the Meriden Boys' Club in the state armory of the Silver City. The strong Meriden high school graduates and include several former stars who should give the local school boys a strong battle.

East Haven High Cagers Play Strong New York Team Tomorrow Night

The third basketball game of Coach Johnny Maher's East Haven high school quintet will be played at the large East Haven high gymnasium tomorrow night opposing the strong Fishers Island team of New York in the only Johnny DePhillippo and Bert Reed. Inter-sectional battle scheduled along the East Shore front this season, Coach Maher expects to have one of the strongest clubs in this vicinity and serves warning to all Housatonic Valley league teams this season to beware of the East Haven Blue and Gold combine.

Green Wave Eleven And Shelton Ends Fight To Scoreless Tie

The Shelton Ends, last year's city-wide champs of New Haven, held the Branford Laurels to a scoreless tie at Hammer Field last Sunday afternoon. The visitors put up a much stronger opposition than they showed earlier in the season when they lost to the Laurels by a 6 to 0 score. The soggy condition of the field slowed up the play of both teams.

Green Wave Eleven And Shelton Ends Fight To Scoreless Tie

Green Wave Recovery Of A Fumble On The Shelton Ends 24-Yard Line Gave The Laurels Chance To Score But Only Reached One Foot. Short Of Scoring Touchdown As Ends Stubborn Line Holds Locals

The Shelton Ends, last year's city-wide champs of New Haven, held the Branford Laurels to a scoreless tie at Hammer Field last Sunday afternoon. The visitors put up a much stronger opposition than they showed earlier in the season when they lost to the Laurels by a 6 to 0 score. The soggy condition of the field slowed up the play of both teams.

The recovery of a Laurels' fumble on the ten yard line early in the game gave the Ends their only real chance to score but they were unable to do so.

The opening of the third quarter saw the Laurels coming back to dominate the play. Shortly after the opening of the half the recovery of a fumble on the Shelton Ends 24-yard marker gave the Clancy a chance to drive for a score. In two plays "Heb" Williams took the ball to within a foot of the ten yard line for a first down. "Heb" carried the ball twice on the next four downs, and on his last play squirmed and tugged his way although to the required distance but when the entire New Haven team was lifted off his body it was found that the ball was still a few inches short of the Promised Land.

The Green Wave held the advantage throughout the half but did not come again within striking distance of the goal line.

A fair crowd attended the game, including a large number of Shelton Ends fans from Elm City.

Figures Reveal Tuberculosis Is Worst In Young

Hits Hardest In Same Age Groups As 50 Years Ago—Welling Urges Testing Children

Although in the past half century, tuberculosis has been dropped from first to eighth place in the list of leading causes of death in Connecticut, it still wreaks its worst havoc among members of the younger age groups and for this reason tuberculin testing of all children to discover latent tuberculosis is of great importance. It was stated by William C. Welling, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health, in the department's weekly broadcast today.

In addition to urging a program of tuberculin testing, Mr. Welling also requested citizens of Connecticut not to overlook their opportunity to assist in entirely wiping out tuberculosis by buying the traditional Christmas seals.

However, tuberculosis aims chiefly at the age group 20 to 29 years. This was true in 1885 and in 1936. It is just at the turning point from youth to young manhood and womanhood. The ages 20 to 29 find young women particularly susceptible to the disease, and more than 140 females die of tuberculosis for each 100 males. Another critical age group is the years ten to 19, in which the astonishing fact exists that 200 females die for each 100 males. In all other age groupings, the sex ratio is toward the male, and the final mortality shows about 130 males dying for each 100 females.

Since tuberculosis may be latent for years, and suddenly spring up to work its destruction swiftly just at the most productive age, it is of particular importance, Mr. Welling declared, to bring this condition to light by giving all children the tuberculin test which is painless and carries no danger. He urged parents to protect their children in this way, since, if a tuberculous condition is discovered early, tuberculosis may then not be able to rob parents of their children or to rob the children of their health now or in later years.

Taxes Cited As Business Barrier

Washington (Ips)—Until federal tax laws are revised depression will be an ever present threat, Morris S. Tremaine, for 10 years controller of New York State (warned government tax experts on a recent official visit here.

He specifically blamed the present general slowing up of business and the recent stock market slump on federal taxes, especially those on undistributed corporation income and on capital gains and losses.

"No new business of any account has started in the last five years," he declared. "There is no new enterprise. These taxes prevent the little fellow from developing a reserve sufficient to expand his business."

"Just think," Mr. Tremaine added, "Ford started with a capitalization of about $28,000 and built up his business from earnings. Practically all the large corporations today

Industrial Jobs Diminishing CCC

Washington (Ips)—Civilian Conservation Corps officials report that private employment in industry has so improved in recent months that resignations from the CCC are greater now than at any time in the four-year history of the corps.

A sharp drop in the CCC's waiting list is also reported by officials. During the first eight months of this year, a total of 98,167 men out of 315,899 enrolled in CCC camps, made application for honorable discharge to accept private employment. Government officials pointed to ment, records of the corps show.

Government officials pointed to another indication of better industrial employment in the fact that only 32 men whose enrollment expired last August made application for re-enrollment. The applications for re-enrollment during the previous month had totaled 2,240.

The CCC will still be kept at its 300,000 enrollment quota, however, government officials said. A total of 133,243 are now being enrolled to bring the corps up to its quota strength.

LOCAL BUSINESS PROSPERS

A noteworthy feature in the business life of Branford is the growth of the cleaning and dyeing business conducted by Frank Kaminsky and Charles Morawsky on South Main Street. From modest beginnings the business has grown until it keeps the partners and three full time employees busy for long hours every day.

Modern methods and efficient service are the main reasons for the success of the local concern.
