Junior Red Cross Stresses International Friendship In Connection With Work

Local Group Of Girls Will Take Books Saturday To Hartford School For The Blind—Mrs. Florence Royal Heads Junior Roll Call.

Activities among Junior Red Cross members were described Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Porter, Junior Red Cross chairman of the New Haven Chapter. She spoke especially of the international friendship created among the juniors in connection with this work.

Mrs. Porter was accompanied by a teacher from West Haven who explained how the work could be done in connection with regular school work. She displayed a portfolio of art work sent here by fifth grade pupils of an Argentine school for an international friendship exchange.

Foreign material is translated in Washington, D. C. before it reaches the local units.

In Branford the work of the Junior Red Cross is limited to the High School but it expects to engage the grammar grades in the activities before long.

"Service to Somebody Else" is a Junior Red Cross motto.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Paul Clifford in the high school the Junior Red Cross and the Library club have been making covers for Braille books, with art cut-outs to illustrate.

Saturday Mrs. Clifford and a number of girls will take the books to the Hartford School for the Blind.

A project undertaken by the group here is to provide glasses for the blind.

Mrs. Frank Daley will lead the group in singing Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. Jerry Collins. The public is invited.

EARLY MAILING
Postmaster Joseph H. Driscoll has received word that the necessity for early mailing should be constantly and vividly stressed during the pre-Christmas period. Every useful medium of publicity available should be utilized by the post office.

Large business concerns and organizations and newspapers will undoubtedly be glad to weave in the idea of early mailing in their "shop early" advertising if the matter is properly presented to them.

Large advertisers should be requested to withhold heavy mailings of catalogs, calendars, etc., during the period from Dec. 10 to January 1. Calendars should be mailed sufficiently in advance of Dec. 10, to permit delivery before that date. This does not apply to current advertising that pertains to holiday sales.

Donald Holabird of Killam's Point is being treated for a cut he received when working with an axe.

Officers will be installed in January by Hazel Fullum, past grand chief of Guilford.

Prizes were awarded to Edmund Palmer, Isabella Foote and Annie Montgomery. The next meeting will be held Dec. 15. Members are asked to bring gifts for shut-in members and also an article for the grab bag.

JUVENILE LITERATURE

Creating and promoting good reading for boys has been one of the persistent objectives of the Boy Scouts of America for nearly three decades and has resulted in an impressive list of practical accomplishments in the improvement of juvenile literature.

The weighty influence of the Scout Movement is always on the side of all vigorous, virile and wholesome books of all periods and the Scouts' list of fifty outstanding books for boys, published annually in the Christmas season, is consulted eagerly by parents seeking gift suggestions as it is by Scouts and their friends.

The Scout Handbooks and other special publications for boys are in themselves examples of the sort of reading matter the Boy Scout Movement is anxious to endorse for they provide thrills and adventure in generous doses along with hobbies, sports and outdoor life that boys can equally translate into action.

No good cause succeeds without energetic prosecution and that is why the Boy Scout leaders of the country have named the seven days from December 9 to 16 as Boy's Like Week and set about asking all parents to further the "good reading habit" in growing boys.

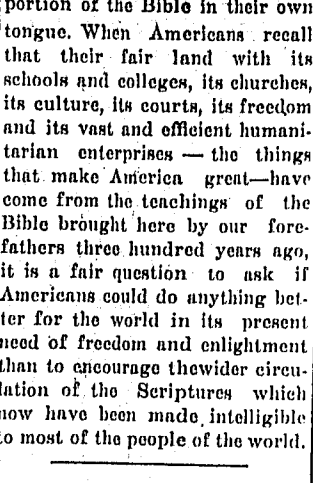

THE BIBLE EARNS A NEW TITLE

Governor Cross endorses Universal Bible Sunday to be observed in the churches of the country on December 11. The theme for this year's celebration is "The Bible—Now—In a Thousand Tongues."

Whatever one's religion, this is a fact that should command the respect of all serious-minded people. The Bible is more than just another book. It is a world institution. Other books have had influential sales for a few years.

70,000 CHILDREN

Seventy thousand children are alive today because back in 1922 a few citizens with courage and vision determined that the dangers of the machine age must be met by education.

This good news comes from the Center for Safety Education of New York University. With it comes another bit of information that should provoke real thought. In a publication entitled, "A New Milestone in Safety Education," the Center says:

What has been accomplished in the school classroom through safety education can and will be repeated in the home, on the streets and highways, in shops and factories, while the good work goes on with increased momentum and scope in our elementary and high schools. Such is the goal of the Center for Safety Education, which was established last July under a grant by one of the pioneers in the organized safety movement, the National Conservation Bureau of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives.

THE CONSUMER SPEAKS

By HOWARD PATE

An Open Letter To Republican Governor-Elect Julius P. Hell of Wisconsin Would you want me to think that you supplied last week's outstanding example of ignorance? I don't think so. It has to do with what we mean by a complete lack of understanding of the simple method of saving and borrowing through credit unions. While it is not hard to find a person here and there who is unfamiliar with the fine service rendered by credit unions it ought to be the business of any governor to know what it is all about.

THE TAX PROBLEM

Anyone who studies the political horizons knows that the taxation question is assuming bigger and bigger proportions. It cannot be hidden much longer from the American taxpayer.

The taxpayer is the real forgotten man. He is the middle class employee whose income ranges from $2,000 to $5,000. He receives a large part of the national income and when the accounting time comes for our spending spree, it is he that must pay the bill.

When Cleary replied that credit unions charge one per cent per month, you're reported as saying, "You're not right. A one per cent per month is not usual? Don't credit unions charge one per cent per month?"

KILLING THE GOOSE

The easiest thing in the world to do is to criticize. That is the reason that radicals can be so voracious when they start trying to show the defects in the American system. It is the reason politicians have a field day when they start bawling business.

But America and the American industrial system have brought us a long way, with all of its faults. We have come far through a constant process of evolution and progress. The sixty and seventy wages have gone to that much an hour for forty of our workers. Millions of us ride in automobiles. Almost every family has its radio set. We have every day comforts in even our poorest homes that would be luxuries for the rich in other lands.

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

By JAMES PRESTON

There is a mounting recognition here in Washington that the next session of Congress will not be content, as the Brain Trust would like, to again start out on a flurry of passing new laws. Congress will, under its own leadership, spend much time reviewing those laws that have been passed in recent years as emergency legislation and that may have been standing in the path of recovery.

The Wagner Act is definitely slated to come in for this kind of scrutiny in an effort to end the industrial warfare which it precipitated and to make it fair to all workers and employers, rather than an asset only to one minority group.

THE MOVIE GUYED

HOT TIP FOR THE WEEK:
The usually sombre, gray walls of a state prison are transformed into a uproarious comedy in the new Fox Film hit "Up The River," which is now showing at the Loew Poll College Theatre for one week only.

Announced as a combination of music, broad comedy situations and do-or-die football (all for dear old "Pen") the film features Preston Foster, Tony Martin, Phyllis Brooks, Slim Summerville, Arthur Treacher and Bill Robinson as inmates of a screwball penitentiary where they have a radio in every cell and gates that are practically revolving doors.

The cycle of grim prison melodramas—with their solemn and worthy messages of social reform—has just about run itself out in the opinion of Alfred Worker, who directed "Up The River."

According to Worker, the story focuses on a group of inmates—some of them taking post-graduate work at Rockwell Pen, which boasts the best football team in "Big Pen Conference," and a warden who'll do anything to see his boys win.

Lovely Phyllis Brooks is seen as the sweetheart of Tony Martin. Both of them are serving time, innocent victims of a confidence racket. During a performance of Rockwell's annual show, Tony's teammates, Foster and Treacher stage a break so that they can clear the name of Phyllis' name on the outside. This accomplished, they return to their Alma Mater just in time to enter the final quarter of the season's big game.

An interesting highlight of the production "Up the River" is the fact that Tony Martin, Preston Foster and Arthur Treacher, who play on the team, all have had actual football experience, although Treacher's knowledge of the game was limited to rugby, and in the film he plays center—the only position entirely unrelated to the English game.

This promises to be on of the years grandest laugh riots you have ever seen.

If little daughter is high-spirited and vivacious, unwilling to conform to the best rules of etiquette, her chances of becoming a film star are 95 per cent greater than that of the quiet, retiring youngster who is always above reproach. So declares D. Ross Lederman, director of Columbia's "The Little Adventuress" which is the 2nd Big Feature on the Loew Poll College Theatre program, with Edith Fellows who Lederman cites as an outstanding example of the "problem child" type.

"In almost every case where a child has reached stardom on the screen," Lederman said, the youngsters were blessed with high spirits that some people misinterpreted as mischievousness."

See you in the Movies
Your Movie Guyed.

Union Achievements

In his report of Local 125, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Manager Aldo Cursi says "The Shirt and Clothing Workers of Connecticut began at the end of the year 1932. In the early Spring of 1933 we felt we already had sufficient strength to demand of the employers, union recognition and a badly needed wage increase for our members. In some cases we accomplished this through negotiations; in others we did gain our purpose through the only weapon which the workers have to meet stubborn employers, a strike. Today our Union can boast of having organized almost completely the shirt industry, as well as the clothing industry, in this State.

"Few people will realize the great achievements of the Shirt and Clothing Workers' Union unless we go back to the conditions which prevailed here before the organization began to function. A study of the shirt industry made by the State Department of Labor, published in January, 1935, gives a fairly good idea of what has actually happened. The report reads in part:

Mrs. Florence Royal and the Junior Red Cross have been conducting the annual roll call.

Arrangements have been made to have members of the Junior Red Cross, who have volunteered, to assist in the work of the Red Cross roll call by calling upon those who have not yet responded. During the remainder of the week members will make a house to house canvass. It is hoped that people will welcome this opportunity to swell the fund which is far below that of last year. To date $350 has been received.

Permanent Basis Will Be Adopted After Pres. Ball

The Trustees of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have adopted a plan to put the work of this Foundation on a permanent basis.

Briefly the plan is as follows: After January 30th, or upon conclusion of this year's campaign for funds, the National Foundation will establish permanent Chapters, embracing every county—each Chapter to be made up of representatives from all of the communities that have played a part in the fight.

The successful County chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday will be invited by the Foundation to assist in the establishment of these new Chapters.

The Trustees of the National Foundation, in voting for the establishment of a permanent Chapter plan, recognized the need for placing funds in the hands of these Chapters with which to combat the local problem, with immediate aid to those suffering from this terrible affliction.
