WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

By JAMES PRESTON

Passages from the book of Genesis in the Old Testament may have a 1938 counterpart in Washington.

The Biblical story concerns an "ever normal granary" system put into operation by Joseph to feed Pharaoh's people during seven years of drought. The modern version is basically the same but administration economists, unblushingly, have "improved" and expanded the idea.

Joseph, so the story goes, dreamed of seven fat cows and seven lean cows. In the dream, the lean cows ate the fat cows. To Joseph this foretold seven years of plenty followed by seven years of drought. Accordingly, he stored grain surpluses during the seven bumper crop years and thus had food for the people of Egypt in the seven lean years.

Whether a dream plays any part in the 1938 version isn't known, but the idea is the same. However, things that Joseph never dreamed of are included in the proposed storage scheme—steel, radios and automobiles included.

Author of the modern counterpart is an Agriculture Department economist. His plan is advocated in a book he recently completed and which has just been published. If put into operation, his proposal would set in advance the amount of goods—on farm or in factory—that would be produced each year. Each producer would be assigned a "quota," as his share of business, and surpluses would be stored for future demands.

The author says his plan is not to be considered as representing the official views of the administration. However, the book was published with the knowledge and consent of the Agriculture Department.

The subject of surpluses, incidentally, is still a troublesome one in the Capital City. Even without the "planned surpluses" idea just mentioned in operation, the government is having a difficult time with surpluses already in existence.

Now, therefore, a new twist to the much talked "two price plan" is being considered in official circles. The idea is to keep the price level up for the American consumer, but throw surpluses into the foreign market on a pay-us-what you want to basis.

The state of uneasiness that has prevailed in the radio broadcasting industry over apparent plans for greater government control of radio, is spreading to other quarters—in and out of Washington.

Latest "scare" is the legislative proposal to reorganize the Federal Communications Commission and make one man virtual director of the radio waves. The proposal probably wouldn't have caused too much excitement had it not been preceded by a widely published magazine article making several startling statements about the motive behind reorganization of the FCC. In a nutshell, the story declared bluntly that the aim was eventual government operation or supervision of all radio stations and programs.

New quarters now showing concern include publishers and political groups. Some publishers are letting it be known they fear this is only the first step toward control of free speech and the press. Political groups are fearful of what might happen in election years if the political party in power had complete control of what did and did not go on the air.

Some observers believe the affair may soon break into the open as a major controversy, in which the publishers may ally themselves with the broadcasters to fight down the control menace.

After many months of research, WPA has completed a study of agricultural unemployment and technological development of farm implements. The findings shed interesting light on the question of "do machines kill jobs or create more jobs?"

Here is what the study disclosed: Although about 1 million man-hours of labor per year have been displaced on the farm by adoption of the tractor, truck and automobile, more than a billion man-hours of work have been created in the manufacture, maintenance and service of these machine age creations.

Health Center Offers Course Of Instruction

Nine lessons constitute a course of instruction starting today at the Health Center for all women interested in the Mothers' Club started by the Branford Visiting Nurses and being held every Thursday at 2:30.

Attendance cards will be punched and, at the completion of the course a diploma will be awarded to each member, each diploma bearing a gold seal and ribbon. The baby will be given a certificate with a pink and blue ribbon caught under a gold seal.

Today's class will be on anatomy and will be under the leadership of Nurse Kamazel who has done an attractive art exhibit on the subject.

Other subjects to be covered will be Hygiene in Pregnancy; Diet in Relation to Pregnancy; Clothing for the Mother; Preparation for Delivery; The Layette, Bathing the Baby; Aftercare of the Mother; Aftercare of the Infant.

Any women interested are invited to attend. For those who cannot attend all nine classes, one or more afternoon's work will be worthwhile.

Trinity Church Announces Its Lenten Services

The following schedule has been arranged for Friday evenings during Lent. Services will be held in Trinity Episcopal Church at 8 o'clock.

March 24, Rev. Frederick Kates, curate of Trinity Church, New Haven.

March 31, Rev. Arthur F. Lewis, rector of St. Michael's Church, Naugatuck.

Lenten study classes of the Woman's Auxiliary meet Wednesday afternoons at 3 o'clock at the Parish House to study India. On March 6th Mrs. H. G. Baldwin will lead.

Although this group is sponsored by Trinity Guild it is for all women.

Masonic Funeral For Edwin Blake

The death of Edwin Lorin Blake of Beckett Avenue, Short Beach, occurred yesterday morning at 6:45 following a long illness. He was 70 years of age and was born in Killingworth, a son of Charles Blake and Sarah Stevens. Since childhood he had been a summer resident of Short Beach and has permanently resided in that section of the town since 1916. He was last employed by the Rockbestos Corp. of New Haven and had been retired for the past six years. He attended the Short Beach Union Chapel and was a member of Washington Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Cromwell.

Surviving him are one son, Thomas E. Blake of Middletown; two daughters, Mrs. Herman A. Lehr and Mrs. Eric Swanson, both of

Ernest Averill Seriously Ill

Lieut. Col. Ernest L. Averill of Hartford and Pawson Park, suddenly was taken ill with a stomach ailment Tuesday night, today he remained in a serious condition, although he showed slight improvement.

Colonel Averill suffered a stomach hemorrhage at Republican headquarters in the Heublein Hotel about 7 p. m. and was taken to Hartford Hospital in an ambulance.

Colonel Averill, a former deputy attorney general, is a member of the law firm of Hunt, Averill & Johnson. He is chief of staff of first company, Governor's Foot Guard, and president of the Officers' Association and has been active in Branford affairs for many years. His son, William Averill, is clerk of the House.

Magazine Writer From Old Lyme Guest Of Rotary

It will be the privilege of the Branford Rotary Club to hear James Street of Old Lyme talk at the regular monthly meeting of the club Monday noon.

Mr. Street was born in Lumberton, Miss., and returns the sort drawing speech of the country.

Author, newspaperman and dramatist, his stories are widely read. His first fiction story "Nothing Sacred" appeared in the Cosmopolitan and was later released as a motion picture starring Carole Lombard.

Appearing in the January Cosmopolitan is a tale entitled "The Star is Out," a thrilling newspaper story. Collins published "The Arkansas Traveler" which also was made into a picture.

"The Harvest of Hate" is a novel to his credit.

G. G. Hart in the February issue of the Connecticut Circle says of

Neck Auxiliary Sponsors Party St. Patricks Day

Brings Lecturer To Meeting In Library Hall

Public Invited To "Come With Us To The Southern Highlands"

Miss Eleanore G. MacKenzie of Southington will give an illustrated lecture on the subject "Come With Us to the Southern Highlands" at the meeting of the Branford Garden Club March 3 at 2:45 in Blackstone Memorial Library. Miss MacKenzie has delivered her lecture in many of the larger cities in New England and New York. Her pictures include views of Great Smoky National Park, and trails, roads and forests of the Southern Appalachian region trails, attractive to expert climbers and the greenest of tender feet where there is a greater variety of blooms than anywhere in the temperate zone. By June 1st 1938 (Continued on page seven)

Branford Young G.O.P.s Invited To Bridgeport

Branford Young Republicans will join the Connecticut Young Republicans at its annual convention at the Hotel Stratfield in Bridgeport on Friday and Saturday, April 14 and 15.

Committees will convene on Friday night, while the convention itself will get underway Saturday morning.

More than 500 of the state's Young Republicans, representing the eight counties, will be present. Prominent Republican personalities, to be announced later, will speak.

It is planned to have a radio broadcast of the proceedings carried to the entire state.

Ernest R. Wilson, of Norwalk, Fairfield County Young GOP president, is chairman of the committee on arrangements. He reports that a banquet and dance will climax the convention's activities on Saturday night.

James B. Lowell, now executive secretary to Governor Raymond E. Baldwin, is retiring president of the state group, and his successor will be elected during the business session of the convention.

Masonic Lodges Back Stage Show

John McDermott Addresses Club On Electricity

A. M. Young Co. First Supplied Branford With Electricity In 1898—F. H. Golding, First Superintendent.

At the weekly luncheon of the Branford Rotary club held Monday noon in the parlors of the Congregational Church John M. McDermott of the Connecticut Light & Power Co. gave a comprehensive talk on the subject "Power, Its Transmission and Uses". He stated electricity was first supplied in Branford by the A. M. Young Co. in 1898 with F. H. Golding superintendent. The first lighting was available only during the evening up to 1 a. m. Twenty-four hour service was first available in 1907 and even then street lights were turned off on moonlight nights.

Rev. Charles R. Cooley presided and the club passed a resolution of regret that he had to relinquish the office of president and a vote of thanks for the manner in which he

Branford Looks Over Broadway

Mrs. George Adams, of Indian Neck, president of the Half Hour Reading Club, entertained the officers of the club at a luncheon in her home recently at 1:30 p. m. Those present were Mrs. Donald Sawtelle, Miss Harriet Cox, Miss Lauretta H. Babcock, Mrs. Archer Knowlton, Mrs. Charles Neely, Mrs. Harold G. Baldwin, Mrs. E. A. Barker and Mrs. J. Wesson Phelps. Following the luncheon business of the club was discussed.

The March meeting of the Half Hour Reading Club will be held on March 9 in the home of Mrs. Harriet Hooley of Montwese Street. Miss Harriet Cox will be the reader and the subject "Branford Looks at Broadway" in which Miss Cox will talk on the best plays in New York city.

4-H CLUB SEED PLAN

Mrs. William Pacheco will be hostess to the Branford 4-H Club tomorrow evening, promptly at 7:00 o'clock. 4-H club members who completed a project in 1938 may order seeds on the cooperative seed purchasing plan. New members, leaders and parents, farm bureau members and associate members may order seeds. Orders must be received by March 5. Seeds will be delivered early in April.

Many people are exposed to tuberculosis without knowing about it. The percentage of high school pupils infected, as shown by tests in many other cities, is quite large. The best way of determining whether or not a pupil has been infected is by means of a tuberculin test.

Through the cooperative efforts of Dr. Arthur McQueen, health officer, and the Branford Visiting Nurses, it is possible to offer a tuberculin test to students in Branford. This test according to medical authorities, is harmless and may result in great benefit, not only to the pupil concerned, but to the family as well.

Those who react positively to the tuberculin test should have an X-ray of their chest.

The results of tuberculin tests will be sent to parents. Information concerning tuberculosis or the tuberculin test may be secured from your physician, or by telephone or consultation with the school nurse.

Slips for parents' signatures have been sent home by the teachers in the grammar grades. High school and junior high pupils will be asked to return parents' permission by Monday.

It is expected that the actual tests will begin about March 13th.

This is the first time in Branford that all the school children have been given this special protection.

The tuberculin test is a simple, harmless, practically painless skin test which shows whether or not there are tubercle bacilli in the body. The other test is the X-ray examination or picture, which shows what damage, if any, has been done.

Annie L. Riggs Passes After Long Illness

The death of Annie Louise Alling, widow of Solomon T. Riggs, occurred Tuesday in her home, Beckett Avenue and Bristol Street, Short Beach, following an illness of two and one-half years, which was hastened by the shock of the death of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Riggs Curtis, two weeks ago. She was 80 years of age and was born in West Haven, a daughter of Capt. Henry Alling and Louise Thompson. For the past 30 years she had been a resident of Short Beach. She was a member of the Summerfield Methodist Church and a member of the Eastern star.

Surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Stoler of Westville; a granddaughter, Mrs. Victor Hutchinson, of Short Beach; and a great grandson, Allen Curtis Hutchinson. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 with services in the parlors of Beecher and Bennett, 100 Broadway New Haven. The Rev. Mr. Williams of Olivet Baptist Church, New Haven will officiate, and burial will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Pine Orchard Wall Rebuilt

Stony Creek granite is used in reconstructing the 450 feet sloping rip-rap at the foot of Linden Street, Pine Orchard at property owned by A. M. Young.

Planks form a road along the bank for truck transportation of the heavy stone.

The derrick used to move and place the slabs was moved along the sand about 1000 feet and will return to the main highway by the same route when the job is finished.

Slanting rip-rap has not been used much along the coast but has proved effective for river use.

The former wall was one of the hurricane's serious tolls in that section.

DEMOCRACY, YES! BUT "DUCKS"?

When Percy Grainger, the Australian pianist, stepped off a train into the seven-below-zero climate of Wauwat, a Wisconsin shore center, wearing white duck trousers, no hat or overcoat, but carrying an umbrella and a knapsack, the irregularity of his general taste in apparel made so deep an impression on guardians of the law that they are reported to have escorted him to the police station for proper assurances that he was a sane person to be allowed at large.

What precisely stimulated the police to take such precautions is not stated. Presumably not the absence of the hat for the prevalence of bare-headed youth and bandanna-capped maids in city streets at all seasons of the year nowadays must have dulled the general sense of propriety in the promoter of headgear. The presence of the umbrella too, no matter what the meteorological prospects, is nowadays perfectly in order.

But the absence of the overcoat is rather more grave. Were such recklessness allowed to get out of hand, it might well spread to other extremes. New England might even wake up one fine fourteenth of May and find some lawless cynic sporting a Panama. As for the duck trousers in February, they are clearly as preposterous as they would have been on an English golf links at any time.

Nonetheless, it is Mr. Grainger's title, but the uncertain reputation of muscians and poets in the matter of cravats leaves one little reassured on that score.

But however deplorable the details of the incident may have been, it leaves one with a comforting sense that even in a democracy there is sufficient sense of order and uniformity to die with the rains in face of any cynic at attempts to jump the sartorial traces.

A LETTER FROM THE GENERAL. We assume that there must be some misunderstanding about the return of the Daughters of the American Revolution to the former Mrs. Anderson to sing in Constitution Hall, Washington. The D. A. R. has not in recent years emphasized the revolutionary part of its name and we prefer to believe that this action is not taken on the un-American ground that Miss Anderson, one of the most distinguished American contraltos, is a Negro.

PERPETUAL MOTION

Women throughout the nation are organizing National Consumers' Commissions to combat the Commission which to combat taxes that increase the prices of necessities and raise the cost of living for their families. In this era of hidden levies, consumers have found that, just when they thought they could make both ends meet, some tax came along and moved the ends.

THE OW

Aletha M. Bonner, writing in "Our Dumb Animals," says, "The owl is considered an undesirable neighbor in most agricultural communities."

Millions charge him with pulling up spreading corn, pecking holes in their melons and other mischievous and destructive deeds but they lose sight of the bird's servicable work of following in the wake of the plowman's furrows, and picking out from the fresh, upturned soil, legions of worms, field mice, larvae and beetles, which if not destroyed would, in time damage the growing crop.

Hands Across The Globe

Amelia Earhart Feared Marriage. Recognized by 35. Mahmood Bey.

WARS OF ACTION. NEW YORK.—George Palmer Putnam today reveals for the first time a letter he received from Amelia Earhart on her wedding day in 1921 in which the aviatrix expressed deep concern over her coming marriage.

Writing the life story of his wife and the latest magazine, Putnam says the letter gives a clear insight into Amelia Earhart's character and her philosophy.

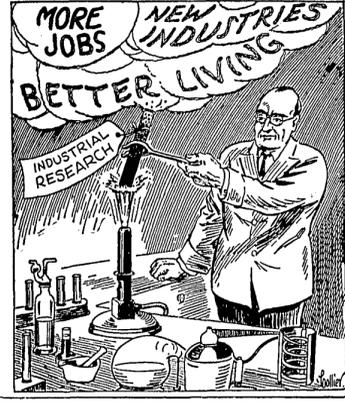

"You must know," says his reluctance to marry, "the letter says in part, 'my feeling that I shatter thereby chances of work which mean so much to me.'"

"I feel the move just now as foolish as anything I could do." The dramatic message asked that Putnam release his wife from their marriage bonds in a year "if we find no happiness together."

Prior to today's developments some 35 governments had accorded some form of recognition to Gen. Francisco Franco's Government in Spain.

Last week the Insurgent Government's Foreign Office issued a list of 19 nations not having accorded full legal or de jure recognition. These were Guatemala, Salvador, Italy, Albania, Nicaragua, the Vatican, Japan, Manchuria, Hungary, Portugal, Turkey, Uruguay, Poland, Estonia, Peru, Lithuania, Switzerland and Russia.

FARMERS OBJECT TO WAGNER ACT

Thousands of farmers by petition and letter are urging the repeal or amendment of the Wagner Labor Relations Act "to give agriculture a fair deal," says the American Agriculturist.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS!

The Congress of the United States has a birthday March 4th. That date marks the 150th anniversary of this greatest of all great American institutions—an institution of the people, by the people and for the people, as Lincoln so aptly described it.

No elaborate ceremonies will mark the occasion, but Americans will pause on that day and reflect that it is a joyous occasion. Congress is the people's servant. In other words, the citizen has no voice in government. Instead, the citizen is the servant of government.

Dorn of the Constitution, the Congress is the world's best example of self-government. And under self-government America has progressed, in this century and a half, to first in rank as a Nation of freedom, equality and justice for all. It has made America the envy of all other peoples.

So, on March 4, we whose freedom is the envy of the world, pay tribute to the institution that exemplifies self-government. Many happy returns of the day. May a free Congress never perish!

THE CONSUMER SPEAKS

By HOWARD PATE

COOPERATION GROWING IN THE U. S. Mr. E. R. Bowen, general secretary of the Cooperative League of the U. S. A., described the elements of the cooperative movement to the national leading economists at the annual meeting of the American Economic Association held in Detroit a month or two ago.

A few of Mr. Bowen's remarks were reproduced because they are of interest to all consumers. He said that we are already in the process of changing to a cooperative economy in the United States.

There are in process of growth in the United States three forms of economic organization which are destined to result in the lowering of the price level and three other economic organizations which will increasingly result in the raising of the price level.

Education For The Public. American educators are suddenly realizing the fact that public education means not primarily education at public expense, but rather education for the public.

Red Men Fight Hard To Edge Out Ramblers

Locals Confident Beating Wethersfield Five At Yale Gym Next Tuesday Night

One game, of course, stands out in New Haven's basketball program tomorrow night at St. Michael's Hall. The curtain begins to rise at about 8:30 o'clock on one of the biggest games that the Elm City has ever had in its time. After a great display of real basketball ability shown against the Community Club recently, the East Haven Jeffs mentor has shaped up a formidable team that should give the crack Conn. Blues quite a stiff battle.

The Red Men proved a shade tougher for the Ramblers last Sunday afternoon at the Community House in a Community Council league battle. The final score was 20 to 17, which finally represents the respective merits of play which the two teams presented. The Ramblers started the second half with a 10 to 14 lead over the Red Men but late in the last quarter a belated Red Men outfit, with Brad, whose agility and ruggedness and the high scoring Sal Aceto handled the ball better, shot better and showed more confidence, and best of all, the team work clicked and soon were out in front to finish the "closely-fought" game 20 to 17.

Wethersfield's performance in last Sunday's game has the sports fans "best bet" standing and taking notice. Pictured by many as a little better than the ordinary team, the Ramblers now loom as a Community Council league champion. The game with the strong M I F team revealed lots of class among the Branford players.

Mr. Street. "He was one of the three men who captured the 'Mississippi Wild Man' who llyed nude in the swamps, catching and killing fish and animals with his bare hands to feed himself and his wild mate. He is probably the only white man who ever witnessed the 'Negro voodoo ceremonial, 'The Feast of the Wilderness.'"

Until a few months ago Mr. Street was a feature writer for the New York World Telegram.

Speaking in January at the Hotel Taft at a meeting of the Connecticut Editorial Association, Street said "The average editorial is boring. People don't understand them. There is the greatest opportunity in the world for the weekly. They can be an inspiration in these times."

When Mr. and Mrs. Street and their sons, James and John, and Lucy Ann a daughter first contemplated moving to Connecticut, Mr. Street says one of the towns they considered in which to make their home was Branford.

He will talk, not speak, on the experiences of a rolling stone. "Frankly, I'm weary of weighty speeches."

REVOLUTION

... on Main Street

GIVE a thought to Main Street as you scan today's headlines! All the world's excitement isn't in Europe.

For, in our town... and towns like ours clear across the country... there's a daily revolution going on. Changes in dress styles and food prices... the rise of a hat crown... the fall of furniture prices—these matters vitally affect our daily living... And the news is ably, fully covered in advertisements. Here, in concise, meaty form, makers of the world's goods tell you what's new, what's good... and how to make your dollars S-T-R-E-T-C-H.

Smart people who like to be up-to-the-minute in living and current events, follow advertisements as closely as headlines. They know what's doing in Europe and America... but they also know where money buys most!
