Branford Experiencing Increase In Building As Winter Draws Near

Smithfield Engineering Company Building In North Main Street And Main Street Store Are Largest Projects—Many Are Family Residences.

An unusual amount of building is in process about town now and contractors are hurrying their work along before cold weather arrives to threaten delay. Many cellars are complete and carpenter work will proceed as winter comes.

Two of the largest projects are those of the Smithfield Engineering Company and that of Main Street remodeling.

Emil A. Smithfield of the Smithfield Engineering Co. is erecting and is now shingling a building 45 by 85 feet on his North Main Street property. Other buildings may be added later to further facilities for supplying mill work materials in the building trade.

The O'Connor Estate is remodeling in Main Street for the First National Stores Inc. Workmen are busy now on the interior and are putting doors in today. The floor has been laid and side wall work well underway.

Carl Erickson of Montowese St. is building on Palmer Road.

The Rosenthal Block is remodeling its first floor for larger accommodations for the Branford Printing Company and The Branford Review and provides floor space from Ivy to Rose Street.

Mr. Peter Witkowski has a cellar finished and is ready to go ahead with a residence in South Montowese Street.

The Ceccolini two story frame one family house, Ivy Street, is nearly complete outside, the roof

Common Sense Is Necessary For Success

The Short Beach PTA held its regular October meeting in the form of a tea on Monday afternoon. The speaker of the day was Mrs. Winthrop Wilcox, president of the New Haven County Council of Parents and Teachers. She was introduced by Mrs. D. W. Owens, program chairman. Her topic was "Aims and Purposes of the PTA and she stressed the point that common sense was essential for the success of any group and urged that each member of the Short Beach group bring us a new member to assist in the membership drive now going on.

Mrs. Wilcox also stated that there are 70 units in New Haven County and this is the 40th anniversary of PTA work. She also urged Study Groups for members.

"Candlelight" In Rehearsal

The Congregational Players are now rehearsing for "Candlelight," which they will present Thursday, October 26 in the Community House. The play is a drama of intrigue which centers about a prince and a charming lady.

Many actors well known in local dramatics will appear in the cast which includes Alice Warner, Helen Warren, Wilma Turner, James Hanscom, Lewis Milne, Frank Bigelow and Samuel Beach.

"Candlelight" is a play that is sure to please those that like a bit of intrigue. The story relates how a prince's valet falls in love with a pretty voice over the phone and invites his charmer to his master's apartment.

The prince's return creates many interesting situations. The cast includes many who have given much pleasure in previous dramatic productions.

Kenneth Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bigelow is ill in New Haven Hospital. He will probably return home after another week.

"Momauguin" Suggested As Name Of New Tribe Of Order Of Red Men

New Tribe Will Be Instituted In East Haven Last Week In November—Tribe Intends To Have Club And Sports Facilities.

CHIEF OF RECORDS

William Saunders, Chief of Records, Improved Order of Redmen, State of Connecticut, Member of Natatus Tribe of Nautagutuck.

The name Momauguin has been suggested for the new tribe of the Improved Order of Red Men now being organized in East Haven and unless the charter members of the new tribe and club decide otherwise that will be the name. The Momauguin was suggested by Mrs. Helen Phila of 39 Elm street East Haven. Her husband George Phila is one of the men interested in the formation of the new tribe.

It is expected that this new Momauguin tribe will be instituted in East Haven the last week in November and that there will be at least 75 charter members. In addition to the lodge, this tribe intends to have club facilities and to engage in almost kinds of athletic sports. Already plans are being laid for a basketball team this winter as well as a bowling team. George Cunningham of High street is one of the charter members who is endeavoring to secure members who are good in sports.

William Saunders, Great Chief of Records of the Red Men of the state of Connecticut, a member of Natatus tribe of Nautagutuck was in East Haven a few days ago looking over the field and he has assured Past Sachem Louis E. Peck who has charge of the securing of the charter members that the Great Council will grant a charter for Momauguin tribe. Great Chief Saunders has been Chief of records of the order in Connecticut for a period of 39 years and is one of the best versed in the United States in the ritual of the order. He will be present on the night of the institution and will assist in the work.

Assisting Past Sachem Peck and George Phila in the work of securing members for the East Haven tribe are a number of the members at Pawson tribe of Branford among them being George Barber, Oscar Lagueux, Louis Pope, Walter New-

Battery Praised By Maj. Knight

Captain John L. Rush, Commanding Officer of the local national guard unit, was very highly commended in the inspection report received at regimental headquarters October 10th. The report of inspection was made by Maj. Knight and in part read as follows. Capt. Rush, Regimental Supply Officer, is especially commended for the sufficient manner in which he handled the drawing and delivery of supplies from the railroad to the regiment and to the regimental positions during combat.

The commendation of Capt. Rush was one of two earned during the Field Training Period, for efforts over and beyond the regular call of duty.

Upon receipt of his commendation Captain Rush posted the following notice on the Battery bulletin board:

"I have been highly commended by the inspecting officer, Maj. Knight, for the manner in which the Regimental supplies were handled during the Field Training at Plattsburg, N. Y. I realize that this commendation was in no small part the result of the efforts of the officers and men of this organization. To be fortunate enough to have command of an organization with the aggressiveness and will to do possessed by the Service Battery 192d F A makes the task of receiving commendations an easy matter. John L. Rush, Capt. 192d F A. Commanding Serv. Btry.

MORRIS COVE

Grannis Corner

'Deplorable' Says Walter A. Lang

Lack of sewage facilities in Morris Cove and Grannis Corner was scored by Walter A. Lang, of Woodward Avenue, in an address Sunday afternoon at a Republican political meeting at Raynham, the estate of Mrs. Henry H. Townsend at 700 Townsend Avenue. Mrs. Townsend was hostess to 200 party workers of the two East Shore communities at the meeting at which William C. Ceintano, nominee for mayor of New Haven, and other O.P.P. candidates also spoke.

Lang, who is running for town clerk, "Everyone knows that sewage conditions in the worst parts of the river are deplorable, and yet the Democratic administration has failed miserably and utterly to give these taxpayers any relief. Why haven't the administration allowed to them for this purpose?" He also charged that work on the New Ferry Street bridge over the Quinnipiac River has not been carried forward in a business-like way and

"SPILT ROCK" Alphonzo Lewis 8-3

Along a well paved road near Mt. Vernon, N. Y. is an old gray most covered rock. It is split almost directly through the center. There are many legends concerning this rock. One of them is that during a ceremony among the Indians a captured prisoner was beheaded and the rock went right on through the rock.

Another says that a tree grew through the rock. The latter explanation seems more probable. "Spilt rock" is a sight that will be outstanding in my memory.

ENGLISH Ruth Peterson 8-3

One rainy day I was sitting on my porch, I looked outside and saw the rain running down the pathway in little silver streams to the foot of a huge pine tree. Its long green boughs spread out to catch the little rain drops as they fell. The tree stood tall and stately in the mist, a sheltering harbor for the birds in the storm and a spot of beauty for the human eye.

ENGLISH EUGO LAKE Audrey Schwartzfelder

The lake was as calm and clear as a crystal. It was called Echo Lake because the hills would always send back your echo. There were beautiful birch and pine trees surrounding the water located in the heart of the White Mountains. The time was around 7:30 and the sun was just setting, providing most gorgeous colors. These colors, reflected on the lake made a picturesque sight, almost more beautiful than any eye could witness. I stood for a long period of time just gazed about this liberal cause.

ENGLISH ANGELINA RANDISE 8-3

As I was lounging on the green grass of a high sight-seeing hill in the late evening, I gazed at the magnificent sunset. It was so beautiful that it looked as if some artist had painted it and put it there for everyone to see. Beautiful colors were surrounding me and the clouds were including it making its rays reflect through the curtains. As the sun was setting, the sun was making silhouettes of the tall trees and high hills which made the picture look more unreal. This sunset was the most beautiful sight I have ever seen and it did not seem right to have it go so quickly.

England and its tax and laws. Brought about this liberal cause. They board our ships then killed and slew. And even tried to influence the crew.

Many men had died in duty. This new country and its beauty. We fought on land and fought on sea.

Submitted by Elaine Johnson, Kenneth Bray, Ruth Peterson. This room extends sympathy to Edward Yarish in the loss of his brother.

Richard Farrington has just registered from Westbrook, Conn. We won a smashing victory over Miss Cahill's room. The players participating were: John Torino, Captain; Kenneth Newton, Kenneth Bray, Paul Carter, Raymond Page, Marco Gallego, Albert Piscitelli, Edward Yarish, Joe Esposito, Donald Erickson, Sidney Davis.

The room is trying to have a Section-Week and his master visit us. The committee is working on this project.

Submitted by William Hayden Due to Virginia Gray's leaving, a new representative for the Junior Red Cross has been elected. Leroy Bartholomew has been chosen.

The representatives to the Student Council from 8-3 are Stephen Morris and Robert Crowley.

The program committee chosen were: Bernadette McCutcheon, John Waylett, Sophie Morris, Albert Wood, Leroy Bartholomew, William Hayden.

"SPILT ROCK" Alphonzo Lewis 8-3

Along a well paved road near Mt. Vernon, N. Y. is an old gray most covered rock. It is split almost directly through the center. There are many legends concerning this rock. One of them is that during a ceremony among the Indians a captured prisoner was beheaded and the rock went right on through the rock.

Another says that a tree grew through the rock. The latter explanation seems more probable. "Spilt rock" is a sight that will be outstanding in my memory.

Laurels Meet Sokols Sunday In Hardest Battle Of Season

Branford High Gridders Face Shelton Saturday In Housatonic League

Knechtmen Seek Second League Victory At Valley Town Saturday Afternoon—Severe Blow Handed Local High by Loss of Swiderski, Crack Tackle From Branford Hills—Game Set For 3:15 P. M.

Fresh from their startling upset over the Hamden high school eleven, Coach John Knecht's tested Branford gridders will invade the Shelton lair on Saturday afternoon to battle the orange and black of that town in a regularly scheduled Housatonic League game. The fracas is slated to start at 3:15 p. m.

RETURNS THE MOVE

Shelton, once down on the ground of their new mentor, Coach Finn completely versed in the game, the home club bids fair to make a game of intrigue against the heavily favored red and white of Branford.

Branford on the other hand will present a veritable attack with their captain and outstanding star as the spearhead of their offense. To match the Shelton spinners, the Tarnulovich Coach Knecht will pit the battering Jimmy Barba, and with this pair, the pass catching duo of Zwickowski and Markowski. Barba's tried and true toe will do most of the kicking while both Barba and Tarnulovich will likely do the major part of the rushing. The locals should the locals decide to try the aerial game to any extent.

The Branford offense has been under close scrutiny for the past two weeks by Coach Finn and some of his men for they have been noticed on the sideline of the past two games which the Knechtmen have engaged in. Nevertheless it is known fact that the local mentors are confident that their line will be able to offset the Shelton spinners with the same array that opened the contest against Hamden.

A severe blow was handed the present eleven when the Shelton services of their crack tackle from the Branford Hills, one Swiderski who had all the speed and drive to make him a truly high school brilliant.

Owing to the dedication of a public building the line of the fray has been set back to 3:15 p. m. in order that the rabid valley fans may attend both affairs. Competent Central Board officials will handle the game. Many from Branford expect to attend the game.

Storrs, Conn. (Special).—Preparations for the invasion of the University of Maine football team which will be the feature of the Annual Alumni Home-Coming Day Saturday, have gone forward this week with determination to eliminate the mistakes of last week's game. Against Mass. State last Saturday, Connecticut was able to score seven points, although making 10 first downs and gaining over three hundred yards on rushing play. The game was won in the last minute and half of play after Mass. State had successfully marched down the field for seventy-five yards and their score. Up to this time, Mass. State had not been able to gain consistently and to all their followers this looked like a victory. Connecticut received the kick-off and in less than a minute and a half due largely to pass of Donnelly to Waldman and the subsequent pass from Donnelly to Climo over the goal line, they were able to tie the score. Climo then kicked the ball squarely between the uprights for the winning point.

Coach J. O. Christian's men will face a much more difficult opposition in Maine Saturday. Maine has three victories and no defeats so far, having defeated Arnold 47-0, Rhode Island 14-0 and New Hampshire 6-0. Coach Fred Brice has his team intact from last year and they are a big, rangy team with more precision, drive and fitness than any team that Connecticut has faced this year. In Dick Dyer they have a great left half who can kick, pass and run and in Stearns, their left end, they have a marvelous end who in the last two games has scored three touchdowns after catching forward passes from Dyer. Realizing that it will take a well-drilled squad to defeat a team which last year won an undefeated season, Coach Christian has concentrated on perfecting the blocking assignments in the running attack and the timing of the pass attack. In addition, he has worked hard to perfect a defense against Maine's running game and against their passes which are supposed to be their outstanding offensive weapon.

This game will provide probably the best college game in Connecticut and preparations have been made to handle the largest Home-Coming crowd of recent years. The contest will get under way promptly at 2:00 o'clock.

Notre Dame's Elmer Layden, in fact gave full credit for both the victory over Purdue and that over Georgia Tech, to his line. With Dave Shirk, Frank "Poppy" Ivy, and "All-American" brand of line play, Oklahoma's forward wall is one of the best seen in some time. Tom Stillman as head coach, gets his share of credit for the outstanding work he had been doing at Northwestern with the line.

At Notre Dame Joe Boland has just with his linemen each year by graduate since he took over medical course and with Elmer Layden after serving Bill Osmani is just starting his

Green Wave Eleven Set For Crucial Battle With Bridgeport At Local Field

Undeclared And Unsoured On Clancy Coached Combine Face Biggest Task Of Season Sunday In Meeting Bridgeport Sokol-Rosebuds, Big, Rangy Semi-Pro Team Of Great Gridiron Experience

The Branford Laurels at Hammer Field, Sunday, meet a powerful Sokol-Rosebud team of Bridgeport which has become a very potential outfit in the past three years, and have given big semi-pro eleven tough battles. Although the Green Wave eleven did not play the Sokols in the last few years, due to lack of material, the Laurels, under the management of Thomas Suda and the coaching wing of Stu Clancy, New York Giants star, have this year one of the greatest Laurels in history and will give the Bridgeporters a great game that expect to attend the crucial fracas will get plenty of thrills and should dish out plenty of woe to the highly-rated Sokol eleven.

The Sokol-Rosebuds are considered strong this year, having won three games, losing one, and that was a very close one to the highly-touted Wallingford Walcos. The Laurels have played three and have won them all, and have also kept their goal line unbreached. The odds would seem to be on the local eleven but upsets are very common these days and anything is apt to happen when two such strong evenly-matched teams meet up on the gridiron.

The Clancy coached green clad boys will need to watch out for forward passing attacks, as the Bridgeporters scored all of their victories via the air line, having failed to do much by ball carrying. Reports from Bridgeport way today are, that their Sokol team can play the Laurels on even terms under any conditions, and they are delighted to have the chance to prove it Sunday afternoon.

Thus it seems as though the Laurels management has booked a "natural," a game that should bring out a very large number of Branford New Haven and Bridgeport fans to see which is really the better team. Practice will sessions will be held tonight under the lights at Hammer Field at 8 o'clock and Coach Stu Clancy wants every player to report for these drills.

Laurels Show Power In Trouncing Milford Club 15 To 0 In Sunday Fray

Green Wave Scores In Second And Last Periods — Pete Panaroni Snatches Milford Pass And Runs 26 Yards In Thrilling Play — Opponents 15 Yard Stride — Laurels Have Yet To Be Scored On

The Branford Laurels outplayed the strong Milford Wheel Club to win a 15 to 0 victory at Hammer Field last Sunday with a large crowd out for the game on a bright, cold sunny afternoon.

At the start of the game the Milford supporters expected the Wheelers to run over and set back the Laurel team, who incidentally have yet to be scored on, but they got an unpleasant shock shortly after the opening period. In the second quarter, the scoring began when Pete (Bull) Panaroni snatched a pass from the hands of a Milford player on the Wheelers 42 yard mark and just pushed and smashed his way chugging would be tacklers to the Milford 16 yard stripe. In the next play, his brother, Gino, a fast, shifty back, sneaked through a hole for a first down. In the next four plays Pete smashed through for a touchdown. Pat Pesa was then sent in for the extra point which split the center of the uprights on a beautiful kick.

In the third period Milford was in scoring position when a Wheeler's kick back was fumbled by Bon-ducci, Laurel lineman, and recovered by the Wheel club on the Laurels 30 yard line. Noyon and Perry combined with end runs and passes carried the ball to Branford's 10 where the Clancy coached combine duo in and held the invaders right in their tracks. Here Sokolowsky's educated toe went to work when he kicked the pigskin 60 yards and put the Green Wave out of danger.

In the last quarter the fireworks started, the Laurels really went to

Maine Invades Storrs For Battle With Conn. University Saturday

Maine University Has Three Victories And No Defeats, Meets Conn. University Saturday At Storrs

Storrs, Conn. (Special).—Preparations for the invasion of the University of Maine football team which will be the feature of the Annual Alumni Home-Coming Day Saturday, have gone forward this week with determination to eliminate the mistakes of last week's game. Against Mass. State last Saturday, Connecticut was able to score seven points, although making 10 first downs and gaining over three hundred yards on rushing play. The game was won in the last minute and half of play after Mass. State had successfully marched down the field for seventy-five yards and their score. Up to this time, Mass. State had not been able to gain consistently and to all their followers this looked like a victory. Connecticut received the kick-off and in less than a minute and a half due largely to pass of Donnelly to Waldman and the subsequent pass from Donnelly to Climo over the goal line, they were able to tie the score. Climo then kicked the ball squarely between the uprights for the winning point.

Coach J. O. Christian's men will face a much more difficult opposition in Maine Saturday. Maine has three victories and no defeats so far, having defeated Arnold 47-0, Rhode Island 14-0 and New Hampshire 6-0. Coach Fred Brice has his team intact from last year and they are a big, rangy team with more precision, drive and fitness than any team that Connecticut has faced this year. In Dick Dyer they have a great left half who can kick, pass and run and in Stearns, their left end, they have a marvelous end who in the last two games has scored three touchdowns after catching forward passes from Dyer. Realizing that it will take a well-drilled squad to defeat a team which last year won an undefeated season, Coach Christian has concentrated on perfecting the blocking assignments in the running attack and the timing of the pass attack. In addition, he has worked hard to perfect a defense against Maine's running game and against their passes which are supposed to be their outstanding offensive weapon.

This game will provide probably the best college game in Connecticut and preparations have been made to handle the largest Home-Coming crowd of recent years. The contest will get under way promptly at 2:00 o'clock.
