Two Dollars Per Year

STRICTLY LOCAL

A LITTLE ABOUT THIS AND THAT

BY PAUL H. STEVENS

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

It is only at the tree loaded with fruit that people throw stones.

(Sent in by H. G. Griswold)

A GOOD SEASON AHEAD

Easter comes early this year. It falls on Sunday, March 23. Palm Sunday will be observed the day after March 20, which according to the calendar, will be the first day of Spring.

Spring will be more than ever welcome this year which has brought us one of the coldest and snowiest winters within the memory of even our oldest of old-timers. We are always thrilled by the return of the birds and flowers, to say nothing of those of our neighbors who, more fortunate than us, have been able to bask in the sunshine of Florida while East Haven has remained blanketed under ice and snow.

Yes, Easter and Spring will be twice welcome, yes three welcome this season.

And Main street is prepared for the pre-Easter season this year as it never been before. There is no comparison between our community shopping center now, in 1948, and the dreary "center" in those dull remembered days of war-time. The entire scene has changed. We have new stores now to fill nearly all Easter needs. Once the snow is out of the way and the streets, sidewalks and shops put it in neat, clean and spick-and-span condition, shopping here will really be a pleasure.

We look for busy stores and large shopping crowds this spring in East Haven. Some of our merchants have been doing an excellent job in "selling" our shopping center to the people living beyond our town limits. Advertising has been appearing regularly in the New Haven newspapers and these advertisers have already found customers coming here from all parts of the Greater New Haven Area. Here at home the East Haven News has been doing its full part in boosting our own community, or if you will, endeavoring week by week to build a community spirit that will make itself wholesomely felt in all fields of our town life, civic, cultural, religious, recreational, business, industrial. The News has had, and we believe will continue to have, the support of our merchants and business people. They know that what boosts their community boosts them, and that their continued patronage of our advertising columns is but another way of informing the residents of East Haven that they are 100 percent behind the movement to make this a better community in which to live. The 1,200 and more East Haven families in which the East Haven News is a welcome weekly visitor, are all boosters of this town and all of its many and varied interests.

Yes, it looks like we have a mighty good season ahead in East Haven.

THE NEWS MAKES ITS RADIO DEBUT

On our way home from New Haven last Thursday afternoon at 4:30 we tuned our automobile radio to Station WNHC, "the Friendly Voice of Greater New Haven," and had the thrill of listening to the first edition of "East Haven's Newspaper of the Air." This fifteen minute program presented by Lou Doolittle of Station WNHC will be a weekly feature at 4:30 each Thursday afternoon and it is, as we stated last week, a cooperative project between the radio station and the East Haven News to draw closer the friendly bonds that naturally lie between press and radio. Both the East Haven News and Radio Station WNHC are community enterprises serving the public. The audience of the News is limited to its subscribers most of whom live within our own town. The voice of the radio station extends far out well beyond the Greater New Haven Area into the towns of Connecticut. The "East Haven Newspaper of the Air" will serve two purposes. It will give our local people and our friends of a larger audience an interesting round-up of local news and information each week, and it will advertise to all within its hearing the advantages of "New Haven's fastest growing suburb on the East Shore." We are glad of this opportunity to serve. We hope that our readers will listen in each Thursday afternoon at 4:30 and that they will tell their friends too about the "East Haven Newspaper of the Air."

EAST HAVEN DOES HAVE A HEART

To see the dimes, quarters and dollar bills piling up in the glass containers which have been placed conspicuously on the counters in many of the East Haven places of business in behalf of the Don Brainard Fund, does one's heart good. When the townspeople undertake to raise a $1,500 fund to further the educational prospects of a boy who has suffered a misfortune, it proves that this community has a heart and that it is in the right place.

Don's story is told elsewhere in this week's News. A local High School pupil, member of the Junior class, and a promising athlete who played on the baseball team, he suffered a slight injury sometime ago which, taking a serious turn around Christmas time, brought the amputation last month of his left leg above the knee.

East Haven is used to money drives. It seems as though organizations of one kind or another are always asking for funds for worthy causes. East Haven always ranks high in the funds raised here. But here is a local case with an unusual human appeal. Don has had, in having, a hard time. His East Haven friends don't intend to let him down.

E. H. Grocer Dies

Daum, a son, Wesley, two daughters, Miss Grace Daum and Mrs. Rose Hill, 33rd and children and a brother, Charles Daum.

Give Generously To The Red Cross

The annual Red Cross Campaign began Monday and will continue through the month of March. Mrs. William E. Fagerstrom heads the campaign committee for East Haven and Mrs. Alvin P. Sanford is chairman of the East Haven Branch which is affiliated with the New Haven Chapter. The 1948 Campaign Poster (above) is the work of Steven Dohanos, well known Connecticut artist. This poster reflects in a fine way the splendid community spirit that exists in East Haven and the hundreds of small towns, and large ones too, all the way across America. Give generously to the Red Cross—a most worthy cause.

The Little-A-Bike Safety Campaign sponsored by the Harry R. Bartlett Post, American Legion in conjunction with the State Motor Vehicle Department, with the support of the town officials, police department and school authorities, will get underway in East Haven on March 15. A special effort is being made to have 100 percent enrollment by East Haven bicycle riders, of whom there are a great many in the school.

E. H. News On The Air Each Thurs. At 4:30

As a public service to this community, the East Haven News and Radio Station WNHC, New Haven, have arranged a weekly 15-minute round-up of the news of East Haven and vicinity, which is being sponsored by the J. E. Kelley Food stores of 187-299 Main Street, and Wolfe's Quality Food Shops also of Main Street.

The news, compiled from the columns of the East Haven News, will provide listeners with a summary of the week's activities of this busy community.

The time chosen for the broadcast is Thursday afternoons from 4:30 to 4:45 o'clock, and an invitation is extended to everyone to listen in, and also to send in notices, items and information of local interest which they would like to have announced on the air.

The initial broadcast of the East Haven Newspaper of the Air was listened to by a large radio audience last Thursday afternoon and there have been many expressions of approval from those who heard the first of this interesting series of programs from "Greater New Haven's Fastest Growing Community."

population. In addition to the little-a-bike device which is to be attached free to each bicycle with the Legion post meeting the expense, the bikers will receive a certificate in the AAA Bicycle Safety Club. They will also be given instructions in the safe use of bicycles.

REV. MR. STREET'S LONG PASTORATE

Old Stone Church Was Built Midway Of Early Clergyman's More Than 60 Years Of Service

The second of East Haven's long-term clergymen was the Rev. Nicholas Street, called to the pastorate on July 5th, 1755 by the Congregational Society of East Haven, he was ordained by the Consociation the following October. The Society agreed to pay him 1,500 pounds if he "settled" for three years but if he "changed his principles from what he was settled upon," then he was to return the money to the Society. Not only did he "settle" for three years, but he became a fixture of the community remaining until his death in the early nineteenth century. His salary was "yearly 60 pounds in New York money" at the outset and this was increased to 65 pounds the second year and 70 pounds the third year. By 1768 when the Society voted to sell the parsonage lands, his salary had risen to 80 pounds a year. Funds arising from the sale of the parsonage lands were voted to be kept as fund for the support of the "regular Calvinistic Ministry, upon the Saybrook Platform, especially as to the doctrines thereof, in East Haven." Because of the deflation of Continental currency the fund at the close of the Revolution had dwindled to about $300.

Rev. Mr. Street found his flock well divided when it came time to choose a site for the building of the handsome new church he had proposed. In 1770 when a vote was taken as to where it would stand, 37 votes appeared for the Green, and 27 for the end of Mullen Hill. A large committee was next named to choose the site but it could not agree. In December, 1771 they tried another vote of the whole Society when 20 votes appeared for the Green, 29 for Mullen Hill and two lone votes for the present site, the Thompson corner. Convinced they could not agree they applied to the County Court. Two judges came out and chose the Thompson corner on Main street. In 1772, it was voted to build a stone meeting house 60 feet long and to lay a six-penny tax rate for it. It was a great and honorable work, and stands today as a lasting monument to the enterprise, public spirit, wisdom and perseverance of the Rev. Nicholas Street and his congregation. It is the oldest stone meeting house standing in New England and the first stone meeting house in Connecticut.

His ministrations spanned a long era from Colonial Years To Early 19th Century.

There is an interesting stone in the Streetlot in the Old East Haven Cemetery. It was erected to his "Dear Desire" and on it is inscribed beneath her name—

"Here my Desire lies, Obscured in the dust, Whose memory cannot rust."

No doubt the stern cleric of old East Haven had a fatherly as well as a husband's affection for her, as she was his bride at thirteen years of age.

The long period which led from the colonial times to the post-revolution era and the dawn of the 19th century bears witness to the Rev. Mr. Street's labors, faithfulness, anxieties, sacrifices, and final accomplishments, in the erection of the beautiful Stone Church, monument to a saintly man and monument to a saintlyman and an enterprising people.

His successor, Rev. Saul Clark served here nine fruitful years, 1808 to 1817.

GIRL SCOUTS ANNIVERSARY

It is a privilege and responsibility of membership. As long ago as 1922, when the first world camp was held at Foxe-lea in England, the head of the French Red Cross visited the world and everyone felt and hoped that world friendship.

"We have known for a long time that the Girl Scout movement is essentially the spirit of good will and understanding between nations. It reaches across barriers of class and creed. But what a difference there is between knowing it and actually seeing it, touching it, living it! We now have the certainty that human brotherhood is no impracticable dream."

Since then, we have gone on actually seeing it, touching it, living it in our international camps, at the Chateau, in trips to each other's countries, through correspondence and exchange of gifts, through the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund and all our international projects during and since the war.

Today we are challenged with the imperative need to help millions of young people (and adults) carry over from Girl Scouting this active belief in the possibility of human understanding and friendship among all cultures, faiths, and nations into their daily lives, their community relationships, their acceptance of responsibility for citizenship in a nation that belongs to the United Nations.

New Haven Council of Girl Scouts will celebrate the birthday with a skating party at the Arena on March 12th at 4 P. M. Program includes a color ceremony, presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund contributions from all troops in the Council, cutting of the birthday cake, the Girl Scout promise and song.

In 1947 contributions to the fund amounted to $88,000 national. New Haven's contribution was about $400. This money makes possible many projects. Have on a few of them:

1. An encampment at our camp in Switzerland for two delegates from each country belonging to the World Association.
2. Printing of Girl Scouts Literature for countries which have no paper or funds.
3. International Conference of Leaders at Camp Edith Macy.
4. Living scholarships for foreign leaders.
5. A Jeep for Greek Guides.
6. A Western Hemisphere Encampment.

7. Assistance in starting Girl Guiding in war torn China.
All East Haven troops have taken part in this World Friendship Fund for several years.

Mrs. R. C. Faust Passes Away In 94th Year

Mrs. Rosalie Christy Faust, who suffered a broken hip at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Kling of Cozy Corner, 305 South End road, died last Saturday afternoon at Grace Hospital. Although she had been comparatively active prior to the time of her fall she had been failing for the past six years. Since the death of her husband, Joseph Faust, 45 years ago she had remained a widow and much of the time had resided with her daughter. Her husband was a cabinet-maker for the Pullman Car Company.

Friends of Mrs. Faust who knew her well marveled at her wonderful memory. On the day of her 93rd birthday she was asked what was the earliest event she could remember in her childhood. Without effort she replied that it was when she was four years old and her father was called away to the Civil War. The day before she went into her last room at the hospital she mentioned that she had been terminally ill, willing in conducting services here on March 14 and Mr. William Galling will continue as youth director.

Receptionists at church last Sunday were Misses Laura Alwater and Janet Alwater. The flowers were presented by the Woman's Aid Society.

In the church bulletin Sunday Rev. and Mrs. William G. West expressed their thanks for the reception rendered them Feb. 22 and stated they will be pleased to hear from their friends at their new address which is 114 South Crest Road, Chatham, N. Y.

At the reception Mr. West was presented with a handsome watch, and a wallet containing $175. Mrs. West was given a beautiful piece of jewelry and there was a handsome tricycle for the junior member of the family. Mr. Duane Hatfield, in-

KINNEY RESIGNS FIELD POST IN PROTEST MOVE

VETERAN COMMISSION MEMBER IRKED OVER THE SELECT MEN'S REJECTION OF TWO LONG STANDING MEMBERS, VACATES CLERK'S POST—WILL RETAIN MEMBERSHIP ON THE HAMMER FIELD BOARD

Frank J. Kinney, Sr., for twenty six years clerk of the Hammer Field commission resigned his secretarial post at its annual meeting held in the Town Hall last Monday.

His resignation is understood to be in protest over a recent action of the Board of Selectmen which dropped two long standing commission members William Hitchcock Jr., and John E. Knecht, Jr., from the field setup.

Members appointed in the ousted men's stead were Edward Longergan and John Barron.

Mr. Kinney will still retain his position on the Board, the Review has learned.

Tamulevich Pins High Single In Bowling Circuit

The Suckers of the Silver Dollar League maintained their bowling pace last night by rallying behind Eddie Brannigan's 123 game in the feature match of the evening's play. Karlovich rolled out a three string total of 370 to pace the opposition. Walter Tamulevich, bowling for the Moaners was the high single man of the night when he pinned 139 for 10 boxes.

Broadcast Of Playoff Tilts Due This Week

For sports fans in Branford WNHC will present during the coming weeks the greatest array of sports broadcasts currently being aired by any southern Connecticut station. "The friendly voice of greater New Haven" will broadcast the last periods of all remaining New Haven Ramblers hockey matches played in the Eastern Division of the American Hockey League. Jimmie Milne and Frankie Adams are handling play-by-play broadcasts, which start at 9:30. The Ramblers will participate in this year's play-offs and WNHC is seeking a public opinion poll from its listeners as to whether there is sufficient interest to air an additional series of programs on these extra games.

Sportscasters Larry McNamara and Frankie Adams recently aired play-by-play accounts of Hillhouse and West Haven high school games in the State Interscholastic Class A basketball tourney, and will broadcast additional games in which Hillhouse eagles will participate from New Haven Arena. The majority of remaining inter-collegiate basketball games originating in Yale's Payne Whitney gymnasium will also be aired over the 1340 spot on your radio dial.

Phil Buxbaum, Jr., New Haven's most popular sportscaster in former years, returns to the Elm City to describe the National A.A.U. swimming meets on April 2 and 3 from the Payne Whitney gym, and over WNHC microphones. And the 22 Boston Braves-Red Sox exhibition games will get underway from Florida training camps on March 10.

Annex Quintet Defeats C.F.U. By 57 - 45 Edge

The Annex A. C. gained some measure of revenge over Branford in New Haven last night when it measured the C. F. U. five in a decisive manner by a 57 to 45 count.

Big Joe Macknis was the big gun in the Annex basket barrage with 18 points to his credit. Frank Dempsey was a good second with a neat 14. Anthony Yasavac paced the locals with 13 markers.

Suffield Gains Two Wins When Murphy Shines

Suffield Academy won its 14th victory in 18 starts last Saturday afternoon at Milford when its basketball team defeated Milford Prep by a lopsided 53 to 21 count. Jim Murphy, former Branford pivot man and all state center, again led all scorers by ringing up 5 baskets and 3 fouls in his abbreviated stay in the one sided contest. The upstate team is coached by Stanley Ward, a former court star with Canisius College.

The big Branford pivot man racked up 9 markers in last night's Suffield Academy rout of Admiral Billard School of New London. Suffield smothered the sailors 52 to 36 after leading at the half by two points 24 to 22.

Husky Pups Fall Before Eli Five

The Connecticut University freshmen basketball team dropped its fourth decision in ringing down the court curtain for 1948 at the Payne Whitney Gym last night where it found a rangy Yale Freshman quintet too much for its offense, losing 49 to 39.

Branford's Bill Mischler playing his first collegiate game before local eyes appeared nervous and unsure although the entire quintet acted in the same manner.

At Rhode Island Saturday night, the freshman unit wiped out a previous smear on their record by posting a 59 to 48 verdict over an excellent Keaney five. The Branford lad racked up five points and contributed a great floor game according to eye witnesses of the clash between the two traditional rivals.

SPORTS IN REVIEW

by Bill Ahern

One big man with sufficient weight and height plus basketball savvy will be enough to eliminate Shelton High from the class "M" basketball tournament of the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference which resumes tomorrow night at Payne Whitney Gym after a week's lapse since the play-down rounds.

The decision reverts to the same state which gave Branford High an upset victory over Fitch Groton two years ago when the firehouse style of court capers was the dominant feature of the play of the down-easters. The game was won by the Hornets when big Kenny Erickson slowed the scampering schoolboys to a walk with his masterful control of the boards and his refusal to let his opponents hurry him into mistakes. Groton's style can be compared to Shelton of 1948.

The Gaels seldom drop into the backcourt to guard depending on harassing their foes in a territory generally conceded as the fore court. Once they force a bad pass or succeed in stealing the ball they generally are good for an easy hoop.

There is a tendency on the part of Vincent to dribble to excess although the team, particularly the forwards, has a fine ability to pass quickly through a maze of arms and bodies to a teammate underneath the net.

Curiously enough there is always a section of the game where an opponent is good for a quick rally and some baskets. If a team holds its head at this stage of the game and refuses to become rattled then the danger is soon overcome. Later the shoe is on the other foot. When two teams have the experience plus an equal amount of man power and one is adept at defense, the latter quintet should gain the decision.

It was this experience that Branford High lacked during the season just completed although their size was against them. Another year will overcome that and the Hornets should be buzzing around in the upper strata of championship basketball again.

High Girls To Assist In Lyman Hall Games

The girls of Wallingford High will be host to Hamden, West Haven and Branford in a basketball playday to be held on Saturday March 13 in the gymnasium of the upstate school. Miss Virginia Moessmann physical director of the girls of Branford High announced this week. The competition will be in the form of a tournament with all teams playing one another at least once, the athletic coach said. In April Branford will compete with Commercial, Hillhouse, Wallingford, West Haven and Hamden in the latter town in a badminton tourney. In May the local girls will be hosts to the same five schools in a softball playday.

Hinchey Stars In Quartet Of Hoop Victories

By hanging up 27 points for Collegiate Prep in its crushing 86 to 53 defeat of Ramford School of Washington, Conn., last Friday and dropping 13 points in another New Haven victory over St. Basil's of Stamford by an 80 to 19 score, Bill Hinchey, of this town, received credit for racking up nearly one quarter of his teams 100 points over last weekend's opponents in the Collegiate court carnival.

Unofficial tabulations reveal that the local pivot man took only 13 shots at the hoop and counted on 12 of them plus a foul shooting record of 3 for 7 in the Ramford game. On Saturday he hit the basket for 6 field goals and but one charity toss.

Coach Fletcher Ferguson of the Elm City aggregation revealed over the week end that he has accepted an invitation, in behalf of the Collegiate School, to enter his team in the fourth annual Eastern Prep and Private School Basketball Tournament to be played on courts in Connecticut and New York. The New Haven five will probably be seeded number one in view of its 16 victories out of 21 games played, John D. Murphy of Stamford, chairman of the affair, believes.

On Monday night in Waterbury, the big Branford ace slit the mesh for 11 baskets and 6 fouls for a total of 28 points in the 74 to 56 victory of Collegiate over the UConn extension at Waterbury.

Wednesday afternoon the former U. S. Marine garnered a neat 17 points, second to Lembo's 19 in the 57-51 win manufactured by Fletcher Ferguson's quintet over a potent Eastern Military Academy five of New York.

Both schools will compete in the "A" division along with Dean Academy and Tilton School. The former is in Massachusetts and the latter hails from New Hampshire.

Records Fall As Sportsmen Trip Bombers

The Sportsmen Big Pin team broke two existing records of the City Big Pin league at the Roger Sherman Alleys on Tuesday night when it broke out of its two week slump by smashing the maples for a high team match score of 3084. The feat which was accomplished over the Bombers, another local entry, was remarkable in the fact that a high team single score of 1077 was likewise established.

Every member of the five broke into the 200 column at least once during the contest and team captain Dave Hylenski repeated the deed thrice in rolling 214, 213 and 237 scores respectively. The last named score was the evening's highest although Frank Abbondi with 234, Hugo Mann with 232 and Jack Doolittle with 230 closely followed the alley ace.
