STRICTLY LOCAL

A LITTLE ABOUT THIS AND THAT

BY PAUL H. STEVENS

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Nearly all men can stand adversity; but if you want to test a man's character, give him power!
—Abraham Lincoln.

THE CIRCUS COMES OUR WAY

The motor caravan transporting Hunt Brothers' gay, glorious glittering galaxy of Spangleland's Brightest Stars, as the posters have it, comes to East Haven next Thursday and Friday for afternoon and evening showings under the "big top" at the War Memorial Athletic Field at Thompson and Dodge avenues. We are informed there will be tons of elephants, amazing animal acts, magnificent horses, rare jungle beasts, expert equestrians, cavalcade of clowns, aerialists, acrobats and arctic champions galore. We don't expect Hunt Brothers Circus will be anything like the huge Barnum-Bailey-Ringling combine, but it ought to be lots of fun for everybody that's young in heart.

We saw Hunt Brothers Circus two years ago in Guilford, when the tents were filled with joyous folks from the shoreline towns and the hinterland. It was by no means "the Greatest Show on Earth," nor that super-duper wonder show that plays only in the big cities. It was, rather, the kind of circus we saw and enjoyed when we were a little fellow, and we can well understand why Hunt Brothers Circus is advertised as "The Favorite of Three Generations." It returns year after year to play New England's country towns.

This is the first time a circus has ever come to East Haven. We can sympathize with those who voiced disapproval that the circus is going to play on our brand new Athletic Field where the sod is yet scarcely two years old, but we confess we are rather pleased that the revoked permit was re-issued. We feel that a lot of youngsters are entitled to the kind of thrill now and then that only a circus can give. And it's rather nice to be able to say that a circus has at last really come to East Haven after these many years. We hope the circus people will live up to their part of the bargain and leave the athletic field in as good condition as they find it. And we hope the four showings will net a goodly sum for the benefit of the Coe Haven playground and field house.

HIGH HONOR FOR LOCAL WOMAN

So far as we can learn Mrs. Charlotte Miller is the first East Havener ever to be elected as a delegate to any national political convention, and that is an honor for which we join the other townspeople in extending congratulations.

Mrs. Miller was chosen at the recent State Republican Convention in Hartford as one of the two from the Twelfth Senatorial District to be members of the Connecticut Delegation to the National Republican Convention in Philadelphia next month.

As a Representative from East Haven in the General Assembly during the past few terms Mrs. Miller has become well known in the higher Connecticut political circles. She has served on important legislative committees and has been clerk of the Committee on Cities and Boroughs. She has also been active in district, county and state civic and political affairs and is currently serving a term as president of the New Haven County Republican Women's Club.

Her election as a member of the Connecticut delegation, which will have a part in nominating the next Republican candidate for President of the United States, is a well deserved one, and it goes without saying that she will take an active part in the deliberations of the convention.

Mrs. Miller is the wife of Charles Miller, former Town Engineer, and president-elect of the East Haven Rotary Club.

A "THIRD RATE NEWSPAPER"

The East Hampton News is one of the best, in our opinion, of the weekly community newspapers that comes to our desk among our exchanges. We enjoy the editorial comments of its hard-working editor, and we admire the way in which he handles the news of his community. Therefore we were interested in an East Hampton News editorial last week which was entitled "On Our Policy."

It seems that a prominent East Hampton town official had taken the editor aside the other day and had asked him if he didn't honestly feel that his weekly was a "third rate newspaper." We doubt not that our editor friend was, as he said, astounded by the frankness of the town official. But he was amused as well, because he recalled the time when the same town official had heckled him for having quoted a political opponent in the newspaper. At that time the town official had been much put out, because, he thought the paper had made him look like a "jackass."

From here it looks to us as though it is not the East Hampton News that is a "third rate" but rather it is the town official. We like the way that the editor went on to make it clear that his paper like "never in the past, nor will it in the future, allow its columns to be used as a channel for attack on any person." It will, he says "continue to quote statements made in public by any town official or prominent citizen which have a definite bearing on noteworthy situations. And we heartily "second" the following policy which the East Hampton editor set forth:

"Indeed, the policy of The News has been one of repression more than anything else. Being a community paper, it has always attempted to ignore the type of news which casts disreputable shadows upon the community or any private citizen. We honestly feel that most people appreciate this. We do not mean to point out our community to outsiders as a lily white town. That would be plain foolishness. Out-of-town papers see it that East Hampton is properly "covered" for that type of news. Why should we add salt to the wounds made by others?"

A Surprise Shower

Given By Doll Club

A surprise shower was given at the regular meeting of the Fairfield and New Haven Unit No. 3 The National Doll and Toy Collectors Club at 48 Howe Street New Haven on Sunday May 16th.

The honored bride-to-be was Miss Vera Fagen, the organizing president of Unit No. 3. Who received a beautiful piece of coffee service gift of the collective club. A spring motif of pink and green set the table with a tiny bride made by Mrs. Jenkin and two bridesmaids made by Mrs. Reese who also made the pink and blue umbrellas that were the favors.

Chest X-Rays Are Offered To All E. Haveners

Free chest X-Rays will be offered to all residents of East Haven and the general New Haven area, over the age of 15, at the New Haven City Health Department from June 7 to June 30. The offer is being made through the combined efforts of the New Haven Department and the city's Tuberculosis and Health Association. Dr. Joseph I. Linde, head of the Health Department, and Dr. Howard S. Colwell, president of the tuberculosis agency, head the local civic committee planning the health opportunity.

Officials stressed that the Chest X-Ray process is simple, and takes but a few seconds. No undressing is necessary. Such an X-Ray should be taken annually, it was declared by officials of both the Health department and the tuberculosis agency. Prompt discovery of tuberculosis or other disorders is the soundest means to a complete cure, they point out. Appeals for all persons to take advantage of the free X-Ray offer will be channelled through the press and radio, and additional response will be sought through churches fraternal, civic and social organizations, schools and industries.

"For the protection of their own health, we hope all citizens in the area will participate in this free X-Ray campaign," a statement from Dr. Colwell and Dr. Linde declared.

Officers of the New Haven Tuberculosis and Health Association are: President, Dr. Colwell; Vice-president, Raymond A. Loring; Secretary, Mrs. Stuart H. Clement; and Treasurer, W. Herbert Frost.

WHO RUNS THE LIBRARY

Board of Nine Members, Elected, At Annual Town Meeting, Responsible For Operation Of Hagaman Memorial.

A Board of Directors, elected at a town meeting, administers the Hagaman Fund and directs the library's policies. The Board consists of nine members whose terms are for three years each. Therefore, each Fall the terms of three members expire. Up to the present time board members whose terms have expired have been reelected so that the only changes in the Board since the library's beginning have been through resignation or death. If a vacancy arises in the Board before a member's term has expired the Board appoints someone to fill the vacancy until the term does expire at which time the new appointee's name comes up for election with the other in the usual manner.

The members of the Board serve without pay with the exception of the Secretary-Treasurer who carries on the correspondence, pays the bills and keeps the minutes of the Board meetings.

These are held the fourth Tuesday of each month in the library. Five members must be present to make a quorum to conduct the business.

The Board of Directors is responsible for the finances of the library; for the procuring of sufficient funds and for the efficient spending of the funds available. Because the financial condition

Last week we ran the first in a series of articles written to inform the townspeople about the Hagaman Memorial Library, its background, and its many services to the community. The first article, which dealt with Mr. Isaac Hagaman, former resident, whose bequest to the town made possible the handsome library, created considerable interest. Information was asked from those who knew Mr. Hagaman during his lifetime, concerning episodes and incidents that might be added to the available data the library has about him. We hope that many letters will be received. The present article will be followed by others in the near future.

determines to a large degree what the library does, the Board also determines the library's policies. The Board appoints the head librarian and is jointly responsible with her for promoting the library's services and furthering good public relations.

Board members should have and as a group do have: 1. Financial, legal and business experience. 2. Scholarship, Appreciation and Judgment in matters involving cultural subjects. 3. Knowledge of general social relations. 4. Understanding of town interests and problems. 5. Strong relations with the public.

The present Board consists of: John D. Houston, retired educator,

These Have Served More Than Thirty Years Each, And Three For More Than Twenty Years—Library Has Staff Of Six.

President of the Board, served 31 years. Elsworth E. Cowles, businessman, Secretary-Treasurer, served 32 years. Mrs. H. H. Bradley, housewife, served 39 yrs. Sherwin Haskell, businessman served 29 yrs. Harold H. Davis, archite served 23 yrs. Arthur Sperry, businessman, served 20 yrs. Mrs. Eric Dohna, housewife and businesswoman, served 13 yrs. Donald Childsey, insurance, served 12 yrs. Mrs. Leland Harrison, housewife, served 9 yrs.

The librarian is, of course, directly responsible to the Board and through them to the citizens, whether they are taxpayers or not, for the administration of the library. The first librarian was Miss Lottie Street who served for 30 years. The present librarian, Miss Beth Taylor, served for seven years, left for two years, and returned again in March of this year. In the two years January 1946 to March 1948, Miss Dorothy Howard was librarian.

In addition to the librarian, the staff at present consists of Mrs. George Sullivan, 1st Assistant; Mrs. William Hoyt, 2nd Assistant; Mrs. Fred Crampton, part time worker and Mrs. Edward Woodward, volunteer helper. Mr. Lewis Belding is full-time janitor who takes care of the building and grounds.

These, then, are the people who "run" the library.

Making Dolls' Clothes Proves Pleasing Hobby

Nearly everyone has a hobby of some sort or another. Mrs. Zeal F. Beach of 104 Slattonville Parkway has one that is not only pleasant, but profitable as well. Making dolls' clothes has become her hobby, one which she started the past winter following the holidays when she turned her attention to the fashioning of "new-look" outfits for her granddaughters' favorite dolls.

We stopped in at the Beach home last week to see if she was still making some of the creations that had come out of her veranda workshop. We were surprised and pleased at the many different models she had on display in a wardrobe cabinet with glass sliding doors.

One outfit of blue linen with a bolero jacket and white flimsy blouse would charm any little girl were she to see it fitted to her very own doll. A ballerina skirt, with peacock and seven tails of raffing on its bottom. Little fitted slips and panties to match, all with a touch of hand-embroidery on each garment. A brown belted coat with a bonnet to match just to the boy doll. Little white dress of gingham hung neatly on their hangers and there were others of soft flimsy material in yellow and assorted colors. Planned patterns and just about everything to outfit a doll completely were displayed. A lovely blouse.

Many of these beautiful creations are for sale and anyone young or old offering the best name for Mrs. Beach's dolls' wear shop, a name which will meet with her approval will receive as a prize a fully dressed doll and all the accessories.

Receptionists last Sunday were Lewis Belding and Carl Benning-off and flowers were furnished by the Junior Women's League.

PLEASE DO SOMETHING

The tragedy of the boy with the pole is heightened by the fact that his companion could not swim and therefore was helpless. The startling fact only emphasizes the stellar work of the Red Cross summer program but scarcely condones the realization that one child in Branford cannot swim.

The instruction is available for the registration.

As pointed out only a week ago in these very columns Branford has a wealth of natural resources not the least of which is its shores and bathing facilities; its beautiful fishing and associated pleasures.

The danger of fishing trips without a person who can swim is never vividly brought forth. It is a point which the Red Cross has been seeking to establish for many seasons.

The program will be instituted in Branford again this year. There is probably no occupation which carries so much pleasure as learning to swim. It is its learning as a parent, in any town, to insure its child the proper education. Surely, in a shore town, swimming is a portion of the lore.

There is no cost for the instruction which is supervised by the parent teachers. This is only the moral obligation of the parent to see to it that the child is present at the appointed time.

This is not intended to add to the grief of a heartbroken fishing companion. It is in response to a girl's request for a girl's special hour in the water. It is an inland pond, diving to exhaustion, again and again, in a fruitless cause, whose reward was a near-tearful request: "Please do something to convince all parents that their youngsters should swim."

CONGRESSMAN FOOTE Issues Exam Dates

Congressman Elsworth B. Foote, Third District, Connecticut has announced that the U. S. Civil Service Commission has set July 12th as the date for examination for candidates for Annapolis and West Point. The examinations will be held in the New Haven Post Office building starting at 9:30 A. M. building starting at 9:30 A. M. Army and Navy physicals shortly after that date.

Congressman Foote also announced that he is still receiving applications at his office, 128 Old House Office Building, Washington, D. C. Young men interested in applying should write to him at the above address without delay.

PROBLEMS

The disappointments of the school building committee are many. Despite hard work, over long hours, it appears that the major decision is far away. The problem when it is delivered, stands presented. The response, a mental note to be held with a type of problems which face our group can be found in the following editorial of the Waterbury American.

"Coincidental with announcement from Chicago that 108 million dollars worth of bonds have been issued in the United States by municipalities to finance the construction of new schools in Connecticut cities may soon face a crisis in the matter of financing high school pupils unless building programs are pressed. A building program is being carried out by the Connecticut Department of Education predicts that there will be an enrollment of 129,000 pupils in the secondary schools of the state by 1960. The current enrollment is about 86,000.

This forecast of the unusual situation now coming up in Connecticut would seem to call for immediate action on the part of the municipalities as well as the state itself. However, the big block on the highway to better schools is soaring building costs. The building industry, whatever the cause, has been virtually priced out of the market. Private capital shifts away from investing in huge amounts in building at this time. In Waterbury, where there is a tremendous demand for any size large apartment buildings, in many years, even municipalities, which by bond issues can stretch payment for school con-

THE SURVEY

A health service which should be of vital interest to every resident of Branford will be offered within the next 15 days. The Visiting Nurse Association sponsoring the Community X-ray Survey is pleased to have the State Public Health Commission has arranged to provide every person 15 years of age or older with a chest X-ray examination. This service has already been paid for by taxes and purchase of Christmas Seals.

Chest X-ray examination of industrial employees, selected general adult population in every residential area of Branford will be the value of the survey. X-ray examination of the adult population is used as a spotting device and is a practical means of detecting people who are in need of a more detailed medical investigation. Experience has shown that a chest X-ray will show the need of further medical study. Many different conditions other than tuberculosis may be found by X-ray examination, such as non-tuberculous infections of the lungs, various types of pleurisy, tumors, cancer and some forms of heart disease.

The success of the Branford X-ray program depends upon its citizens' participation since the benefits derived are in direct proportion to the number of adults examined.

WHAT NOTS

Just happened to think two wise cracks! Isn't there such a thing as a Sewage Disposal Utility? Branford could use one. Now if I had a couple of million.... Would it be pleasant to have a few more set aside as a trade school and call it the G. A. R. Hamer wing of the high school. Me and my bright ideas! Everywhere I think up something that smart it costs several thousand dollars. Probably the suggestion has been thoroughly digested by the school board before I get in my two cents worth.... My friend Fred Holmstrom in New York State for a week or so.... He gave centers about cops who were in their cars on busy street corners. Heck of a lot of good they do. Some drivers agree that traffic officers are never smoothly when cops sit in their cars and listen to the radio P. S. O. Capt. Anderson. I do not refer to your men. Particular incident was up state.... A survey predicts that Conn's high schools will have an enrollment of 129,000 pupils in 1960. Current enrollment is 86,000. "The Vigil" will host Memorial Day at picnic for Happden Hall.... Hear that! Grand Cabaret was super-duper.... See where Charlie Munnard and his gang were last Saturday night.... Worried about Memorial Day flowers.... His Bill sitting up late to see young people off to the prom in order to "see who I like best." At least one couple was late because of last minute difficulty in locating suspenders. Batted like a scavenger hunt, going house to house asking, "Please sir, do you own suspenders...." True Society meets Friday night.... Many of the high-schooler will will dine in local restaurants this summer.... Bob Trantamonta went into Naval Reserve.... Katherine Molinsky collected her cap in March at Hfd. Hospital Training Nurses School....

MARRIED VETS WORRIED OVER CAMPUS HOMES

Married veteran students about to enter campus life at the University of Connecticut at Storrs have embarked on a state wide publicity program to force adequate accommodations for their families.

The movement was started at Fort Trumbull on April 27 and has been broadened to include the Hartford and Waterbury branches. It has been estimated that over 650 men will be affected by the lack of housing at Storrs. If no solution is found many will be forced to drop out of college, the veterans insist.

A petition asking the state of Connecticut, civic and church leaders, and the administration of the University of Connecticut, Storrs, for some type of housing units there is currently being circulated about the state.

At least two students from Branford, Robert Poulton and Edward Munn, are affected by the situation.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the captain's daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Wheeler's boy last Saturday.

When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Jane really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement every evening, she was content to chat, bubble, and be a help.

"I could hardly say I have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want for marriage."

Joe Marsh

It's Leap Year, Girls!

I know it's unfair for older folk to shake their heads over the young people who are getting married on Leap Year. It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.

But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders. (In case of beer for instance) I was never in their temperance class.

Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

STEEL MEN PLAN AHEAD

Record breaking peacetime production is only part of steel's story. For the industry's contribution to our economy goes much deeper than that.

For instance: Steel wages are at record levels. Steel's record at a glance:

INCREASED CAPACITY - PEAK PRODUCTION

RECORD USES - HIGH WAGES - BELOW AVERAGE PROFITS

The 56th General Meeting of American Iron and Steel Institute is being held this week in New York City. It is an occasion upon which steel men meet to discuss major problems of mutual interest... growing steel capacity, supplies of raw materials and technical research.

Today's research goes deep into the secrets of the iron atom. It embraces every product the industry makes. It is carried on inside and outside the industry with the cooperation of research organizations, technical schools, colleges and universities all over the country.

A complete list of the problems for which the steel industry is seeking answers would run into the thousands. But there is a large handful of projects that are currently under way: Testing behavior of steel at below zero... searching for ways to eliminate dependence on imports... use of oxygen to make more steel in existing facilities... testing locomotive axles, railroad rails to provide even better, even safer transportation....

It all adds up in the long run to better steel, or better ways to use steel products, or a way to produce more steel with present equipment.

It adds up to progress in steel for the benefit of all.

AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

There are more than 22 member companies of the Institute with plants in 166 American communities. They produce 95 percent of the country's steel.

Blackstone Museum Houses Treasures

An ancient map of Fairland is one of the treasures housed in the Blackstone Museum.

It is true that the contents of the rooms are not as many as in pre-war days but there are interesting shells, coral and other objects from the sea.

Feltwood from Arizona, tagged as loaned by Walter Boynton Andrew Grant loaned snake skins found on Salmonfall Ridge.

Of more feminine interest is pink lustre china, owned by Polly Beach, wife of William Beach (born in Branford May 25, 1816, and loaned by Mrs. Osborn E. Horton, State Tercentenary material includes plates. Many are the shells found at Stony Creek.

But the most generous display are those of Indian days, point and arrowheads discovered in about all the gardens in town. There are fossils and perforators and many many reminders of the red skin nations who once enjoyed summer seasons along Branford's Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sudac of 37 Elm Street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Thursday, Mrs. Sudac is the former Hazel Reed.

Your Health

EMOTIONAL DISTURBANCES

Doctors of medicine are finding that they must pay increasing attention to the emotional disturbances of children as well as their usual problems of physical growth and development. These emotional troubles can result in imagined or even real, physical disorders.

There is evidence to suggest that many of the behavior problems among children are caused by emotional disturbances which they do not "grow out of." Instead, they become more difficult problems for themselves, their families, and society in general.

Doctors estimate that one-third of all children under five have problems of sleeping, eating, elimination, or exhibit general tantrums which lay the groundwork for trouble in adult life.

One of the more important causes for these emotional disorders is anxiety. This unpleasant feeling usually develops when the child is not sure of his relationships to those on whom he is dependent. This sense of anxiety may even be transmitted to the child by parents who are the "worried type." It may be the result of an unfortunate experience in the home or an inability to complete with children of the same age inside or outside the home.

If the anxiety is prolonged and keeps building up so that it becomes overwhelming in the child, he may seek relief in several ways: through temper tantrums, by being destructive to property, or he may withdraw within himself, becoming shy and inhibited. Symptoms of physical illness also may develop.

It is difficult to realize the relative importance of emotional disturbances in physical disorders among children. However, the patient understanding of the family doctor often brings to light any emotional factors that, along with physical disorders, may be causing childhood behavior problems.

STONY CREEK FOLK NAMED CANVASSERS

Urgent Appeal For Drivers By Red Cross

An urgent appeal for Red Cross Motor Service volunteer drivers was directed to East Haven women yesterday by Mrs. William H. Boylan, chairman of the Service, who said that at least 20 recruits are needed immediately to carry on the extensive transportation program needed in New Haven and vicinity.

"The demand for our services has far outstripped our present number of volunteer drivers," Mrs. Boylan revealed.

The majority of calls for Red Cross Motor Service come from New Haven clinics. Through a cooperative arrangement between the medical centers and Red Cross, transportation is provided for patients in need of it.

Mrs. Boylan stressed the special need for women who could fill morning and afternoon vacancies on weekly children to clinics.

In addition to "providing clinic service, volunteer drivers make regular trips to and from Newington Veterans Hospital, perform transportation jobs required by other departments of the Red Cross, and provide transportation for needy children to clinics from beaches and summer camps.

Women of all ages are active in Motor Service, most of them serving on a regular schedule of less than a full day a week.

Volunteers may enroll in Motor Service by telephoning Red Cross headquarters, New Haven, 7-3383. Red Cross gives the recruits free training in first aid and motor mechanics to equip them for their new duties.

As Mr. Brinley Sees It

"In the time of roses", Jerusalem, and Martha coming to meet Him, said, "If thou hadst been here, my Brother, had not Nature, is arising from the dead, Her long sleep is ended. Her new life is begun, atress. She felt asleep in the fall of the year is gone, and in silence, and death like calm, She laid herself down on Her cold deathlike slumber, but now Her God, the Sun, calls to Her, and says, "Arise, come forth, in all thy new garments of Spring and spread thy beauty over the whole world earth." The time of roses has come. The bodies which once were clothed upon, are withered and decayed, rolled away, they are no more, but still she blossoms out in glorious beauty. Her new garments like the old, but full of new vigor, new life. Her restoration from the dead is before our eyes. Her fragrance fills the balmy air. The sound of her cleads, is with us by night and by day. Her restoration from the "Tomb" of winter has come, no more is she bound by the Chains of Ice and Snow, for Her Sun, has chased Her enemies away, and She arises from her dead hopes of yesterday. She is clothed once more with new everlasting life, abundant life, life from the dead. And also, Lazarus died, they buried Him in a tomb, and sealed the mouth of the tomb with a great stone, and He was dead Four days, and Jesus came from Galilee, to see Martha and Mary, at their home in Bethany, just outside of

Annual Meeting Of Cost Accountants

The New Haven Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, May 19th, at the Seven Gables Town House, New Haven. The annual meeting is always a special occasion in that the new officers and directors for the coming year are chosen, and as an added attraction, a panel discussion on accounting problems was conducted by members of the association.

George W. Childs, Jr. C. P. A. and partner of the firm of Seward & Monds, was the leader of the panel, which consisted of the following members: August A. DeBarcl, Jr., of the New Haven Y. M. C. A. Junior College, and Finance Commissioner of the Town of Milford, Leonard W. Smith of the Rockbestos Products Corp., W. Kenton Gardner of Seward & Monds, and Robert J. Williams of R. Wallace & Sons Manufacturing Co. All the panel members are well known and well versed in the fields of accountancy, and the discussion subject, "Pure, plain, practical Panel Discussion of Any and All Kinds of Accounting Matters," proved to be highly interesting and instructive.

The surprise of the evening was the presentation of a gavel to the past president of the chapter by Mr. Warren J. Faust of Bridgeport, who is nominee for National Vice President of N. A. C. A. Arrangements for the evening were under the direction of Donald R. Thompson of Hotelkiss Grove.

5. Fit right. Be sure you have the proper size of shoe, the proper last of shoe, and the proper size of sock or stocking (half inch longer than the longest toe).

6. Exercise. Lumber up your feet at intervals, they have muscles too, remember. Wiggle your toes.

7. Clean. Don't needlessly get your feet wet and don't let them stay wet from perspiration.

9. Don't neglect. Examine your own and your children's feet at intervals.

R. H. Knowlton Announces New Construction

Work has begun for the installation of a new, 80,000 kilowatt generating unit at the Connecticut Light and Power Company's Devon steam plant. It was announced today by R. H. Knowlton, president of the company.

When it is put into operation in 1950, the new unit will be the largest and, it is believed, the most efficient steam generating unit operating in the state. Following installation of this new unit, the company plans to continue its extensive program of plant modernization by replacing a 25,000 kilowatt generator now in operation at the Devon plant with a 60,000 kw unit equipped with a steam turbine.

The new unit will be supplied steam from a 600,000 pounds per hour generator located at the north end of the plant and will operate at a steam pressure of 1,250 pounds per square inch with a final steam temperature of 950 degrees Fahrenheit.

As a provision for future expansion, The Connecticut Light and Power Company has joined the Hartford Electric Light Company and the Connecticut Power Company in purchasing a site for a generating plant at Waterford, Connecticut, on Long Island Sound. No construction on the site is contemplated at this time, however.

The Connecticut Light and Power Company's extensive program for adding to its electric generating and transmission facilities is part of a huge project being undertaken by electric companies throughout New England to add about 834,000 kilowatts of generating capacity to New England's power supplies during the next five years.

VETERAN NEWS

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of five articles outlining benefits for dependents of deceased veterans.

Under certain conditions, the Veterans Administration will pay for burial of veterans who died in service, or will reimburse private burial expenses up to $150.

The VA will pay for the burial of veterans who died in a VA hospital or home or who were being treated at government expense in a private hospital, or who died in transit to or from a VA hospital or regional office at the expense of the VA.

Veterans who die under the above conditions will be buried by a Government contract undertaker and burial will be in a veterans or national cemetery. If, however, his dependents prefer that the veteran be buried in a private cemetery by a private undertaker, the VA will reimburse private burial expenses up to $150, plus certain transportation expenses.

The VA will reimburse private burial expenses up to $150 for all veterans who have had no service, providing they were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. The VA will provide the same allowance for burial of veterans who had no war-time service, but who were receiving compensation for service-connected disabilities.

Application for burial allowances should be made at any VA office within two years from the death of a veteran.

A flag of the United States with which to drape the casket of a deceased veteran and to be kept by the next of kin will be furnished, upon application, to any county post office, other post offices designated by the VA, or at any VA office.

The War Department, Office of the Quartermaster General, furnishes headstones for graves of honorably discharged veterans. Application forms may be sent to Quartermaster General, Memorial Division, Washington, D. C., or at any VA field office.

Next Week: Government Insurance for dependents of deceased veterans.

FREDERIC C. STEVENS
The death of Frederic C. Stevens occurred on Sunday morning at his late home on Main Street. Mr. Stevens was born in Guilford on July 27, 1861, the son of James Sylvester Stevens and Mary Jane Dunham. The family settled in Guilford in 1828, and he was a direct descendant of Governor Leete of Guilford on the maternal side of the family and also one of Richard the Lion-Hearted's Crusaders.
Mr. Stevens lived in North Branford for the past forty-five years. At one time he was a member of the School Board for a period of years, and had long been a member of the Ecclesiastical Society of the North Branford Congregational Church. His fraternal connections included the Masons, Odd Fellows, and Grange. He was always interested in church, civic, and educational affairs, and had the deep respect and friendship of the community. His circle of friends spread through many of the Shore Line communities. He was one of North Branford's oldest citizens.
The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from his late home on Main Street, by the Rev. B. C. Trent, pastor of the North Branford Congregational Church officiating. Burial followed in the Bare Plain Cemetery. Bearers included four of his grandsons, Alden Stevens Hill, Forest Raymond Hill, Paul Edmund hereof, for the creditors of said estate to exhibit their claims for settlement. Those who neglect to present their accounts properly attested, within the time herein prescribed, will be deemed a reconcealment. ### NEW VISITING HOURS

New visiting rules which will limit a patient to two visitors at a time have gone into effect at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Newington on May 7. Hitherto, there was no limit on the number of visitors a patient could have at one time. Dr. Lewis J. Beardsley, manager, explained, with the result that wards at times were overcrowded and patients unduly disturbed.

Hospital visiting hours are: daily, 1:45 p. m. to 3:45 p. m.; Wednesday evenings, 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

TOUGH GUY

BY BILL AHERN

Once upon a time, a gaunt, bearded man with great love in his heart; with great faith in his fellow man, took four score and seven years and made them ageless with a simple oration.

Nearly eighty years later, one December 7th, a youth was playing football on the striped surface of the Hammer Field gridiron. He was the driver of not a particularly great team. He was the quarterback of the Branford Rams. His name was Jimmy, a common, simple handle which might be the name of your boy.

It was a good game but of a sudden it was no longer important who won. The fans were in little groups, many of them huddled about portable radios, listening for fearful news. You see, it was December 7, 1941 and the members of Congress were already hurrying to the capitol and the president's cabinet was already in session and in the Hawaiian Islands, Jimmy's former teammate, Billy, was rising out of a ditch, calling for his squad which had been wiped out in a whirlwind sneak attack on U. S. territory.

Words were of no use at halftime because in everybody's heart was the realization that football as a game—with the same companions—was a thing of the past.

In the final half the Branford game was marked by brilliant defensive play; holding action; with pot-bellied veterans rising out of the limbo of former headlines, to hold inviolate the last white stripe. The signal caller, whose hoarse voice railed his mates had one cry, "Come on, guys, we're tougher than they are."

The game slipped into history, its score forgotten. A few weeks later, Jimmy stepped into town, and announced that he had joined the army. Not just a regular foot soldier, he said, but a paratrooper.

There were many capricious days thereafter and off the record—a few sad ones, before he went into his preliminary training. With that pent-up emotion so peculiar to Jimmy Barba he wanted to get started on the toughest job in the army.

A few months later, he was back in his home town; a swaggering boastful chap, who could take the toughest things that the army had to offer.

In Branford, nine months later, he was a subdued man who had suddenly realized all the army had to offer and was frightened by his knowledge.

To his friends here, he told of the difficult feats which he and his mates had to perform—deeds which taxed all a man's strength and thinking ability! Double time marches; parachute jumps; judo tricks; knife fighting; long weary overnight hikes with nothing to eat but a piece of chocolate; and many more terrible tests of war.

The lad had dropped his weight from 190 down to 145 as rigorously as a fighter trains down to fighting weight. And like a boxer he showed an increasingly nervous desire to get going.

For another year, he was educated along these lines although on his next trip home, he confided, that he had put on the weight again and was not going across until his unit assimilated the finer points of aerial attack.

It struck one with sudden thought that the army was training these men, not unlike boxers. In the pink of condition, they were a lean, hungry lot, snarling and scrapping—if not with themselves then with all who dared to oppose them—friend or enemy. When not being readied for immediate warfare, they were allowed to grow fat and a bit indolent.

For long months, he was tantalized with the knowledge that he could kill a man with his bare hands quicker than most people will ever know.

Again he came home. Again he was stripped down to fighting weight. He was going over this time, he said.

And in a few months he was in England.

On Memorial Day, 1944, on the Branford Green, Attorney Frank J. Kinney was reciting the Gettysburg Address . . . "a new nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

On that same day in Flanders Fields, many, many hearts prayed for liberation from the bondage of slavery that they might enjoy equality.

In England, Jimmy stepped on a scale, and noticed his weight again dropping. He needed no announcement that something big was about to break for didn't his officers always train him into condition?

Then suddenly it was June. He was over the channel with several buddies. This time he was playing for keeps.

One, two, wild nights of hunting and being hunted . . . then no further news . . . then a War Department telegram to Mrs. Barba. It was over for Jim. With the same call, "Come on, guys, we're tougher than they are", he pulled his greatest sacrifice block and wiped out a road detail of the enemy before a sniper's bullet erased his life. He had given his "last full measure of devotion."

The story has a parallel in the service lives of all . . . brave men, living and dead, who fought in the last war; or any other war.

The Gettysburg Address is a creed. In sports, as in life, the important thing is belief; in yourself . . . in your teammates . . . in your government. Impending clouds will vanish. If hundreds of thousands of Jimmies have, . . . not died in vain" then . . . this nation, under God, will have a new birth of freedom. The government of the people, by the people, for the people, will not perish from the earth."

Paul Birbarie Among Racers In Marathon

Paul Birbarie's entry has been received for the Albany-New York Marathon to be run down the Hudson, Sunday June 13. Paul is another veteran of this course. In 1941 he came down the river in a Midgett Class boat and will go down in the records as being the first and only driver of that class to complete the long grind down the river. Under the new regulations only stock displacement boats are eligible to compete in the race. This year he is driving a Trojan boat, numbered U 15 and named Lady Anne, powered by a Johnson motor. He is entered in Class IV.

Three Branford drivers have entered the race now and including Birbarie they are Harry Johnson and Al Anderson.

The finish this year has been changed down the river from Dykman Street to 72nd Street. While it will work a hardship on the drivers, as it makes the course a mile longer and the river will be more congested down there, it will afford the spectators a better opportunity to witness the finish.

Irish Scappers Feature Coming Boxing Program

Co-feature eight round bouts will top a boxing show to be held at the New Haven Arena on Monday, June 7, it has been announced by matchmaker George Sheppard. Jimmy Rooney of Bridgeport and Tommy Collins of Boston have been signed for a featherweight match and Vic Cardell, a welterweight from Hartford, will meet Fred Addeo of New York in the other eight rounder.

The program marks the return of indoor boxing to the New Haven scene after a month's absence during the run of a circus and restaurant show and also brings together two of the top featherweights to have appeared in the Arena in the past few months.

Cardell's undefeated record will be put on the line in the companion eight spot against Addeo, who in his only other appearance in the Elm City notched a win over Pedro Ortega.

Since the show is still ten days away, the rest of the undercard has not been determined as yet, although present plans call for a six rounder and three four's to augment the feature bouts.

Red Sanzero To Help Kids In Baseball

Another great college catcher, Robert "Red" Sanzero, at one time a top receiver at Georgetown University during his college days, this week signed to assist the Branford Review's baseball school which is slated to start on Saturday, June 19, at Hammer Field. The school will be open to boys between the ages of 10 to 14 years and will be run by competent instructors who hope to bring the brightness of Branford's baseball sun out of the clouds of indifference to its own spot in the mid-day of competition.

The plan at this stage will allow for three instructors, all more than proficient players in their day, be at the field on one day to assist the pitchers, the catchers and the infielders and outfielders in hitting, throwing and general instruction.

Later in the summer, in August, the youths will oppose a group of East Haven players in the same age limit, in a series of games to determine an inter-town champion.

Commander George Hansen, of the Corcoran-Sundquist Post, No. 83, intimated this week that in all probability the local ex-servicemen would sponsor their entry in the Junior American Legion program in another year if this season's groundwork should prove successful.

George Fair, Klinky Klarman, Stuart and Bill Clancy, Dave Hy-lonski, Charlie Jones are among the teachers who will divide their time to aid the youngsters.

Sea Scouters To March For Former Mates

The Branford Sea Scouts of the S. S. Flying Cloud are preparing to enter the Memorial Day Parade to pay their respects to two former Sea Scouters, William Pardee and Austin Ryer, who gave their lives for their Country.

Rainy weather has held up the progress on their boat and is delaying the launching, but under the supervision of Mates Bob Trapp and Johnny Tyler it is hoped to get it overboard within the next week. They hope to be able to attend the Yacht Club opening on Sunday June 6th where they have charge of the Flag Raising Ceremonies.

The new charter has been received for the coming year and it is expected that the Corcoran Sundquist Post of the American Legion, sponsors of the ship, will have a formal presentation soon.

Elm City Nine Beats Croats

The high flying C. F. U. softball team took a nose dive at New Haven on Wednesday night when the Shop of Jenkins took advantage of Prahovic's wildness and beat the local combine, 8 to 5.

Both the Branford hurler and Carbone gave up six hits, but a four run third inning gave the home team a lead which it never relinquished.

Walter Tamulevich, with a double, and Tallemelli, with a triple, provided the long range gunning at

Sportsmen Top Westville Spa In Run Spree

A potent batting punch coupled with Tex Black's masterful pitching enabled the Branford Sportsmen to pound out a convincing 13 to 1 win over the power laden Westville Spa unit in a seven inning soft ball contest last Monday night, at Hammer Field.

The victory was not without its cost, however, since manager Buck Torello lost the services of his veteran left fielder, Will Panaroni, who was injured about the ankle and instead of his right foot while sliding home in the fourth inning.

Pop Duell led all batters with a neat four for five although Willie Proto, Panaroni and Mickey Torello each garnered a pair of hits off the assorted slants of Sykes, Gamberdella and Acquarillo. The invaders could nail the tobacco chewing Tex for a scant five stipples.

On Friday night in New Haven, the Sportsmen will meet Happy's Grille of the Elm City in a return match. The home club won the initial encounter at Hammer Field a week ago by 7 to 5 count.

Branford Edges East Haven Reds In Ninth, 3-2

Last Sunday afternoon in a loosely played contest on Hammer Field the East Haven Reds dropped a close decision to the Branford nine, 3-2. Branford jumped off to an early lead through walks by the East Haven pitchers and a costly error. Leading 2-0 going into the seventh, the Branfordians loaded the bases with one out, but the rally was squelched by a snappy double-play, Casanova to Albano to Tarbell. The Reds tied up the game with single runs in the seventh and eighth, but Mel Bigelow dropped a looping single into left field to drive in the deciding counter for Branford in the last of the ninth. Bigelow was the winning pitcher with Bob Tregeoning taking the loss. Paul Albano and Frank Tarbell led the East Haven hitters, garnering two hits apiece.

This Sunday the Reds will inaugurate their play at Donovan Field, Savin Rock, plying the first game of a double header against the Hamden Townies. The Edgewood Boosters, last year's champions in the New Haven League, will face off against the Hamden Plains team in the nightcap. The members of the Reds are requested to call Manager Jack Breton at 4-3783 for information as to game time.

Townies Receive Stunning Reverse

The Branford Townies, newly organized baseball team, received a big setback last Tuesday night when its application to enter the Greater New Haven League was turned down because a ninth team would throw the circuit in an unbalanced loop.

The local array wants desperately to play ball and has an eagle though Williams with a perfect three for three featured the attack. C. F. U. 1 1 1 0 0 2 0 5 6 2
