Gift To Glaucoma Victim

This giant Erector set and toy was recently presented as a gift to Dennis Bruno, three-year-old victim of glaucoma, when he visited the A. C. Gilbert Company in New Haven. The youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Andreoli, of 72 Charter Oak Ave. Shown with him are First Selectman Frank Clancy, Warren Hull of the "Strike It Rich" television program, and A. C. Gilbert, Jr. A photograph of the local youngster was flashed over a nation-wide hook-up of the program by Mr. Hull. The child was saved from the threat of total blindness by surgery made possible by contributions from friends.

Will Ask Yedlin Co. To Post Bond For New Housing

A $25,000 bond will be requested of the Yedlin Construction Company for "Section G"—a 59-home development between Iligh Ridge and Maplevale—in accordance with the recommendations of Town Engineer Robert Decker.

First Selectman Frank Clancy said yesterday that he would "definitely go along with Decker's recommendation." The town engineer stated last week that the granting of letters of acceptance to contractors should be coupled with the posting of a bond with the Town until a town meeting accepted the roads. The bond would serve as a guarantee of proper road construction.

Mr. Clancy said also that a request by Nick Tinari for a letter of acceptance for a newly built section of McKinley Ave. would be granted if he posted a bond of $25,000 or $30,000. "I think that's the only way I will give any letter from now on," said Mr. Clancy, meaning that he will require the posting of an adequate bond.

The first selectman said that he would stick to his previously announced policy of not granting letters of acceptance until the Town had a guarantee that roads and other related improvements were correctly built.

Seepage Tests By Fee Considered By Zoning Board

A review of sub-division regulations together with a proposed plan to require sanitation inspection of all building sites before they are approved by Town agencies may take place at next Wednesday's meeting of the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Jerome Grady, chairman of the commission, said these things will be taken up if the agenda is short.

The chairman said that under the considered plan, a fee would be charged by the health officer to conduct a sanitary inspection of a building site. The health officer would make seepage tests and conduct an inspection of building sites before the Planning and Zoning Commission or the Building Inspector acted on applications for approval of subdivision maps or for building permits. Such a plan has been recommended by Robert Decker, town engineer.

Charles Miller and James Malone were assigned as a subcommittee to draw up subdivision regulations governing such inspections.

Town Oiling Roads

Four roads were oiled by the Town highway department this week. They are William St., Myrtle Ave., Oregon Ave. and Hartman St. in Momaugula.

Next week roads will be oiled in the Foxon area.

Helm Of NEWS To Change Hands; Fenton New Editor

Effective Friday, May 27, the editorship of the NEWS will undergo a change. Frank J. Fenton, recently a staff member of the New Haven Register will succeed Jonathan Czar as editor.

Mr. Czar, who has served as editor of the NEWS since August of 1952, is resigning. He plans to attend the summer session at the University of Connecticut.

Mr. Fenton, the new editor, is a native of Connecticut. Born in Westport, he was raised in Fairfield. Entering the Service upon his graduation from Roger Ludlow High School, he served in the Air Force at Clark Field, Philippines.

Captured in the fall of Bataan, in 1942, Mr. Fenton was recovered by the American Military Personnel, one month after the cessation of hostilities with Japan.

New Pastor For St. Clare's Church

The Rev. William J. Leary, chaplain at St. Mary's Hospital, Waterbury, has been appointed pastor of St. Clare's Church, East Haven. It was announced today, by the Most Rev. Henry J. O'Brien, Archbishop of Hartford.

This is Father Leary's first pastoral appointment. Ordained in 1936, after attending St. Thomas Seminary in Hartford and St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore, Md., Father Leary, who is a native of Assonet, has previously served at St. Francis Church, New Haven; Immaculate Conception Church, Hartford and St. Mary's Church, Derby. He was appointed hospital chaplain in 1952.

Father Leary succeeds the late Rev. John O'Donnell.

Victor La Paugh Dies; Victim Of Heart Attack

Victor La Paugh, custodian at the Gillis School since it was built, died this morning while on duty at the school. He was the victim of a heart attack.

Mr. La Paugh, who was 51 years old, was discovered by a neighbor. A respirator crew was summoned but was without avail. The school custodian was an official in the local custodian's union.

He is survived by his wife, the former Winifred Tipping, two children and several grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Beecher & Bennett Funeral Home, 100 Broadway, New Haven. Burial will be in East Lawn cemetery.

Stone Church Pastor Arrives Here June 15th

The new pastor of Our Stone Church, Dr. Edward Hiecock of Minneapolis, Minn., and his wife, are expected to arrive in East Haven on or about June 15, according to a bulletin issued by the church this week.

Dr. Hiecock, who is at present associated with the Mayflower Congregational Church in Minneapolis, will take over his duties as pastor of the local Congregational Church on July 15, and is expected to make his first address from the pulpit on July 17. Members of the congregation are requested to visit Dr. and Mrs. Hiecock at the parsonage during this period prior to duties.

Dr. Hiecock, a native of Connecticut, has been associated with the Minneapolis church for the past two years. Prior to that he was associated with churches in Hartford and Chelsea, Mass. Hiecock move to East Haven, is (Continued On Page Eight)

Barker Is Nominee Of GOP Again, And Again And Again

In Out?

In Second Place

John Vestuti, newly-chosen GOP nominee, poses at the till in his market on Hemingway Ave. A new-comer to local politics he is 33 years old.

Insiders See Anastasio In Political Trouble

For the fourth straight time in his political career, Selectman Frank Barker walked out of a town committee meeting on Tuesday night with the Republican nomination for first selectman clutched firmly and safely in his hand.

Not only did the former first selectman win the nomination in a showdown vote in which he pulled a surprising 27 votes against 24 for his rival, George McManus, but he came away with the unanimous endorsement of the town committee.

Town Chairman Mathew Anastasio stressed the unanimous endorsement in a brief report to reporters and pledged that the party organization would work together for victory next fall.

It was a largely unexpected victory for Mr. Barker; although he, himself, had exuded confidence all during his campaign for the nomination like another Harry Truman.

But insiders were casting another interpretation: The nomination represented a serious blow against the political prestige of Town Chairman Anastasio. It was no secret that the "little" political leader, who twice before had championed Mr. Barker's candidacy, this time was cool to the selectman and had resisted him all along the way.

The scrappy little town chairman is now in real trouble, insiders reported. And predictions were rife that he will have to fight for his political life or withdraw as gracefully as the situation will permit to avoid being tossed out as chairman next month, although his two-year term does not end until next April.

Had withdrawal Tuesday night's meeting was preceded by one startling development. That was the announced withdrawal of Harold Hall as a rival candidate for first selectman. Mr. Hall had just announced his candidacy on the previous Wednesday.

Also, prior to the town committee meeting, Herman Hackbarth, former tax collector and another declared candidate for first selectman, also withdrew his name, leaving only two in the field: Mr. Barker and Mr. McManus.

Usually reliable sources claimed that Mr. Hall, Mr. McManus and Mr. Hackbarth had been called into a special meeting Friday and it was concluded that only one could remain in the race with hopes of winning.

Insiders claim that the town chairman was certain he had 30 or 31 anti-Barker votes "in his pocket" when he asked the executive committee to recommend to the town committee that it grant Mr. Barker's written request to have nominations acted upon at Tuesday's meeting.

The executive committee so recommended by unanimous vote. And the matter of nominations, tabled until June at the April meeting was re-opened for action. The ballot revealed a shift of votes which clinched the nomination for Mr. Barker.

Upset Three Factions The nomination represented Mr. Barker's victory over three other factions within the party. These were Mr. Anastasio's, Probate Judge Edward Reynolds' and former First Selectman Jim Sullivan's. It appeared that the three had settled on Mr. McManus who has been identified with Mr. Sullivan's group.

It was reported that Mr. Anastasio, himself, has attempted to remain neutral with regard to the choice of a candidate despite his antipathy for Mr. Barker's candidacy.

Insiders claimed that the shift of strength to Mr. Barker was the result of mounting criticism against Mr. Anastasio as town chairman.

At the same time, Mr. Barker was credited with staving off possible defeat at a future meeting.

DCB Lays It On - Sewer - Line For Early Decision

Only ten members of the 31-man citizens advisory committee of the Redevelopment Agency showed up at a meeting Tuesday night at the behest of Chairman Peter Orlando. But, D. Charles Beausoleil, director of the Agency, didn't spare the pep talk.

Well, it wasn't exactly a pep talk. There was plenty of talk, all right, but Mr. Beausoleil wasn't feeling peppy. In fact, he was downright unhappy about the small turnout and said so.

This sort of thing, Mr. Beausoleil seemed to feel, was symptomatic of East Haven's failure to plan for sewers, for industry or for anything that would permit it to grow in an orderly way. He got a number of other things off his chest, too.

At any rate, said Mr. Beausoleil, interested persons will see that the whole issue of sewers is put up for a town meeting to settle once and for all. "We're not going to wait until after election time," he declared.

Want Meeting June 10 The advisory committee decided that it would ask the Sanitation Committee to present its report to a town meeting on June 10. Prior to that time the Sanitation Committee plans to hold three more public hearings to acquaint residents with their plans. One such hearing was held Monday at Riverside.

The advisory committee, after hearing a brief talk by Jerome Grady, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission, also voted to recommend to the Commission that it seek additional funds to continue work on the Town plan.

On Wednesday First Selectman Frank Clancy informed Mr. Beausoleil that he could meet with the Board of Finance on Tuesday to sound out that board on its feelings regarding a million dollar sewer bond issue.

Mr. Clancy also indicated that the matter of obtaining more funds for the town plan could be taken up at that time with the board. He appeared dubious that funds could be found in this year's budget for such purposes.

Cites Average Cost At Tuesday's meeting, Mr. Beausoleil reported that the average cost of sewers would amount to about $12.50 a front foot, but said that property-owners would be assessed on a formula which took in property value as well as front footage to secure a more equitable sharing of the costs of sewers.

Mr. Grady told the committee that East Haven should have provided for a town plan long ago. However, he believed that the tax rate itself would serve to discourage future building of homes and that the "building boom in East Haven may be over."

He favored the continuance of work on the Town plan and agreed that it was inadequate if not kept up.

Airs Grips Among the grips aired by Mr. Beausoleil was the claim that the Town health officer and the building inspector were patching up complaints over sanitation problems instead of referring them to the Sewer Commission.

Instead of revealing the need for corrective measures, he said, they were tolerating conditions which needed correction. On this heated claim he distributed photographs of areas polluted by faulty sanitation facilities.

East Haven, said Mr. Beausoleil, was the largest town in the state without sewers. For this reason, he said, it was under the surveillance of the state Health Department and in danger of being compelled, in the future, to correct the situation.

Town Will Honor War Dead Monday

East Haven will observe Memorial Day, Monday, as school children, citizens and veterans from three wars will parade in honor of America's deceased veterans of all wars dating back to 1776.

Highlight of the ceremonies will be the speech of Major Chester Germondson, U.S. Air Force officer stationed at Mitchell Field, N. Y. Major Germondson will speak at the services conducted on the Town Green following the parade. These services will be conducted from the new grandstand, recently installed on the Green by the Harry Bartlett American Legion Post 89.

Among those who will take part in organizing the annual parade are: First Lt. John T. Finkle, Jr., grand marshal; Dr. Edward L. Cioffi, chief of staff to the grand marshal; Joseph McIllo, in charge of all elementary school marchers, from fourth to seventh grades; Nathan Andrews, in charge of flag-raising ceremonies; Fred Shippee, in charge of decorating the Town Hall.

Also, Salvatore Paelco, in charge of transportation; Dominic Ferraro, in charge of seating arrangements; Walter Woods, Frank Wells and Thomas McMahon, parade judges; McMahon is also in charge of grave decorations; John Camp, memorial church services, and Mrs. Mary L. Cameron, post activities.

Mr. McMahon requests that all members of the Harry S. Bartlett Post who are available, assemble at the East Lawn Cemetery at 8 a.m. Saturday.

H. S. Honor Pupils Get National Award

Two seniors and six juniors were installed as members of the National Honor Society, at ceremonies held in the high school auditorium this morning. Carl Garvin, principal, made the awards.

Those who received this highest award granted annually to honor students in high schools throughout the nation were:

Seniors: Theresa Cricchi and William Webster.

Juniors: Patricia Barry, William Blatchley, James Grignano, Nancy Harrington, Frances Quinlan and Frances Scarpace.

Sale Of Wolfe Food Store Building Is In The Works

Negotiations are in process for the sale of the Wolfe Quality Foods Store at 295 Main St. to Marvin Gold, New Haven attorney. The sale price was not disclosed.

Fred Wolfe, Jr., said that the transfer had not been completed and was awaiting a report by title searchers. The transaction is being handled by Clark, Hall & Peck, realtors of New Haven.

The building includes the Kelley Food Stores and the large parking lot at the rear.

Walsh Hopes For Early Meeting With Finance Bd.

An early meeting will be sought with the Board of Finance to set a date for a town meeting to approve enough money to finance the preparation of preliminary plans for the junior high school.

Francis Walsh, chairman of the Board of Education, said he hoped to be able to announce a date for the meeting to the school board this Friday.

This indicated that an early completion of general curriculum requirements by the superintendent of schools was expected. The school board is awaiting this report before settling forth in detail the type of building on which it will seek to get estimates.

The wishes of the school board will be transmitted to an architect who will draw up general plans for a building. These plans will be submitted to reputable contractors for bids.

On the basis of these figures, the choice of whether or not to build a junior high will be put to the public in a referendum.

Board To Meet Early The Board of Education will meet at 7 p.m. on Friday—one hour earlier than its usual starting time. The reason is that Chairman Walsh and other members have been invited to attend the High School Junior Prom to be held at 9 o'clock at the Woodbridge Country Club.

Erosion Committee

The five-man Erosion Committee appointed by the first selectman, will hold its first meeting on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in the Town Hall.

New Schools To Be Dedicated In June

Tentative dates have been set for the dedication of the two new schools and addition. A joint committee headed by George Letts, chairman of the Elementary School Building Committee, and Francis Walsh, chairman of the Board of Education, set the dates at a meeting Monday evening.

The Momaugula School addition, composed of three rooms and an all purpose room, will be dedicated in ceremonies on Saturday afternoon, June 11, at 3 o'clock.

On the following Sunday the new Overbrook School will be dedicated in ceremonies which open at two p.m. At four o'clock the same afternoon the Deer Run School will be dedicated.

Town officials have been invited to participate and an invitation has been extended to the State Department of Education to send a representative. Members of the Board of Education and the building committee will officiate.

Other members of the joint committee are Bernard Liongo, secretary of the school board, and Alfred J. Loeb, a member of the building committee.

Town Hall, Stores Closing Monday For Memorial Holiday

Offices in the Town Hall will be closed along with other public buildings and stores in observance of Memorial Day.

The holiday will be observed by the schools and by the Hagaman Memorial Library.

report to Branford...

by
REP. LUCY T. HAMMER

One of the most important bills to come before the General Assembly this session (some call it the most important) is the State Aid for education formula which provides for a substantial increase in grants from the State to the towns and cities towards running their educational systems.

It is important because it is an answer to the urgent need in many towns and cities for help in carrying the financial burden which has come with increasing education costs.

Everyone knows that since World War II, and through the Korean conflict, the population has increased at a phenomenal rate, and the school enrollment accordingly. Education costs now account for a large percentage of the budget of every town in the State. Some of the towns are in desperate straits - actually building of small homes, with several children in each, and on a small tax contribution from each, has given rise to a critical financial situation.

The new bill is designed to help out in this problem. It calls for an increase in State Aid of $8 million dollars for the biennium, and brings up the average grant per pupil to approximately $53. (At present, State Aid runs to about $40 per pupil.)

To answer the first question that brings to our minds, Branford would receive about $157,000 for the year 1955-56, as compared with approximately $150,000 which would receive under the present formula.

Under the new plan, grants would be allocated according to this formula: $120 for each of the first 100 pupils in every city and town; $110 for the second 100 pupils; and so on up to $55 after which each pupil receives $55.

Under the present program which has to be effectuated in 1957, the amount of aid per pupil is allocated according to the size of the town - different amounts for towns in different size categories. This has resulted in very unfair distribution against the larger towns and cities which received as low as $17 per pupil while the smallest towns received as much as $174 per pupil.

The new formula takes a long stride towards correcting this inequity. Although there still is a gap between the per pupil grant in the largest city and the smallest town, the gap has been narrowed down. Perhaps the best thing about this new formula (except for the financial aid it brings to the towns of Connecticut) is that all towns and cities are treated on the same basis, and that it tends to ease the further equalization in the future.

Everyone, of course, wants to know where the money is coming from to finance this plan for educational aid. The question asked is "won't it call for increased taxes?" The answer is "no," according to GOP leaders, and "yes," according to the Governor's plan. This budget allocates about seven million dollars for this purpose for an increase of $10 per pupil, plus there are other sources which has recommended, some sort of an increased tax would be necessary.

However, GOP leaders who are sponsoring the bill see things differently. They have in mind a different budget, in which they would make certain changes which would provide the money for this additional aid without additional taxation. For one thing, they would not adopt the Governor's Free Care plan for patients in State institutions, but instead, their own so-called Fair Care bill; in other words, a plan making moderate payment from families of patients. This plan would then make available upwards of five million dollars which could be used elsewhere in the budget. Second, they would handle the raise in salaries of State personnel differently and at a lower total cost. Furthermore, they maintain that the Governor's budget has underestimated revenues from certain sources, particularly the inheritance tax and the health, welfare and education tax (known to most of us painfully as the sales tax). In fact, the figures for the first three months of this year already show these revenues coming in much bigger than estimated.

Lastly, there was, according to Republican leaders, a surplus of 12 million left over from the biennium and probably will be again. Therefore, they say that enough can be set aside from the anticipated revenues to finance the State grants for education without laying any new tax.

This bill has a unique feature which is of the first importance, although it carries with it a recommendation for the expenditure of 18 million dollars, nevertheless it is not asking for new expenditures from Connecticut taxpayers. It is merely a shifting of the burden from the shoulders of one group of people (the property owners) to the shoulders of all of the people of the State. The State has a broad-based tax on which to tax. It can draw taxes from gasoline, liquor, cigarettes, sales and other sources, whereas in the towns, we can tax on property alone.

For those who still do not believe in the principle of State Aid for education, let me say that Connecticut will remain in a very conservative position in this line. Under this new formula, the State would contribute 24% to education costs, whereas the national average is 37% and some "frivolously" socialist states go as high as 75%.

I must not close my column without mentioning our two Branford visitors, Ernest Albertine and Irwin Morton, who apparently enjoyed their visit to the capital and luncheon at the Officers' Club with Rep. Young and other members of the Military Affairs Committee of East Haven. Mr. Albertine was re-visiting old haunts, whereas in the towns, we can tax on property alone.

Seven Are Accepted To Attend N.H.S.T.C.

Seven Branford residents have been accepted for enrollment at New Haven State Teachers College for the semester beginning in the Fall. According to Owen McDevitt, registrar, the following Branford graduates have already been accepted:

Patricia Dahlquist, Mendon St.; Evelyn MacCallum, Granite Bay; Anne Petrolis, South Monticome St.; Virginia Scarra, Boston Post Road; William Digby, Jr., Hillside Ave., a graduate of Branford High School.

Also, Franz Jauregui, North Branford, graduate of East Haven High School; and Frederick Verzer, Hillside Ave., a graduate of Hillhouse High School.

Warm weather here to stay? Achievement tests going on this week in the Jr. High to the warning slips being returned... three more weeks of school. Birthday parties to Charles Hoopkirk on the 23d, John Randall, the 25th, and Ray Webb the 26th.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John G. Brown, baby boy born Sunday, May 22. This makes three boys for the couple, who are newcomers to Stony Creek.

Postmaster Frank Abbond on vacation... Don't know where, but I hope he is having a wonderful rest.

So glad to hear that Jack McMillen is better and now convalescing at his home on Lee's Island. He wishes to thank his many friends for their kindness during his recent illness.

The boys have poured the cement floor in the addition to the firehouse. Good work, boys.

I don't think A. McCoy of Little Governors Island will be eating steak for a few days... He had all his teeth pulled out last week. He still has a pleasant smile, though.

Girl Scouts who have signed up for Day Camp will be interested to know that the date has been changed from July to August 2-12.

The Philonians held their meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Edw. W. Brown. Officers named were: Mrs. Leroy Murray, president; Mrs. James E. Brown, vice-president; Mrs. Edw. W. Brown, secretary; and Mrs. Donald Smith, treasurer. Mrs. John Mello was the outgoing president.

The PTA is selling T-shirts and button shirts again this year to help raise funds to purchase picnic tables and benches for the schoolyard. If you have any of these shirts, it would be wise to order your order ready. Here is the information that you will need: T-shirts are $1.10 (small) $1.20 (medium) $1.30 (large). Button shirts are $2.75 (small) $3.00 (medium) $3.25 (large). For some large children, Mrs. Giesler would advise the small size. In ordering any of these shirts, it would be wise to order the next size larger than your child already wears.

All District troops held their meetings up at the Scout woods in Stony Creek last weekend. Everything they put together was lashed with twine or rope. (No nails were used). Lashing, fire-building, signaling, pioneering, and other events were held. The competition was pretty hard, but our boys came in pretty close, but I guess it just wasn't Stony Creek's day. The boys enjoyed a hot dog roast after the court of honor was held. Mr. Jared McQueen and Allen Smith helped out.

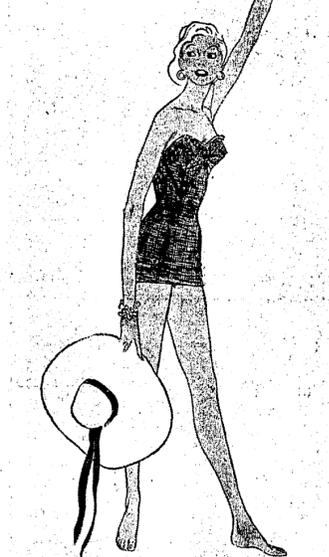

"I've Got A Secret." Last Friday night, hubby Capt. Howd called me up and asked me to purchase bread, coffee, eggs, and a toothbrush. I assumed it was for some of the island people. Much to my surprise, I met Gary Moore and Henry Morgan who were anchored between High and Treasure Islands in Gary's boat the "Red Wing." Mrs. Charles Howd, who was also along, told Gary that he was much shorter than she thought, he replied, "It's a big boat, madam." They are two of the most wonderful people. Just regular guys. Ask Mrs. C. Howd, she hasn't gotten over it yet.

All units are to form at Palmer's store in uniform at 7:45 Monday, May 30 and be ready to leave for the cemetery promptly at 8:00. The Rev. Mr. Donald Oubourne will give the invocation. Mr. McGregor Kilpatrick will be the principal speaker, and the Rev. Joseph Buckley will give the benediction. All school children are asked to attend. The

Authorities Explain Polio Vaccine Use & Effectiveness In Connecticut

The State of Connecticut received on Friday, May 6, from the Parke-Davis Company in Detroit, 115,560 cc. of vaccine for use in the program of immunizing children of the first and second grades throughout the state and the third and fourth grades of Fairfield, Hartford and Litchfield counties against poliomyelitis. This was the material supplied by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at no cost to the state or to the parents of the children who were to receive it.

The use of this vaccine was held up temporarily until safety checks were completed because questions had arisen about the safety of the vaccine made by another company. However, on Friday, May 13, all of the Parke-Davis material in Connecticut was released for use. The Parke-Davis company had supplied about 60% of the vaccine used in the 1954 poliomyelitis vaccine field trials, and about 90% of the vaccine given in Connecticut in 1954. A total of 17,800 children received three injections of vaccine in Connecticut in 1954. No ill-effects were found from the use of this material in 1954. This year, through May 7, 834,148 children have been inoculated with poliomyelitis vaccine made by the Parke-Davis Company in school clinics of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis program. Not a single case of poliomyelitis has been reported among these children. This extensive use proves the safety of this product.

The department receives daily confidential information on all aspects of the vaccination program as it is being conducted throughout the country. In addition to the opinions of national experts, the department staff also reviews this information and these opinions. Here's why PONTIAC WINS BUYERS FROM EVERY OTHER MAKE

It's a king-sized luxury car—Biggest at its price! America calls for a big, roomy car. Here it is: A car with 122" or 124" wheelbase—longest in its price field, even longer than some models in the top price range—and with true big-car stability to match.

It's America's topmost value—Greatest buy of any year! Pontiac is selling at the fastest rate of all time for this simple reason: America agrees—when you can get the size, power, beauty and luxury you want at Pontiac's easy price, that's the place to put your money. Come in and get all the facts.

It's a 200-horsepower performer—Most powerful at its price! As the only car with the Strato-Streak V-8, Pontiac has a big performance advantage over other cars.

It's a future-fashioned beauty—Most distinctive at any price! Style-conscious motorists turn to Pontiac for true mode-of-tomorrow design, beautifully different from any other car.

You can buy a big, 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and for much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes—none of which equal Pontiac in combined power, size and future-fashioned beauty.

Can you see, steer, stop safely? CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS.

Applications Taken For Water Safety Instruction Class

Applications are being received for the water safety instruction program sponsored annually by the East Haven Branch of the Red Cross, according to Mrs. Alvin Sanford, branch chairman.

The applications may be obtained from school principals. They require parents' signatures and must be returned to the principals not later than June 10.

The classes again will be held at Happy Fenton's beach in Monauglin from August 8 to 19 inclusive. The classes are open to children nine years of age and older.

This program is made possible, Mrs. Sanford said, by the contributions to the United Fund - Red Cross Drive which is held each October.

Tolold Memorial Day Services At E.H.S.

Memorial Day observances will be held Friday morning in the high school auditorium, principal Carl Garvin, announced yesterday.

The program will open with the presentation of the colors, followed by salute to the flag and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the assembly.

Features of the program will include Margaret C. Baker reading Walt Mason's "The Nameless Dead"; the High School Glee Club singing "Maiden's Prayer"; speeches by Judge Edward Reynolds and Selectman Frank Barker; "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," sung by the Glee Club and "Taps" played by Sherwood Sheehans and Alphonse Amendola. The assembly will be brought to a close with "Retreat to Colors," played on the organ.

Veteran's Memorial Church Service

Veteran's memorial church service will be held at Our Lady of Pompell, Sunday at 10:45 a.m. This will represent the completion of a three year rotation of churches for Memorial Services in East Haven.

Churches that have participated in this rotation service during the past three years are: St. Vincent DePaul; Christ Church; St. Clare's; Old Stone Church; Our Lady of Pompell; and Foxon Congregational.

Garden Show Entry Chairman Named; Show Opens Tues.

Chairmen in charge of the 13 classes of artistic arrangements on which entries will be judged at the seventh annual flower show of the East Haven Garden Club were announced this week.

The show is scheduled for Tuesday from 2 to 8 p.m. in the Town Hall auditorium. Exhibits will be prepared from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. in the auditorium. Horticulture entries must be in at 10:15. Doors will be closed at 10:45 for judging.

The arrangements chairmen are: Mrs. Timothy O'Connell, Mrs. Rudolph Schmidt, Sr., Mrs. Clara Weigh, Mrs. Parker Atwood, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. John Crammy, Mrs. John Moran, Mrs. Fred Wolfe, Jr., Mrs. William Jaspers, Mrs. John Laslett, Mrs. Albert Hayden, Mrs. Vincent Fogarty and Mrs. Ellis Jones.

Foxon School Children Present Operetta

Children in the second grade at the Foxon School taught by Mrs. Mary Jane Devlin, were scheduled to present an operetta titled "The Tidy Duckling" at the school this afternoon.

High Tariff Is Contrary To Free Enterprise, Taft Tells L. W. V.

(Special To Free Press)

"The effort to get a high tariff is an attempt to get away from the operation of the free enterprise system," Charles P. Taft, president of the Committee for a National Trade Policy, told the League of Women Voters of Greater New Haven on Friday.

The brother of the late Senator Taft spoke at a League luncheon meeting in the Town House in New Haven. Members of the Hamden and East Shore units of the League were among those present.

The trade committee head, who spoke in defense of efforts to free international trade from restrictions, said that the next trade issue in Congress would be ratification of a protocol making the U. S. a participant in the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

"Propaganda Campaign"

He predicted that efforts of protectionists to defeat the passage of House of Representatives Bill 5550, approving the CTC, would undergo another barrage in what he called the "most vigorous propaganda campaign on the high tariff side in U. S. history."

"This campaign was waged unsuccessfully against the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act which has won the support of both houses of Congress under the blessing of the Eisenhower Administration.

Mr. Taft said that superior managerial talent and production techniques make it possible for the United States to compete successfully in the world market. Many of the firms which are in trouble because of foreign competition are suffering because they have not kept up with the high level of efficiency enjoyed in other industries.

Therefore, he said, the protectionists who were attacking international trade agreements on spurious grounds of "world government" interference were really asking for more governmental intervention in business instead of less.

Christ Church Notes

The following services and activities will be held during the coming week at the Christ Church, East Haven, the Rev. Alfred Clark, rector, announced yesterday.

Sunday, Family Service and Church School, at 10:30 a.m.; Holy Baptism, at 2:30 p.m.; Youth Confirmation class in the Memorial Room at 3 p.m. and the Young People's Fellowship at 7 p.m.

On Wednesday, the Adult Confirmation Class will meet at the Rectory, at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, at 3 p.m. the Junior Boy's Choir will meet in the church; at 7:30 p.m. the church building committee will meet in the Memorial Room and at 7:45 p.m. the Senior choir will rehearse in the church.

At St. Mark's church in Monauglin, there will be a choir rehearsal in the church at 6:30 p.m.

Public Four Free Trade

By having the U. S. as a member of the CTC, this country could defend itself against the GATT. Neither would have any legal effect on the power of Congress and the President to change or abrogate trade agreements at any time.

Despite this, he said, the protectionists were preparing to attack the rules under which the international trade body would operate. He cited one criticism of "un-Constitutionality" leveled by Senators Malone and Kerr as an example.

Public Four Free Trade
