

LEGION TO PRESENT MINSTREL TONIGHT

FRANK DOOLEY DAY SET FOR JUNE 2

Town Team To Open Season Here

By Gordon Stevens, Sports Editor

It has been the custom in past years to hold a track meet for the grammar schools in East Haven on the town Green in honor of Mr. Frank Dooley. The following events are for girls: sprints, baseball throw and shuttle relay. The first two are for the five classes with three girls and the latter are for four runners of the five classes. There are also five classes for the boys in which three boys are chosen for each class. The boy's class include the broad jump, high jump, sprints, and shuttle relay, the latter having four runners. Boys on the high school track team are coaching different schools in East Haven.

East Haven Defeat Guilford

Although East Haven went hitless in their first two games, they opened up and gave the towns people a sample of what to expect from now on in their game, with Guilford. Thomson took honors, getting three hits out of four and Grasso had the honor of lifting the first home run for East Haven. The game went well until MacLachlan got in a hole in the third inning when he was relieved by Hanson, who did a good job of setting back Guilford with seven hits in six and a half innings. East Haven bunched their hits in the fifth, seventh and eighth to win.

East Haven Defeat Branford

Displaying very good form the High School turned in a brilliant game at Hammer Field last Tuesday against Branford High, defeating them 8-1. Thomson had a good day at bat, getting three hits in five trips. Due to Ray Hanley fracturing his ankle in the Guilford game, Boucher took his place, the second Freshman to play Varsity ball. Tyler held down third base very well.

W. P. A. Install Sewer Line In Main St.

Last Wednesday, the W. P. A. started the laying of 16,000 feet of sewer line in Main Street, from Massachusetts Avenue to Tuttle Brook, it was learned through the office of the First Selectmen. There will be 16 catch-basins. This project is being done in conjunction with the State Highway Commission, the material being furnished by the State and the labor by the Town, through the W. P. A.

The State Quartermaster has placed four extra trucks on the Rifle Range project in order to quicken its completion. Sixteen-hundred feet of drain pipe has been laid there and work on a new concrete bridge will be started.

The sidewalk along Coe Avenue is almost completed.

Night Club Huge Success

The Night Club, given by the East Haven Democratic Club at Jeffersonian Hall last Saturday evening, May 8, at which 300 attended was a great success. There was dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. with music furnished by Joe Tansey and his orchestra, and during the course of the evening an appetising luncheon was served. The entertainment was in the form of a floor show with specialties by Mr. Ben Hendryx of New Haven, Mr. Richard Joy, Miss Betty Daniels and Miss Julia Melillo.

The committee consisted of Mrs. Arthur M. Bixby, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Weil, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Viola, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey T. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Melillo, Mr. Charles Coyle, Mr. Ellsworth Kitell, Mr. James Zito, Mr. Peter Spambanato, Mr. Nicholas Piscitelli and Mr. William Hipe.

The Junior Choir of Christ Episcopal Church will meet at the Rectory this afternoon at 4 p. m.

OUR OWN HIGH SCHOOL

Having a high school in East Haven is both advantageous and valuable.

By valuable, is meant that with the town having such an accredited institution, the town is placed upon a higher level in every respect. People will look at East Haven, and say, knowing of course, that the town has a high school, that men and women of high intellect must reside there. It will also increase the population to a great extent.

By advantageous, is meant that the pupils have more advantages. They don't have to arise at six a. m. in order to arrive at school in New Haven on time, as has previously been done for many years. They have more chances of being leaders among their own kind and are much more familiar with one another. Still another advantage is that the pupils receive attention from teachers interested only in East Haven High School.

Thus, the town of East Haven has in the East Haven High School, an educational institution that they may well be proud of.

Dogs Long on Sea
Dogs have been on the sea almost as long as men. The Vikings took their sturdy Elkhounds on European invasions and even to America, where they became the ancestors of the modern husky. On the Mayflower came a mastiff and cocker spaniel.

Early Ohio Bank Failures
Between 1811 and 1831 bank failures in Ohio averaged one a year, which was a high mortality rate considering the small number of such institutions. These failures were doubtless due to the loose banking regulations and the fluctuation in printing press bank notes.

Nature
As a fond mother, when the day is over,
Leads by the hand her little child to bed,
Half willing, half reluctant to be led,
And leave his broken playthings on the floor,
Still gazing at them through the open door,
Nor wholly reassured and comforted
By promises of others in their stead,
Which, though more splendid, may not please him more;
So Nature deals with us, and takes away
Our playthings one by one, and by the hand
Leads us to rest so gently, that we go
Scarce knowing if we wish to go or stay,
Being too full of sleep to understand
How far the unknown transcends the what we know.
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The Red Cross
In 1860 Clara Barton became interested in the work of the Red Cross while on a trip abroad. Returning to the United States Miss Barton, a well-to-do spinster, determined to devote the remainder of her life to the formation of the Red Cross in the United States. Recognition was slow in coming, though, America was tired of war. The political leaders feared this international organization as an entangling alliance. In 1881, however, she succeeded in interesting Secretary Blaine in the movement and it was incorporated in Washington that year. Now all that was needed was the Presidential signature to the Geneva treaty. At that point Garfield was assassinated. The next year President Arthur signed.

Flagging in England
In England flagging probably reached its heyday after the monasteries, where the poor had been sure of free meals, were abolished. This led to a great increase in vagrancy. The punishment was whipping. In many places the law provided that a vagrant be carried to some market town "and there tied to the end of a cart, naked, and beaten with whips throughout such market town till the body shall be bloody." Queen Elizabeth changed the law so offenders were stripped only to the waist. She also substituted the whipping post for the cart.

Court of Claims of U. S.
The Court of Claims of the United States was established by an act of February 24, 1855, with general jurisdiction over all claims upon the United States government, except pension claims, and since 1915—except claims growing out of the Civil War.

There's No Free Ride on Taxes
By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Probably the most common of all political promises is that which pledges the average worker a free ride on taxes paid by somebody else. It has been made by many candidates and many office-holders. It is being made today, and will continue to be made as campaign oratory just as often. And this in spite of the fact that the burden of hidden taxes—the taxes ostensibly levied on production and passed on to the consumer in the form of higher prices—continues steadily to mount. Here are some figures on that rising curve recently published at Washington:
In 1932, the total of hidden Federal taxes amounted to $780,703,659—approximately $25 per family.
In 1933, it rose to $1,088,901,635—about $35 per family.
In 1934, it stood at $1,992,051,345—over $63 per family.
In 1935, it reached $2,232,402,340—almost $70 per family.
The figures exclude State and local taxes, which, if added in, would boost the count far higher. Statisticians have estimated the entire bill at from $200 to $300 per family. These costs aren't written down and sent to you by Government in a separate bill. But you're charged for them just the same. They appear in other bills—in bills for food, for clothing, for shelter, for virtually everything you buy. With other expenses they are included in the cost of production, and thus billed ultimately, though indirectly, to the consumer. Every new tax levied in government, every new tax levied to support extravagance, boosts that bill—and with it the cost of living. If the American people want to cut their living costs they must begin by cutting the high cost of government. And the way to do it is to insist that politicians exercise real economy, instead of attempting to fool us with the old, old promise that somebody else will pay the fare. There's no free ride on taxes.

McClellan, Popular Soldier
George B. McClellan, who at the outbreak of the Civil war was commissioned a major general by the governor of Ohio, was a popular man among his soldiers despite the fact that Lincoln, after some friction between the two, relieved him of command of the army of the Potomac. In the same year that his command was taken, 1864, he was nominated for president on a platform that denounced war as a failure. Thus the same army of whose command he had been relieved was called upon to decide between Lincoln and McClellan. The vote: Lincoln, 250; McClellan, 226.

What's What In BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

An open forum for the discussion and explanation of construction and material problems
By Walter R. Shiner
Reg. Architect, State of Conn.

To practice economy on the painting and decorating is rather a dangerous procedure as an imperfect paint job always entails future expense which always more than offsets the initial saving. However, short cuts and fewer coats are permissible providing proper judgment is used.
As stated previously in these articles, economy in painting can be accomplished more readily by eliminating materials that require periodical painting than by any other known method. Sidelwall materials such as asbestos shingles, roof materials such as asphalt shingles, or slate, concrete steps and porch floors and similar materials are the answer. Copper gutters and leaders do not require painting and are practically everlasting whereas galvanized iron leaders and gutters and wood gutters require paint to keep them from deteriorating and at best will not last more than ten years.
The exterior woodwork usually requires three coats of paint, consisting of a priming coat and two finish coats. A two coat method is now guaranteed by certain paint manufacturers providing the material is applied according to directions, which will outwear the ordinary three coat job.
Plaster ceilings of rooms, except, of course, in the kitchen and bath, where a hard smooth finish is desirable, can be best treated by using a Casen water paint which will cover with one coat and does not have to be washed off in order to apply another. By having the plastering wood floated by the mason as previously mentioned in a foregoing article, a stippled sort of finish is obtained at a saving as it eliminates the stippling operation in the painting work.
A cheap way to finish the plaster sidewall is by applying one thick coat of Casen water paint such as Partwall or Luminit which can be washed after 30 days of hardening. This paint does not require an initial priming coat and can be applied upon a plaster wall when damp and will dry out with the plaster without any marks or stains. It is not to be recommended for kitchen or bath where the walls get hard usage.
If natural woodwork is desired it can be treated with two coats of Minwax very satisfactorily or even one coat of Lignophol will make a very desirable finish where defilement is necessary. Where the woodwork is to be painted, it must have four coats and the cheapest method is to prime with gray, then give two coats of flat and a final coat of enamel of high grade gloss or semi-gloss paint.
For linoleum table tops or sink counters two coats of Linx will give a highly satisfactory finish that is impervious to hot water, grease, acids or scratches.
Floors are usually given a light

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Junior Prom Social Success
The first Junior Prom of the East Haven high school, held on Friday evening, May 7, was acclaimed by all who attended as an outstanding social success. Well-earned credit goes to Celia McGuire and her efficient committee, assisted by their faculty advisers, Miss Alice Gunnip and Mr. Matthew Tierney.
The gymnasium, transformed by multi-colored decorations and spotlights, afforded a pleasing background for the formally attired guests and students. Approximately one hundred and thirty-five couples participated in the very colorful grand march. Dancing continued until twelve o'clock to the rhythm of Bill Broderick's orchestra.
Style Show
"The Looking Glass," and "Home-making" Clubs at the East Haven High School with their advisors, Miss Louise Scott, dean of girls and Miss Alice Hall are sponsoring a coat of paste filler, two light coats of shellac and two coats of wax, polished. This makes a highly polished slippery floor and will not scratch. Worn places cannot be repaired satisfactorily. A good cheap finish can be had by using two coats of Minwax which fills, stains and waxes in one operation.
A more expensive and slower method is the BRUCE method which gives a wonderful floor that is semi-gloss, non-slippery and the worn spots may be renewed without showing any marks.

Parents Night
Monday, May 17, has been selected by the extra-curricula activity committee as Parents Night. From 7 to 7:30 p. m. there will be an exhibition of school work in the various class-rooms, and from 8:30 to 9:30 there will be an assembly program consisting of a one-act play, a news-broadcast and a radio drama in the auditorium.
The committee consists of the following: Miss Louise Scott, chairman; Miss Miriam May, publicity; Miss Daisy Geenty and Mr. Thomas Murray, ushers; and Miss Laura O'Connor, program.
Notes
Arrangements have been made with a New Haven Theatre for student attendance at the showing of "Romeo and Juliet," on the after-

Style Show this afternoon, at 3 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Style Show this afternoon, at 3 p. m. in the high school auditorium. Pupils with two members of the faculty will be transported to the city.
The three eighth grades of the high school will sponsor a benefit show at the Capitol Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, May 24 and 25. "Wake up and Live" is the picture to be shown.
Plans are being made for a special matinee performance of "As You Like It," at the Capitol Theatre, Thursday, May 27, is set as the tentative date. Pupils of the high school and upper grades of the center elementary schools will be invited to attend.

The Misses Ellen Anthonis, Barbara Arnold, Eva Beers, Joan Boyd, Sophie Bombolicki, Janet Daniels, Renee Danielson, Helen Davis, Janie Eldridge, Helen Donalson, Phyllis Freer, Gloria Gallo, Ann Gorman, Virginia Harrison, Muriel Johnson, Marjorie Ketcham, Marjorie Lewis, Lorraine MacArthur, Katherine Rose, Elaine Drennan, Celia McGuire, Stephanie Skut and Elsa Pierson will model the clothing.
At 4 p. m. a tea will be served in the newly equipped homemaking room. All interested are welcome to attend.

FOR RESULTS ADVERTISE IN THE CITIZEN
The Malthusian Theory
The theory of Malthus was that population increases by geometric ratio and the means of subsistence by arithmetic ratio, hence there is bound to be poverty and distress in the world. The theory aroused much controversy and was long regarded as outmoded because of the development of new resources.

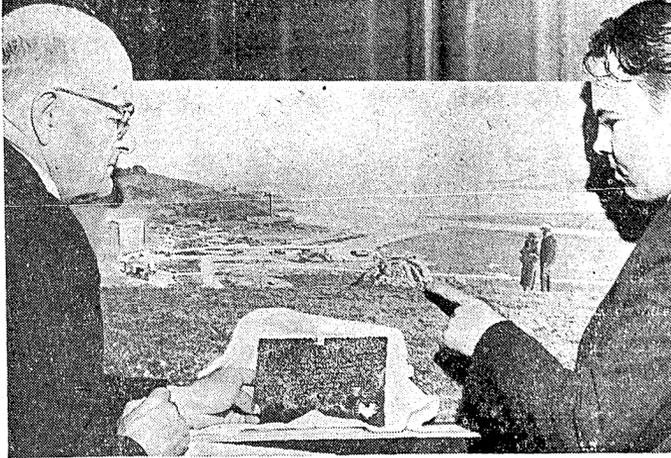

AMATEUR WRITERS — ATTENTION
DEAR AMATEUR WRITERS:
There is a certain thrill that one acquires upon having one's own written compositions published in a periodical of any description, and of this fact ye editor is well aware of in offering you a chance to receive this wonderful sensation.
Just take your pencil and paper, sit down in a nice, quiet corner, and write a story, an article, a poem, or various other literary pieces, and upon completion send it to THE EAST HAVEN CITIZEN, 265 Main Street, East Haven, and ye editor will pass judgment on each and every one, the best of which will be published in the CITIZEN each week.
Each entry must not exceed 500 words, write on one side of the paper only, and if a type-writer is used a double space is preferred. The copy must be received no later than Tuesday, midnight, of each week.
This offer is open to amateur writers of all ages, particularly to those of East Haven and vicinity. Do not be discouraged if your entry is not immediately selected, just "Try, try again," and soon you will win out.
You do your part, we'll do our part, and together show East Haven that through our humble medium, will someday emerge writers of great renown.
Sincerely,
YE EDITOR.

Historical Treasure Found by Store Clerk

Beryle Shinn, twenty-six-year-old department store clerk who accidentally discovered in Marin county, near San Francisco, a small metal plate, subsequently identified as the "plate of brass," a long-sought historical treasure by which Sir Francis Drake claimed California lands for England in 1579. Dr. Herbert E. Bolton of the University of California (left) being shown by Beryle Shinn, the discoverer, the location of the find.

Grandma's Cook Book

Candy is the favorite of almost everyone, so here are two good recipes pertaining to that nature.

Chocolate Marshmallow Fudge
2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate or 3 level tablespoons cocoa
good-sized piece butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
10 marshmallows
Put sugar, milk and chocolate (or cocoa) in pan. Heat to boiling point slowly, until it becomes soft ball in water. Remove and add butter and beat till creamy. Add vanilla and put in marshmallows cut in quarters. Place in buttered pan for cooling.

Molasses Candy
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons molasses
Mix together and cook until brittle in water. Remove and cool in buttered pan. Peanuts or nuts may be added if so desired.

The Hat-Box PASTELS

Just like the lovely spring flowers, the lovely pastel felts are blooming out, slowly, yet surely. The shades that are liked best are Nile, maize, orchid, powder and thistle. These shades are becoming to both blonde and brunette. They are seen on various models and some have contrasting color trim, but all have streamers off the back in either ribbon or chiffon.

Some of the pastel spot felts are now coming in with side back streamers which fall just in back of the left ear. Some are caught at the headsize with a tiny bunch of flowers and some with ornaments.

Just as the lovely spring flowers, the lovely pastel felts are slowly popping out.

KEEPS BRITONS FIT

Miss Prunella Stack, twenty-two-year-old leader of the Women's League for Health and Beauty, of London, who has been invited by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to serve on the national advisory council which will draw up plans for the national college of physical training.

"Ecstasy" Now Showing At Lincoln

"Ecstasy," the picture which was banned for two years and has finally been released by the United States custom authorities, is now shown at the Lincoln Theatre, New Haven's distinctive theatre, (between Whitney Avenue and Orange Street at Trumbull Street). This picture has enjoyed runs extending into months in Boston, Washington, D. C., Chicago, Los Angeles, and is still showing in Detroit. Much controversy was raised whether or not "Ecstasy" is obscene or immoral.

The story is of a beautiful girl married to an elderly man. She yearns for love which she cannot find.

As it is essential that the picture be seen from the beginning, the public will not be admitted during the showing of the feature, which will be on the screen every two hours, with the last showing at 9:45. Many have been turned away due to the vast crowds that have been jamming the Theatre.

"Maytime" At Capitol

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the Capitol will present one of the most beautiful pictures of the year in "Maytime," starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, with John Barrymore. The picture is taken from Romberg's operetta, and tells the tale of a beautiful young singer and her lost love. The singing of Miss MacDonald and Mr. Eddy is really beautiful.

The co-feature is "Motor Madness" with Rosalind Keith and Allen Brook. A newsreel and single complete this grand program.

Japan's National Sport

For centuries wrestling has been the national sport of Japan. Once two royal princes met on the mat, the winner being declared Emperor. But Japanese wrestling is more deadly because it includes jiu-jitsu. Japanese wrestlers usually weigh between 300 and 400 pounds. They have a powerful guild, the elders of which teach the sport and direct tournaments. To insure great size, rare in the Orient, they force their sons to marry daughters of wrestlers.

Joyful Confidence
