Tax Collections Continue To Rise

According to Tax Collector Thomas F. Reynolds, the current tax collections for the month of May show $12,620.77; back taxes, $7,256.81; interest and liens, $594.83 and Old Age Assistance taxes $182.00, a total of $20,654.41.

Total taxes for the same month in 1935 amounted to $16,733.50, showing an increase of $3,920.83 for the current year.

A Blind March

When Washington made that famous march southward in 1781, from New York to confront Cornwallis at Yorktown, his army consisted of 2,000 Continentals and 4,000 Frenchmen, and none save Washington and the French commander, Rochambeau, knew when they started out where they were going.

Olson To Proceed With Development

G. A. R. Veterans Review Parade

Only five members of the Admiral Foote Post, No. 17, G. A. R., of New Haven, were on hand to review the Memorial Day Parade here last Sunday. They were Mr. William Singleton, 101; Mr. Charles W. Grannis, 92; Mr. Charles Douglas, 90; Mr. John Korn, 90; and Mr. John Farrell, 88.

The town has been definitely assured by the State Highway Department that the new bridge in connection with the cut-off over Farm River at the end of Sanford Street, will be started in the very near future. It is assumed that it will be of standard type concrete construction similar to those around the state over small streams.

Martin Olson has sold the first lots at Saltonstall Manor and hopes to start construction of small homes in the near future, therefore the construction of the new bridge is very important at this time as it will be the only approach to the property from the northwest.

F. H. Thompson Passes Away

Mr. Frederick H. Thompson, 82, of 108 High Street, succumbed at his residence last Monday, May 31. He is a descendant of one of the original settlers in East Haven.

Mr. Thompson was born June 18, 1858, at South End, and was a retired sea captain. His father was Mr. Merritt Thompson of South End, and his mother was Julia Davis of East Haven.

He leaves two sons, Merritt and Gordon Thompson, one brother, Wyliss Thompson; two sisters, Miss Julia Ray Thompson and Mrs. F. W. Norton; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, June 2, from the Norman V. Lamb Funeral Home at 369 Main Street. Doctor Theodore Fischer will officiate and interment will be in East Lawn Cemetery.

THE INVENTOR OF ENGRAVING

The recent passing of Mr. Frederick Ives has a bearing on newspapers and periodicals throughout the entire world, for it is he that invented the half-tone engraving process that is used in illustrating periodicals of all description. One really has to be connected with the publishing business in order to appreciate what Mr. Ives has done.

Being a Connecticut man, born in Litchfield, makes one feel that he is well acquainted with him. He was educated in the public schools of Litchfield, Norfolk and Newtown, and was a graduate of Cornell University.

It was in 1879, that he first devised the half-tone process, thus perfecting the process seven years later. Among his other achievements were the devising of intaglio plates for rotogravure reproduction, pioneering in color photography, and the invention of the modern binocular microscope.

The EAST HAVEN CITIZEN wishes to salute the man who aided in the progression of the modern newspaper.

Cicero as a Governor
Cicero, the famous writer, orator, and Roman Consul, was made governor of Cilicia in 52 B. C. and performed a useful duty in subduing the robber tribes in the mountains. He was hailed as "imperator" for his successful expeditions, and won affection by his uprightness, and impartial administration of justice, during the two years he spent in Tarsus.

The Giant's Causeway
The Giant's Causeway is a line of three perpendicular cliffs on the northeastern coast of Ireland. According to legend they were built by giants. The three cliffs are formed of vertical basalt columns and called the Little Causeway, the Middle Causeway and the Grand Causeway. The last has a width of nearly 120 feet and extends about 500 feet into the sea.

AMATEUR WRITERS — ATTENTION

DEAR AMATEUR WRITERS:

There is a certain thrill that one acquires upon having one's own written compositions published in a periodical of any description, and of this fact ye editor is well aware of in offering you a chance to receive this wonderful sensation.

Just take your pencil and paper, sit down in a nice, quiet corner, and write a story, an article, a poem, or various other literary pieces, and upon completion send it to THE EAST HAVEN CITIZEN, 265 Main Street, East Haven, and ye editor will pass judgment on each and every one, the best of which will be published in the CITIZEN each week.

Each entry must not exceed 500 words, write on one side of the paper only, and if a type-writer is used a double space is preferred. The copy must be received no later than Tuesday, midnight, of each week.

This offer is open to amateur writers of all ages, particularly to those of East Haven and vicinity. Do not be discouraged if your entry is not immediately selected, just "Try, try again," and soon you will win out.

You do your part, we'll do our part, and together show East Haven that through our humble medium, will someday emerge writers of great renown.

Sincerely,

YE EDITOR.

Four-Leaf Clover

I know a place where the sun is like gold,
And the cherry blossoms burst with snow,
And down underneath is the loveliest nook,
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

One leaf is for hope, and one is for faith,
And one is for love, you know,
And God put another in for luck,—
If you search, you will find where they grow.

But you must have hope, and you must have faith,
You must love and be strong —
and so,

If you work, if you wait, you will find the place
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

Economy can be practised in the selection of fixtures and the best way is for the owner to go to the manufacturer's show room and look over the various fixtures, price them and then select those most suited to the pocketbook that will answer their purpose. However, it is poor economy to buy fixtures that will not stand the wear and tear of time, for example, it is not economical to purchase any fixtures that do not have finished chromium fittings. If a shower is needed and a tub can be dispensed with money can be saved by installing a shower stall which takes less room and will not cost as much as the recessed tub with the shower added. Sometimes the modern four foot square tub will work into the plan space better than the 2 foot 6 by 5 foot recessed tub, thus enabling the architect to cut down on space.

The combination wash tray and sink for the kitchen is economical and practical in the small house and saves the extra cement wash trays in the basement. Where a cesspool or septic tank is required, it also saves the expense of pushing them down below the cellar bottom as the soil pipe can be on the basement ceiling if fixtures are omitted from the basement.

The cheapest arrangement for the bath room is the Keene's cement wainscot struck off to imitate tiling or imitation tile such as Nutile, Masonite Tileboard, etc., with wash-down closet outfit, enamelled lavatory and small recessed medicine cabinet with applied bath room wall fittings. The other extreme includes recessed tub, with shower, tiled walls, two or one-piece closet outfit, lavatory on chromium legs, recessed medicine cabinet with etched mirror and side electric light strips. There does not seem to be any happy medium between the two except that a recessed tub may be used with the cheap outfit where there is no shower. A shower may be used with this arrangement but it must be the round curtain ring type to keep the hot water from the plaster walls and is not so very satisfactory as to usage or appearance. (To be continued)

Tallteann Games
Tallteann games were begun in Ireland about 632 B. C., long before the Christian era, and about 500 years before the original Olympic games. They were an Irish "truce of God." Quarrels were suspended and there was sanctuary for every one throughout the country during the fortnight of the all-sports festival on the plain of Teltown, County Meath, which gave its name to the games. These games persisted for 1,800 years, ceasing only with the arrival of the Anglo-Normans in the twelfth century. History tells that they were admirably organized, demonstrating a talent in which the Irishman excels.

The Ear of Dionysius was a famous quarry near Syracuse, in which the slightest whisper was audible at a great distance. It was connected by a secret passage with the palace of Dionysius, the elder. The term is also applied to an acoustic instrument.

The Hat-Box
Now that Decoration Day is past and the weather is a bit warmer, white hats are displayed in larger clouds and clusters which are increasing each day.

An especially attractive window display caught my eye yesterday. It was a window full of wide-brimmed imitation panamas with all color combination bands with extra long flowing ends. This is quite a little advanced looking but then time passes quickly, and too, millinery buyers are always two steps ahead of the public.

The white, both cream and chalk-white crepes, pussywillow taffetas, and liens are very pretty this year. Practically all are with sash ends of one material or another with some hanging almost to the waistline.

With so many, many white hats shown, it is surmised that there are many already prepared for the white season.

C. W. GRANNIS ONLY CIVIL WAR VETERAN IN E. H.

Ran Away From Home To Fight For Union Cause

Mr. Charles W. Grannis, 92, of Old Foxon Road, Foxon, is the only survivor of the Civil War now living in the town of East Haven. He enlisted at the age of 16, at which time he ran away from home to join the Union Army. His father's efforts towards keeping him out of the war were fruitless, for Mr. Grannis returned to the army. He served during the whole four years of the war from 1861 to 1865. He was a member of the Tenth Connecticut, Company A, and was twice wounded, at Petersburg, Va., in 1863, and at Richmond, Va., April 2, 1864, nine days before the surrender of Lee.

Mr. Charles W. Grannis at the age of sixteen, taken at the time he enlisted in the Civil War.

Mr. Grannis is a member of the Admiral Foote Post, No. 17, of New Haven, and is also a member of Lodge No. 63, A. F. and A. M. He has twice served East Haven as representative in the General Assembly, at Hartford, in 1895 and 1899, has served on the School Board, and served as chairman of the Republican Town Committee for a period of eight years.

Despite his 92 years, Mr. Grannis is as chipper as a youngster, and it is hoped that he will live to see many more Memorial Day celebrations in East Haven.

Birds Are Fidgety
Birds are highly organized, nervously, that is why their motions impress a human observer as fidgety in the extreme, but really they are not so. The bird is simply twitching as part of its life program. Many of its motions are of the jerky sort, owing to the construction and pull of the muscles, and not because it is particularly sensitive.

Wins Contest

In a French speaking contest for high schools in Connecticut and Massachusetts, sponsored by WTIC, Hartford Broadcasting station, under the supervision of Professor Arsene Croteau, Professor of French at Connecticut State College, Miss Viola Fenney, senior, received a prize book for being among nine highest contestants in the finals. Miss Fenney, accompanied by Miss Jane Cox, French teacher here, went to Hartford on May 14 for the preliminary contest. As she was one of the few survivors of the initial cut; she returned to Hartford on May 21, for the finals where she ranked high due to her proper diction.

Elected "Comet" Head

Miss Rhoda Leshine, a junior, has been chosen editor-in-chief of the "Comet" for 1937-38. Miss Leshine has served admirably as associate editor during the present year.

Other staff officers already named are John Moran, assistant editor; Ann Gorman and Marie Anderson, associate editors; and Robert Male, school news editor. All remaining appointments will be made in the fall.

Eighth Grade

Mr. John Coolidge, son of ex-President Coolidge, visited the high school recently to prepare plans with the eighth grade teachers for the class trip. They have planned to visit Rye Beach. The pupils will travel by special train to Rye, at which point they will take buses for Playland. One hundred pupils are expected to take the very attractive journey. The trip is being paid for from funds earned from a recent benefit show and card party.

Grasso, Glynn In Limelight

By Gordon Stevens, Sports Editor

East Haven High won its second straight game in the Housatonic League at Olson Field on Tuesday.

In the first inning Shelton scored when Grimmer singled reached second and scored on Reyens first. Shelton made its last tally in the second inning when Walsh, who walked, later scored.

The score remained in Shelton's favor until the 5th inning when Grasso reached second on Lewko's two-base error. Capt. Kenny Hartlin singled to left, sending Grasso to third, Sheffele reached first on a walk, filling the bases, Jimmy Glynn came up and hit the first ball pitched for a long home-run, scoring three runs ahead of him.

East Haven added one run in the sixth and its final score in the eighth. "Norm" Leavstrom again pitched very effective ball fanning seven and passing but two.

Paul "Rabbit" Grasso and Jimmy Glynn took the batting honors for East Haven. The former getting three out of five and the latter two out of four, including that long home-run that put the game on ice for East Haven.

Reyens pitched well for Shelton, fanning twelve batsmen.

East Haven will travel to Seymour

June 18, for the summer vacation.

An interesting program for the parents will be held on the closing day, including two one-act plays to be presented by the classes, namely "The King's English" and "Great Caesar."

The final issue of the "Comet" for this season will be distributed today, and will contain eight pages.

today where they will meet Seymour High in another Housatonic League game.

On Saturday the Blue and Gold will meet Hamden at Olson Field. In the last Hamden defeated East Haven, therefore East Haven will be out to beat the Green and Gold.

Yale Field Meet
(All articles on track have been and will be written by Coach Tierney of E. H. S.)

The Golden Flashes from E. H. S. illuminated the enclosure of Yale Field last Saturday. Of the men that entered, three placed or qualified for the finals. A Hillhouse team won the meet, but the event most vigorously applauded was the Class B 440. Gordon Stevens of East Haven flashed from the mark to lead the field in the quarter, and much to the astonishment of the crowd he kept a heart-breaking pace up to three yards of the tape. He stumbled and fell and before he could regain his feet the first three men were past him. None of the recorded breaking events received the regard of the crowd as did Stevens' Courageous attempt to get to the tape after having injured himself in the fall.

Edward Bruce made the much talked of Austin of Stonington give his greatest efforts to beat him by one inch. The record was broken in this event. Both the winner and Bruce were under the record. Al Bahnen in his first CIAC meet placed fourth in the hundred yard dash. Bob Buchele in a honorable act of sportsmanship gave his starting place to a fellow competitor.

The high school track team travels to Branford today to meet a flashy array of track stars. This will be East Haven's second dual meet. Although they scored the most first places they lost. They are now out for revenge.

Town Team Wins and Loses
The East Haven Town Team baseball team, entrants in the Shore Line League, split two games over the holidays. At Middlefield a close game was played, East Haven losing by the score of 8-6.

A barrage of base hits at North Branford put the East Haven team in front by the score of 12-1.

Town Team Meets
The townies will be away this Sunday, playing the Chester Town Team of the Shore Line League on Chester's home field. Coach Stevenson of the local's will start his mound ace, Jim Moore, against Chester, with Lou DeFilippo behind the plate. Following this encounter, the townies nine will return to home grounds, and will play their second home league game against Moodus at 3 p. m., on Olson's field.

Tonight at 6:30 p. m., on Olson's field, the town team will play the Annex A. C.

Soft Ball League
The following are the scores of the East Shore Soft Ball League which were played last Sunday morning: Mauro Oyers 16, Guyott Construction 7; Holcombe Drug Co., Inc., 5, East Haven Motor Sales 3; Bruno Shell 6, Feinberg's 5; and Quality Pastry and Delicatessen Shop 9, Annex Barber Shop 7.

Model for Scott's "Ivanhoe"
Rebecca Grantz, educator and philanthropist of Philadelphia, who was born in 1782 and died in 1869, was the person on whom Sir Walter Scott modeled his Rebecca in "Ivanhoe." Nevertheless, the two never met. Rebecca Grantz was the companion of Washington Irving's fiancée, Matilda Hoffman, who died before their wedding day. Irving described Rebecca Grantz to Scott while he was a guest of Scott's at Abbotsford in England after Scott told him of his plan for "Ivanhoe." When Scott wrote his novel Irving's description of Rebecca Grantz was used for the beautiful Jewish Rebecca of the novel.

No Thoroughbred Horses

Although we call many horses thoroughbred, there really are no such animals, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. They are all mixtures of various breeds, but they may legally be registered as "thoroughbreds" if their pedigrees contain five uncontaminated crosses. The pedigrees of some horses contain twenty to twenty-five purebred generations—but, strictly speaking, even this does not make the horse 100 per cent thoroughbred.

First Silk Mill in U. S.

The Mansfield Silk company at Mansfield, Conn., erected by Rodney and Horatio Hanks, in 1810, was the first silk mill in the United States. It was a building 12 feet by 12 feet, to make sewing silk and twist by machinery they had invented.

Paul Muni At Lincoln

Friday through Monday, the Lincoln Theatre presents Paul Muni in "The Story of Louis Pasteur," in which Mr. Muni scores another hit in his portrayal of the great French scientist. This picture is acclaimed by all critics as a most artistic masterpiece destined to live forever.

Starting Tuesday through Wednesday, "If I Had A Million," will be shown, starring Charles Laughton, Gary Cooper, Charles Ruggles, W. C. Fields, and many others. Interesting short subjects will accompany both shows.

Severe Winter in Ohio

In 1799 Ohio experienced what can literally be called a severe winter. Practically everything froze solid. Animals dropped in their tracks, wild turkeys dropped from their roosts, corn, to cite one foodstuff, rocketed to $200 per bushel, and the scattered settlers became sick from living off the frozen animals.

Sojourner Truth

Sojourner Truth was a negro lecturer, born in Ulster county, New York, about 1790, in 1827 she escaped from Michigan, where she was held as a slave, and discarded her real name for Sojourner Truth. Though quite illiterate she spoke with much natural talent on emancipation and other reforms.

Universal Postal Union

The Universal Postal Union was organized in 1878. It followed an earlier union formed in 1874. It includes practically all nations on the globe. These countries are declared to be a single postal territory for the reciprocal exchange of correspondence.
