

JETTYS TO BE STARTED IN SEPT.

REYNOLDS DINNER

TO BE LARGE AFFAIR

According to the report of Mr. Russell Mallinson, general chairman of the Reynolds Dinner Committee, 227 reservations have already been made for the testimonial dinner to be given in honor of Judge Edward L. Reynolds, at Wilcox's Pier Restaurant, West Haven, next Thursday evening, July 29, who has recently retired from the bench, following a term of four successful and faithful years of service to the town.

State's Attorney Samuel E. Hoyt will act as toastmaster and will introduce the following speakers: Attorney Thomas Fitzsimmons, Judge Raymond Devlin, Senator William White, Judge Waldo Blakeslee, and Mr. Clarence Willard, chairman of the State Central Committee.

Tickets may be procured from the following committee: Mr. George Sison, Mr. Frank Redfield, Mr. Dean Texido, Mr. Henry Weber, Mr. Henry H. Bradley, Mrs. Viola Knight, Mr. Clifford Sturges, Mr. William Geenty, Mr. Henry Antz, Mr. Leslie Redfield, Mr. Herman Hackbarth, Mr. William Osborn, Mr. William McKeown, Mr. Jack Lawlor, Mr. Earle Clark, Mr. Gus Merrills, Mr. Alvin Sanford, Mr. Herbert Korn, Mr. Robert Gerrish, Mr. Charles Miller, Mr. Henry Smith, Mr. Russell MacArthur, Mr. Frank Carbone, Mr. Fred Williams, Mr. William Sellwood, Mr. Harold Bromberg, Mrs. Roy Burwell, Mr. George Noble, Mr. Rudolph Schmidt, Mr. Ted Huling, Mr. Irwin Sprague, Mr. Leon Brockett, Mr. John Howe, Mr. Chester Newton, Mr. Lyman Goodrich, Mr. George Beckett, Mr. Harold Hall, Mr. Rudolph Kuen, Mr. Maurice Germond and Mr. Frank Hartman.

Next Tuesday evening the general committee will hold their final meeting at 7 p. m. at headquarters in the Olson Building, and all those having tickets are requested to make their report at this meeting.

Water Main Layout About Complete

Layouts for the new 4000 foot water main to be laid in Laurel Street, by the New Haven Water Company, are expected to be completed next week, according to Mr. Charles H. Miller, local engineer, who is preparing an acceptable layout for the firm. Three or four extra hydrants will be installed along the main.

The new main will mean a decrease in fire insurance to the residents of Laurel Street, as well as regular water service.

Nothing can be done, of course, until the town calls a public hearing, the date for which has not been set as yet, but is expected within the next week. According to the town officials, this hearing will be just a matter of form, as the entire town appears to be very much in favor of the project.

Republicans Plan For Fall Campaign

Tentative plans are being made by the East Haven Republican Club in connection with the campaign in the fall, as last Tuesday evening the Town Committee met in the headquarters in the Olson Building at which Mr. Edward L. Reynolds, chairman Town Committee, presided, to elect a registrar for the Foxon area, pending the recent resignation of Mr. John Mele. To date, no one has been appointed, but it is expected that an appointment will be made within the next few days.

Tentative plans for the annual outing to be held sometime in August were also made at this meeting.

2 Building Permits Issued During Week

According to Mr. William Hogan, building inspector here, there have been two permits issued for one family houses, during the past week. The permits were issued to Mr. Donato Latanzio to build a house in St. Andrews Avenue, at the estimated cost of $3,000, and to Mrs. George T. Letiz to build in Hunt Lane, Foxon, at an estimated figure of $5,000.

At the meeting of the Board of Zoning Appeals, last Friday evening, the grant for a slaughter house to Mr. Joseph Barney, of Short Beach Road, to be built on his property was rejected.

Pumps were the cause of an outburst of fire at Dixon's Gas Station, 286 Laurel Street, last Friday. No damage was done as the local Fire Department made short work of extinguishing the flames. Companies 1 and 3 answered the call.

The East Haven town records were kept in the Old Morris House, at Morris Cove, for many years.

Old-Time Pictures Requested For Publication

East Haven has changed considerably in appearance since the turn of the century and many people, especially the younger generation, would be interested in seeing East Haven as it used to be.

Many of you old-timers most likely have many pictures of the old East Haven put away in draws or cubby-holes and the CITIZEN would appreciate it, if you would send them in to us, so that we may publish them.

The CITIZEN will extend the greatest of care to them and see to it that every picture sent in is returned to its right owner.

Kindly send pictures, with name and address to THE EAST HAVEN CITIZEN, 265 MAIN STREET, EAST HAVEN, CONNECTICUT.

Reflector Rule Effective Aug. 1

East Haveners worried over the lack of reflectors on the rear of their car, can rest easy following an announcement by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Michael A. Connor that the new ruling will not be enforced until August 1.

The law originally called for all cars to be equipped with reflectors by July 1, but the State department was unable to inspect all reflectors submitted for approval, and the extension of time has been granted.

The major worry of townspeople now is the necessity of getting their cars through the safety lanes before the first inspection period closes on July 23. State officials promise to crack down on all delinquents after that time.

Judge and Mrs. Arthur T. Connor of 46 Sanford Street will sail Saturday on the S. S. Gripsholm for a five week sojourn to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Russia.

On Motor Trip

Mrs. Carlton S. Gould and daughter, Evelyn of Prospect Road are on an extended motor trip through Boston and along the Hudson.

At Girl Scout Camp

Miss Audrey Wright of Hemingway Ave., has been enjoying a week at Camp Morton, Branford.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Whiteley of Naugatuck announce the birth of a son, Phillip Leon, on June 15 in the Waterbury General Hospital. Mrs. Whiteley was formerly Miss Winifred Ackerman of East Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hoyt, of 600 Thompson Avenue, celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversary last Wednesday.

Enjoy Vacations

Mrs. Roger Williams and son Gordon, of 153 Hemingway Ave. have returned from a two weeks vacation in Scituate, Mass., as the guests of Prof. Phillip Henshal of London, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woods of Hemingway Ave., have been enjoying a two weeks vacation at Lake George, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Morgan and family of 39 Richmond Street have returned from an enjoyable trip to Port Jefferson, N. Y.

Allen Ogilvie of 63 Sanford Street is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Clarence Cheesman of Rochester, N. Y. for the summer.

Roddy Pickett of Tyler Street is enjoying a four week stay at Camp Palmer.

Robert Griswold of Elm Street is spending the month of July with his aunt in Willimantic, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graver and son, Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tar-

Will Cost $8,209.00

It was recently learned through the office of the First Selectmen, that the long needed jettys to be built at Momauguin will not be started until sometimes in September, instead of August 11, which is the tentative date.

The three jettys, to be built at the ends of Coe Avenue, Second Avenue and First Avenue, respectively, will be constructed of dry stone, and will be 100 feet in length and 300 feet apart. They will be built under W.P.A. labor and will give employment to 23 local men. The plans have been designed by Mr. Benjamin E. Newton, who will act as supervising engineer of the job. The entire cost of the project will amount to $8,209.00 when completed, of which the Federal Government will supply a share and the Town of East Haven will supply the remainder. The Federal Government will supply $5,080.00 for labor and $1,440.00 for materials, making a total of $6,520.00, and the Town will supply $1,689.00.

The construction of these jettys will certainly be a wonderful thing for Momauguin, as during the past ten years, storms here, have washed away from 20 to 60 feet of land in front of homes along the shore. With the jettys, this will eliminate future damage by storms, will improve the beaches and help retain the beaches which have washed away and undermined all houses along the beach.

Local Post, Auxilliary, To Attend Convention

This year the American Legion State Convention will be held at New Haven from July 29-31, to which the Harry R. Bartlett Post, 89, and the Ladies' Auxilliary will send six and four delegates, respectively.

The local Post will have a business office in the Hotel Garde, where all members are expected to register as well as be there on Saturday for their parade orders. The Auxilliary Headquarters will be at the Hotel Taft.

Delegates from the Post are Mr. Anthony J. Caruso, Commander, Mr. Leslie Redfield, Mr. John Enright; alternates, Mr. Harry Cummings, Mr. Ernest L. Pemberton and Mr. Wilfred J. Talbot. The Auxilliary will send Mrs. Margaret Clark, Mrs. Gertrude Pemberton; alternates, Mrs. Florence Burritt and Mrs. Isadore Haegal.

bell and children, Phillip, Jr., and Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzsimmons and daughter, Dorothy were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Swanson Tuesday.

Most of the W.P.A. work at the Rifle Range lately, has been confined to grading. The bridge over the brook has been started. In spite of the fact that work had been going on here, the range is being used every week-end.

Company No. 1, of the East Haven Fire Department, held a drill in the firehouse last Wednesday evening.

JUDGE EDWARD L. REYNOLDS

The Testimonial Dinner to be given in honor of Judge Edward L. Reynolds, next Thursday evening, brings to mind the four years that he has served on the bench in the Town of East Haven.

During those four years, Mr. Reynolds has served his town faithfully and successfully, and the town is losing a man of great character and integrity in him.

Even though Mr. Reynolds has retired from the bench here, he will still carry on his excellent work as chairman of the Republican Town Committee.

These are a few of the reasons why this testimonial will prove to be the biggest and greatest affair that East Haven has ever known, as Mr. Reynolds has acquired a host of friends here.

In this way, the CITIZEN wishes to extend its respects to a man of such prestige.

AMATEUR WRITERS — ATTENTION

DEAR AMATEUR WRITERS:

There is a certain thrill that one acquires upon having one's own written compositions published in a periodical of any description, and of this fact ye editor is well aware of in offering you a chance to receive this wonderful sensation.

Just take your pencil and paper, sit down in a nice, quiet corner, and write a story, an article, a poem, or various other literary pieces, and upon completion send it to THE EAST HAVEN CITIZEN, 265 Main Street, East Haven, and ye editor will pass judgment on each and every one, the best of which will be published in the CITIZEN each week.

Each entry must not exceed 500 words, write on one side of the paper only, and if a type-writer is used a double space is preferred. The copy must be received no later than Tuesday, midnight, of each week.

This offer is open to amateur writers of all ages, particularly to those of East Haven and vicinity. Do not be discouraged if your entry is not immediately selected, just "Try, try again," and soon you will win out.

You do your part, we'll do our part, and together show East Haven that through our humble medium, will someday emerge writers of great renown.

Sincerely,

YE EDITOR.

INTO THE TWILIGHT

Out-worn heart, in a time out-worn,
Come clear of the nets of wrong and right;
Laugh, heart, again in the twilight,
Sigh, heart, again in the dew of the morn.

Your mother Eire is always young,
Dew ever shining and twilight Gray;
Though hope fall from you and love decay,
Burning in fires of a slanderous tongue.

Come, heart, where hill is heaped upon hill:
For there the mystical brotherhood
Of sun and moon and hollow and wood
And river and stream work out their will;

And God stands winding His lonely horn,
And time and the world are ever in flight;
And love is less kind than the gray twilight,
And hope is less dear than the dew of the morn.

OUR ORGANIZATIONS

EAST HAVEN GARDEN CLUB
As this is the time of year when flowers open up their beautiful delicate buds, it seems quite appropriate to publish some facts about the East Haven Garden Club.

The organization was founded in May of 1933, with Mrs. Arthur Sperry as its first president. The club has a membership of 20 and meets on the third Tuesday of the month. The present officers are as follows: Mrs. Robert M. Taylor, president; Mrs. Frederick Klein, vice-president; Mrs. John Moran, secretary; Mrs. George Johnson, treasurer, and Mrs. Donald Chidsey, chairman of the program committee.

Christ of the Andes
Although there is no trace of the inscription on the monument known as the Christ of the Andes, says a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer, there is a tradition that the following inscription was originally carved in the stone: "Sooner shall these mountains crumble to dust than Argentines and Chileans break the peace which at the feet of Christ the Redeemer they have sworn to maintain." The statue was erected on the boundary line between Chile and Argentina, in Upsallata Pass, to commemorate the peaceful settlement of a boundary dispute in 1902. The dedication ceremonies took place March 13, 1904.

What's What In BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

An open forum for the discussion and explanation of construction and material problems
By Walter R. Shiner
Reg. Architect, State of Conn.

SUPERVISING SMALL HOME CONSTRUCTION

In general, as material is delivered to the job, always check it with the specifications and plans for kind of material, make and quality and if it does not conform, it should be rejected. If contractor wishes to substitute another material in place of that specified because of convenience in buying or delivery, it may be allowed if of equal quality and appearance, providing the contractor makes the request and submits proper data so that the owner may be able to make proper and reasonable judgement.

Check the material for the basement walls and if of stone, see that the stone is hard and not full of seams which split easily (usually caused by blasting at the quarry) and that at least one quarter of the stones are large enough to cover or go through the full thickness of the walls. If the general run of the stone is too small, reject it. When the wall is being built, see that it is bonded at proper intervals with large stones the full thickness of the wall. If of brick, concrete or cinder blocks see that walls are laid in line, all joints and hollows in the middle of the wall are slushed full with mortar. Brick walls should be bonded every sixth course of brick.

If of concrete, check the wood forms to see that the walls are of the proper thickness and that forms are properly tied and braced to prevent bulging of the walls after the weight of the concrete has been added. Watch and check the location of door and window openings and see if the plumber has provided for holes in the walls for soil, waste and other pipes, as when the concrete has once set it will be found that changes are very difficult as well as unsatisfactory.

The concrete mixture must be watched to see that properly balanced ingredients are used, for instance, a good concrete for general use is composed of one part Portland Cement, two and one half parts of sharp sand and five parts of broken stone with proper amount of water added. If waterproofing or hardener is called for, see that it is being used and used properly.

TOWN TEAM TO

MEET LYME HERE

By Gordon Stevens, Sports Editor

E. H. To Meet Lyme Here
The East Haven town team will stack up against the hard hitting outfit from Old Lyme Sunday afternoon at Olson's field.

The townies have revamped their line-up for this contest, and will show a few new faces. Either Moore or Arcucci will face Old Lyme, with Lou DeFillippo doing the catching. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

East Haven Lose to Moodus
The townies traveled to Moodus last Sunday afternoon and lost out in a 13 inning contest by the score of 6-5.

Four runs in the fifth inning clinched the battle for Moodus. The hitting star of the day was young Thompson who collected two hits off the Moodus twirler.

The Hat-Box

YOUTHFUL MATRON
Off-face Hats

One splendid particular model of a youthful off-face hat is made of chalk-white felt. Across the back at the close neckline is a one and one-half inch rolled up brim. This brim sweeps upward toward the front, gradually widening into four-inch wide ends. These two ends are tied into a soft, loose knot at the top front, with pointed ends projecting broadly at either side. A large pearl pin shoots through the loose knot. This trim gives a full, heavier appearance which is more becoming to matrons.

Some matrons feel that they cannot wear an off-face hat, but this model is not trying in the least.

NIGHT

When the day is done,
And the setting sun sheds a last pale ray
On his western way—
Then the stars appear
When no clouds are near,
And bedeck anew
The arcade of blue,
With jewels of light
To gladden the night.

As one, by one,
The silver stars come,
To sprinkle the sky
So dark and so high,
A hush and a rest
To Mother Earth's breast,
So softly descends
And soothingly lends,
A quiet retreat
For earth's tired feet.

How wondrous is night
With its soft dim light!
With its falling dew
All life to renew!
With the healing balm
Of its quiet and calm!
When even a bird, from its nest is heard
Apeeping its dreams,
How Holy it seems!

No sound in the night!
Stars only for light!
Stars without number
Guarding earth's slumber!
So still all things keep,
That the stars seem to sleep
As dimmer they fade
Ere a new day is made—
When dawn's golden light
Replaces the night.

Facing America's Basic Problem

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Congress at this time is proposing a thorough study of the pressing problem of unemployment.

Every thoughtful American will approve such a plan. For as all citizens realize, widespread re-employment—with its consequent increases in production and in income for workers—constitutes the true key to recovery.

Yet like all ills, the current one of joblessness is difficult to solve without proper diagnosis. And that, according to many students of government, has been lacking. Earlier proposals for an accurate census of the jobless appear to have been ignored, while relief costs show no sign of shrinking.

In the place of some such accurate census, various estimates of the extent and nature of unemployment have been published. But these have varied widely—adding to the confusion. There is no question that a true knowledge of just who are out of jobs—and why—would help greatly in approaching a solution to this basic problem of the day.

Whether or not the proposed Congressional study contemplates such a count at this time has not been stated. But a sense of justice would seem to demand it—justice not only to the unfortunate job-hunters themselves, but to the millions of workers who bear the cost of aiding the unemployed, and who have a right to know just how their money is spent.

Every taxpayer is eager to help the jobless—but he wants to know that his money accomplishes that purpose without political ineptitude or waste.

And only through a sincere attempt to learn the facts can he get that assurance.

Amateur Writers Column Revived

For a long while, the Amateurs Writers Column has lain dormant, but this week, the column has again ben revived from its long slumber, as for the first time since its beginning a story has been sent in by Edward Giering, of 200 Kimberly Avenue, which Yo Editor thought was quite clever. It reads as follows:

HUMORESQUE

Detective Scott looked wryly toward the telephone for the second time in fifteen minutes. Quietness and peacefulness never seemed to be in his share of life. Reaching quickly for the phone, he let out a sigh of surrender.

"Hello? Yeess-yes-alright."
Hurriedly putting on his coat, he grabbed up his hat and pushed open the door leading to the study, ran down the stairs, opened the door and yelled, "Be back in an hour", to an astonished maid, and was off in a flurry of dust in his coupe.

Driving down the main street, he branched off into a lonesome road with an old rail fence that probably hadn't had a second coat of paint since the town had started growing. After riding for twenty minutes, he watched closely each side of the road for a narrow driveway. After scanning the roadside closely, he saw the remains of an iron hitching post and beside it a weed-grown driveway. Riding quickly over the driveway, he came suddenly upon a large, white house which had two wings stretching out in the rear of it. Detective Scott jumped from his car to the porch. An elderly lady with dark-rimmed glasses and wearing an old-fashioned maids uniform, appeared.

With a hurried entrance she showed him down a dark hall to a large room in which sat another lady in her sixties. The old lady beckoned him to a chair opposite herself.

"Detective Scott?" she asked. He nodded.

"I am Mrs. Schlitzen, widow of

"I suppose you wonder why I called you. I'll tell you. Two nights ago my maid, Sarah, thought she heard noises upstairs in the attic. The next morning, she arose early and went upstairs. As soon as she could she ran to my room. Detective Scott," she continued slowly. "Sarah saw a dead man lying on the floor with a white cloth wrapped around him."
"May I see the body?" asked Scott slowly.

"Sarah will show it to you," replied Mrs. Schlitzen.
With these words, Sarah, white and trembling, showed him upstairs through the still hall to the attic.

Trembling, Sarah pointed half-way along the floor of the attic. Detective Scott followed where she pointed, bent over the body, and looked up in surprise with a smile less than two minutes they were again downstairs with Mrs. Schlitzen.

"Mrs. Schlitzen", he asked, "where did Mr. Schlitzen keep his statues when he made them?"
"Why, at the top of the attic stairs."
"Well, then," said Detective Scott, smiling broadly, "One of them must have fallen down two nights ago."

Meaning of Bumps Around Ears

Grouped round the back of the ears are the bumps relating to possession, aggression and impatience. Immediately above and around the ear is a bump which, if well-formed, means that the sitter is quick to seize opportunities, says a phrenologist in London Answers Magazine. But if it is too highly developed, he is impatient and can be harsh and revengeful if thwarted.

Isaac Watts, Hymn Writer
 Isaac Watts, the hymn writer, was born at Southampton in 1674. From 1696 to 1701 he was a tutor in the family of Sir John Hartopp. He became minister of the independent church at Mark Lane, London, 1702, resigning in 1712 because of ill health. Watts was a popular writer and his theological works were numerous. His treatise on "Logic" became well known, but his reputation rests chiefly upon his hymns. He died in 1748.

 The phrase, "pathetic fallacy" was invented by Ruskin to designate the illusion that external objects seem actuated by human feelings, particularly when one is under great emotional strain.

Back to Nature
 Astronomers turn to the spider for one of the most necessary accessories of their meridian telescopes. For fine cross hairs, to stretch across the field of the telescope and mark the central line by which the passage of stars is to be gauged, there is nothing to excel a strand from a spider's web, says a writer in Coronet. Even the unpopular housefly may furnish a serviceable part for a research instrument. An astronomer found a fly's wing useful in the construction of a delicate device for measuring the heat of remote stars.

Camels Can Make Speed
 Although the usual camel caravan moves at about 3 miles an hour, swift runners can carry a rider a 100 miles in a single day.

Capitol To Present "Parnell"

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of the coming week, the Capitol presents Clark Gable and Myrna Loy in "Parnell," a story of an uncrowned king who sacrificed fame for love.

As the co-feature of the evening, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy will treat you to a good laugh in their latest farce, "Way Out West." This is a grand show, all in all. A single and newsreel round out the program.

Naming Indian Summer
 Indian summer was named because white settlers noted it was the busiest hunting and meat drying season of the year for Indians, in preparation for winter, says an eastern columnist.

See Sun Below Horizon
 Refraction always increases the apparent altitude of a celestial body and it is for this reason that the sun can be seen above the horizon when it is really below.

Earliest Evidence of Occupation
 The earliest evidence of human occupation in the United States is in the desert regions of California, Arizona and New Mexico, once the sites of lakes. Their shores were the habitat of the more powerful tribes. Early explorers found living in the more arid regions the least powerful tribes and fleet-footed herbivorous animals, antelope, bison and jackrabbits.

94-Year-Reign Is Record
 The longest reign in history is attributed to an early Egyptian king, Peu the Second, who ruled ninety-four years.
