

Reynolds Dinner Well Attended

Over 300 East Haveners attended the Testimonial Dinner in honor of Judge Edward L. Reynolds, at Wilcox's Pier Restaurant, West Haven, last evening, which was a huge success. A chicken dinner was served.

State's Attorney Samuel E. Hoyt acted as Toastmaster, and introduced the following speakers: Judge Raymond Devlin, Mr. Clarence Willard, chairman of the State Central Committee; County Commissioner Robert H. Gerrish; Republican Town Chairman Frederick Kirk, of Hamden and Senator William White.

Among those seated at the Guest's Table were: Judge and Mrs. Edward L. Reynolds, Mr. Russell Mallinson, State's Attorney Samuel E. Hoyt, Judge Raymond Devlin, Mr. Clarence Willard, chairman State Central Committee; County Commissioner Robert H. Gerrish, Republican Town Chairman Frederick Kirk, of Hamden; and Senator William White.

Jack Lawlor's Society Orchestra furnished the music and entertainment. Mr. Russell Mallinson was chairman of the general committee.

OPPORTUNITY

We see discussed more or less frequently, in newspaper editorials and magazine articles, the thought that Opportunity, or the door of opportunity is not open so wide to-day, as in past years. The youth of to-day is apt to say—"That day is passed in which the opportunity for advancement can be found on every corner". The fact is, opportunity was never found on every corner. It has always been necessary to look for it. Opportunity never seeks the individual, the individual must seek the opportunity. It is a true saying, "Nothing worth while comes easy", and the sooner youth realizes this fact, the sooner will youth find the door of opportunity opening, and to his amazement, he will find that he himself is doing the opening.

When shall he begin to open the door—"Do it now", Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "a child's training should begin in the life of his grandmother." There is a real truth hidden in this sentence. The boys and girls of to-day are the men and women of to-morrow, and the to-morrow speedily comes. This being true, the time to begin to open the door of opportunity is now-to-day. Prepare now and opportunity will take care of itself.

The door of Opportunity is not a big door necessarily. It may be at first, an inviting door. It may be apparently very uninviting. It may even be a very undesirable door—a back door—a side door—but the door is there and waiting to be opened. W. J. Cameron in one of his Ford radio talks said, "That it may be a plain, humble door makes no difference whatever.

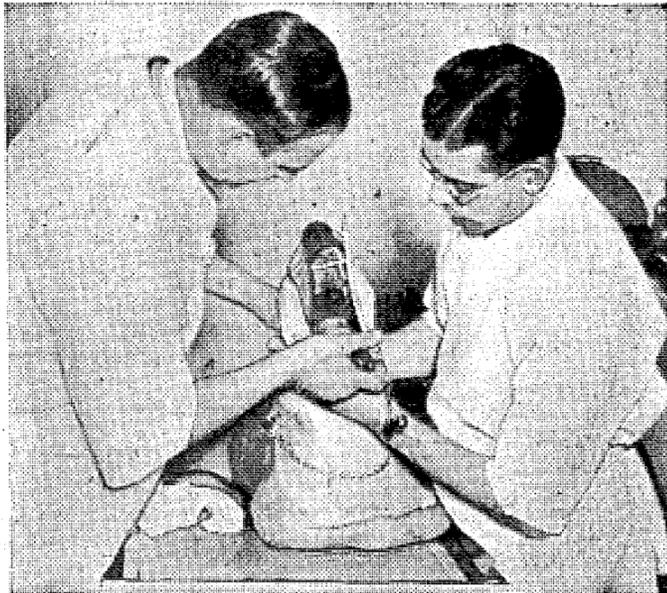

Every door, big or little, plain or humble, opens up the same wide world of possibilities and every career will stretch or shrink to the size of the person who makes the choice, who opens the door."

TOWN BRIEFS

A building permit was issued during the past week to Ruth Homer for a one-family house to be built in High Street, at a cost of $3,000. There will be a meeting of the Board of Education this evening in the High School. The budget for next year will be discussed.

Repairs have been made on Foxon and Highland schools.

Any new families who have moved into town having children to be entered in either elementary or high school, will kindly get in touch with Superintendent of Schools William E. Gillis at the high school in Tyler St.

Many of the local teachers are taking courses at the Yale Summer school.

Mr. William E. Fagerstrom, principal of the high school, here, is bus working on the schedule for the coming year.

Beauty Contest Attracts Interest

Attracting great interest at Mansfield Grove lately is the Beauty Contest which opened there last Sunday evening, under the direction of Mr. Thomas F. Murphy.

This is an annual event which is looked forward to from year to year by East Haven, New Haven and the surrounding towns.

Last Sunday the first of the eliminations were held, the second to be held this week. The date for the finals has not as yet been set, but will be very shortly.

Old-Time Pictures Requested For Publication

East Haven has changed considerably in appearance since the turn of the century and many people, especially the younger generation, would be interested in seeing East Haven as it used to be.

Many of you old-timers most likely have many pictures of the old East Haven put away in drawers or cubby-holes and the CITIZEN would appreciate it, if you would send them in to us, so that we may publish them.

The CITIZEN will extend the greatest of care to them and see to it that every picture sent in is returned to its right owner.

Kindly send pictures, with name and address to THE EAST HAVEN CITIZEN, 265 MAIN STREET, EAST HAVEN, CONNECTICUT.

Town Health Reported Normal

According to the Connecticut Health Bulletin for the month of July, issued by the State, the following report was recorded for East Haven.

During the month of June, 1937, there have been reported 2 cases of measles; 56 cases of whooping cough; 1 lobar pneumonia, and 39 other common diseases.

As for births, marriages and deaths, no marriages have been reported during May, 1937, but there have been 9 births and 3 deaths. One death under one year has been recorded.

Great Thoughts
Nurture your mind with great thoughts; to believe in the heroic makes heroes.

It was recently learned through Mr. Alvin Sanford, Republican Registrar, here, that Mr. William Tolento, of 29 Jean Street, Foxon has been appointed registrar for the second district, namely Foxon.

Mr. Tolento has been moderator for the second district and is a great worker in the Republican ranks in East Haven and Foxon. He has been a resident of East Haven for a number of years. Mr. Tolento succeeds Mr. John Mele, as registrar for that district.

Dr. E. D. Harvey To Preach Final Sermon

Dr. Edwin D. Harvey, interim pastor of the Old Stone Church here, will preach his farewell sermon this Sunday, August 1.

Dr. Harvey kindly accepted the request of the Pulpit Committee, headed by Mr. Sidney Everett, to preach here indefinitely, following the resignation of Rev. Emerson L. Curry last December, until such arrangements could be made to acquire a permanent pastor. Since then, a permanent pastor has been appointed in the Rev. William H. Nicolas, who is scheduled to preach here September 12.

Dr. Harvey has preached faithfully since last December, a period of eight months.

Upon leaving here, Dr. Harvey plans to spend his time in scientific research at Yale University.

Rev. Mr. Nicolas is expected to occupy the parsonage on September 8.

Town Boasts Five Hospitals

On passing through the center of East Haven, one would never realize that East Haven was a town of hospitals, but the truth of it is that there are five hospitals within the township that have been licensed by the State of Connecticut as of July 6, 1937.

The local hospitals are not considered as general hospitals, but are hospitals for chronic and convalescent patients. East Haven is among the leaders in having the most number of such hospitals among the smaller towns of the State.

The various hospitals in East Haven are listed as follows with its corresponding address and manager: Connecticut Osteopathic Hospital, 596 Thompson Avenue, Dr. C. Tyler Holbrook, D. O.; Monroe Home, 274 Hemingway Avenue, 1st floor, Mrs. Mary Monroe Seeley; Monroe Home Annex, 274 Hemingway Avenue, 2nd floor, Mrs. Olive Scanlon; Parkhurst Sanitarium, 93 High Street, Mr. Harry W. Brinley; and the Scranton Convalescent Home, 270 Hemingway Avenue, Mrs. Marion A. Scranton.

DR. EDWIN D. HARVEY

As Dr. Edwin D. Harvey will preach his farewell sermon in the Old Stone Church, this Sunday, the CITIZEN wishes to pay tribute to a man who has done his level best to help the Old Stone Church through a very critical period.

Dr. Harvey filled a hard position, and due to the fine, strong character he possesses came out on top. His sermons were of the highest type and he brought home many, many good points to the congregation.

If Dr. Harvey was approached with the statement that he has performed a remarkable service here, it would be like him to reply, "that the Lord above knew that the Church needed a pastor, and so He called upon me to answer his prayer."

AMATEUR WRITERS — ATTENTION

DEAR AMATEUR WRITERS:

There is a certain thrill that one acquires upon having one's own written compositions published in a periodical of any description, and of this fact ye editor is well aware of in offering you a chance to receive this wonderful sensation.

Just take your pencil and paper, sit down in a nice, quiet corner, and write a story, an article, a poem, or various other literary pieces, and upon completion send it to THE EAST HAVEN CITIZEN, 265 Main Street, East Haven, and ye editor will pass judgment on each and every one, the best of which will be published in the CITIZEN each week.

Each entry must not exceed 500 words, write on one side of the paper only, and if a type-writer is used a double space is preferred. The copy must be received no later than Tuesday, midnight, of each week.

This offer is open to amateur writers of all ages, particularly to those of East Haven and vicinity. Do not be discouraged if your entry is not immediately selected, just "Try, try again," and soon you will win out.

You do your part, we'll do our part, and together show East Haven that through our humble medium, will someday emerge writers of great renown.

Sincerely,

YE EDITOR.

HALF-HOUR READING CLUB

This week, we bring you a few important facts about the Half-Hour Reading Club, a very distinguished organization. It was organized in June, 1919. The club has a membership of 33, and meets in the Library on the first Thursday of every month. Each year the organization entertains the Branford Reading Club.

The newly elected officers, who will take up duties in the fall are as follows: Mrs. Leland Harrison, president; Mrs. Viola Knight, vice-president; Mrs. Phillip Tarbell, secretary; Mrs. Warren Crawford, treasurer; and Mrs. Arthur Sperry, chairman of the nominating committee.

A group of negroes were lying on the floor in front of the fireplace, when one of them spoke up: "Is it a-rainin' out?" "Ah don't know," replied another prostrate figure. "Well, git up and look," insisted the first voice. "Aw, hell," said the persecuted one, lazily, "call de dawg in and see if he's wet."

"What, she has two wooden legs? How does she walk?" "Oh, she just lumbers along."

Teacher: "Children, there will be only a half-day of school this morning." Johnny (in back seat): "Whoop-pee! Hurray!" Teacher: "Silence. We'll have the other half this afternoon."

He took her hand in his and gazed proudly at the engagement ring he had given her only three days before. "Did your friends admire it?" he inquired, tenderly. "They did more than that," she replied. "Two of them recognized it!"

What's What In BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

An open forum for the discussion and explanation of construction and material problems By Walter R. Shiner Reg. Architect, State of Conn.

SUPERVISING SMALL HOME CONSTRUCTION

The ingredients of the concrete should also be checked individually. Better for the uninitiated to avoid the use of natural cements and accept only Portland Cement or equal. See that the bags of cement is not hard in the bottom of the bags. A simple test is to make a patie of half sand and half cement with enough water to mould it in the hand, then check to see if it sets within a reasonable time and whether it can be broken easily by hand after the set.

Sand should be sharp and free from loam or other foreign matter and should be screened. Squeeze a handful and if it is rough on the hands and falls away loosely, approve it; if it keeps its shape, it is liable to be an indication of presence of loam, and one should be cautious about accepting it. The aggregate (stone or gravel) should be clean and of an even size as called for. Trap Rock is to be preferred although gravel will do it well screened and all foreign matter removed.

The mixing must be carefully watched as this is usually done by laborers on small work and they are liable to mix each batch differently if allowed free rein.

Use a bag of cement as the unit of measure which is about one cubic foot or 94 pounds. By weight is the only accurate way but on small work it is usually done by volume.

When mixed by hand the sand should be spread and upon this the cement, then mix dry, add water, then spread again. Add broken stone and water for proper consistency, then mix thoroughly. Sea sand may be used if other sand is not available if not too smooth or too fine. In cold weather the salt helps to prevent freezing and salt is often added for this purpose;—10 per cent of salt in the mixing water will not affect the ultimate strength of the concrete.

Watch carefully to see that an over amount of water is not added as even two additional gallons to a cubic yard will cut the strength of the concrete almost in half. Seven or eight gallons to a cubic yard should be the limit and six gallons the minimum. The amount of water required is determined by the amount of water which the sand contains, some sand having as much as two gallons of water per cubic yard. For ordinary purposes, see that only enough water is added to make a good consistency which will be soft enough to spread enough in the forms to properly fill the voids when tamped.

Cormorants Trained to Fish for Their Masters Cormorants are able to retain four or five river trout—about six inches in length—in their elastic, pouchlike necks at the same time. To keep the birds from swallowing their catch a tight-fitting collar is attached to the base of their necks. The cormorants keep on diving for food to appease their voracious hunger, and, because they are practically brainless, apparently do not mind having their catch taken away from them as soon as their throats are filled with trout.

In China and Japan, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, cormorants have been trained to fish for their masters from time immemorial, and early in the Seventeenth century this practice was introduced into Europe as a sport. In the East the cormorants are taught to fish either from the bank or from a raft or boat. Invariably they wear a tight-fitting collar, to which a cord is attached, to prevent them swallowing their prey.

As the birds come to the surface after a long dive, their throats filled with river trout, the fishermen pull them into their boats or to the shore and force them to disgorge their catch. This is very simple, for all the fisherman has to do is to grasp the base of the bird's neck and squeeze its catch out.

Town Team To Meet Moodus

By Gordon Stevens, Sports Editor

You can't blame the women for objecting to cook over a hot stove this sizzling weather, when there are so many cool appetizing menus that may be prepared, such as the following may suggest.

ICICLE BLUE PLATE
Tomato Juice Frappe
Stuffed Eggs
Sardines
Radishes
Carrot Sticks
Olives
Devised Cheese Sandwiches on Whole Wheat Bread

For desert serve a hot, fresh fruit cobbler. This may be prepared early in the day and be baked just before serving time. Place sugared fruit in an oven-wire dish, cover with baking powder biscuit dough made from prepared flour.

TOYAMA TOMATO JUICE FRAPPE
Season tomato juice with a little onion, piece of bay leaf, a few celery seeds, lemon juice, sugar, salt, pepper and a dash of cayenne. Simmer gently for 5 minutes. Cool, pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze to a mush. Serve in individual ramekins or custard cups.

The following recipe makes a delicious summer-time dessert.

CHOCOLATE ICE BOX PUDDING
4 slices white bread
1/4 inch thick
Melted Butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
1 package Chocolate Pudding
1 cup Evaporated milk
1 cup water
1/2 cup heavy cream

Remove crusts from bread, cut into fingers 1/2-inch wide. Place in slow oven, 275° F., until dry and light brown. Dip bread into melted butter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixed together, return to oven for a few minutes. Add evaporated milk and water gradually to chocolate pudding.

TOYO PANAMAS

Toyo Panamas are classed as being very practical. They come mostly in the deeper crowns with medium breadth brims. They are generally trimmed with a band of program ribbon and short colored feathers at the left side.

This is an excellent model for the matrons who cannot, will not, or do not wish to accommodate themselves to the newer lines. It seems that this is the reason they are shown season after season.

Toyo panama is imitation panama, but from the distance one can hardly notice the difference. At one end of the season toyo is badly worn and ragged looking, while panama endures for years.

mix until smooth. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until it has thickened. Arrange bread sticks in 4 dessert glasses, pour pudding into glasses. Cool and chill. Serve with whipped cream.

East Haven To Oppose Moodus The East Haven Town Team will cross bats with the strong Moodus club Sunday afternoon on Olson's field at 3 P. M.

In the last contest between these two teams Moodus won, out in a 13 inning battle by the score of 6-5. The townies have been strengthened for the fray and the boys feel confident of victory.

Jimmy Moore will throw them for the townies, with Lou DeFillipo doing the catching.

Stark drama will be seen in "The Soldier And the Lady," starring Anton Walbrook, Margot Grahame and Elizabeth Allen, which is playing today and to-morrow at the Capitol. "We Have Our Moments", a light comedy with James Dunn and Sally Eilers is the co-feature. Bank night is scheduled for Saturday night.

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday those mad Marxes will be seen in their latest farce comedy, "A Day At The Races," with Allan Jones, who will sing his way into your heart. The second feature will be "Girl Overboard," with Gloria Stuart and Walter Pidgeon.

Kay Francis and Errol Flynn in "Another Dawn" will be the star attraction on Wednesday and Thursday, along with Olivia de Haviland in "Call It A Day". Ladies Gift Night is an added attraction on both nights.
