Business Assoc. To Urge Interest

Much discussion concerning the lack of interest among the local merchants in the East Haven Business & Professional Men's Association, was made during the meeting of the club last Monday noon at Gus's Main Restaurant.

Due to this, a committee was formed of Mr. Harold F. Nash, chairman; Mr. Frank Hartman, Mr. Edward Dickinson and Mr. Graham H. Shiner to contact every business man in East Haven and urge their co-operation in the further organization of the club by attending the special meeting called for Monday, January 17, where an enjoyable meal will be enjoyed by the members at Gus's at 12 noon.

Mr. Arthur L. Griffiths, M. A., Yale, author, lecturer, radio artist and advertising manager of THE CITIZEN, gave an interesting talk on the Philippines following the luncheon.

Other words familiar to him include pan, keys, dog, cans, meat, check, clip and cat.

STATE RATES AMONG HIGHEST IN VISITORS TO FLORIDA'S WINTER COLONY

New York Leads With One-sixth of Winter Visitors.

Connecticut, according to statistics in the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times of November 25, 1937, rates high among the states in the number of winter visitors that go to St. Petersburg each year. Statistics compiled by the St. Petersburg Chamber of Commerce, show that last year about one-sixth of all the people registering came from New York state. This tallies with previous years, for each winter since 1914-15 the Empire state, with few exceptions, has led all 48 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

Foreign license tags on automobiles are so common a sight that the green and white emblem of Florida often finds itself outnumbered. Most of the foreign tags are from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Illinois, but there are others, too, from far-off Washington, Arizona, Wyoming and Iowa. Lately there has been an increase in California tags.

Many 'First Visitors'

Last year, 33.14 per cent, or 20,916 out of the 63,115 arrivals, signified that this was their first visit in St. Petersburg. The gain in registrations last year was 6,895 or 12.26 per cent, over those of the 1935-36 season. Records of transportation were kept, showing that 42,721, or 67.69 per cent, came by automobile; 17,524, or 27.77 per cent by rail; 2,021, or 3.20 per cent by bus; 805, or 1.28 per cent by water, and 44, or .06 per cent, by air.

Cities that sent the largest number of visitors to St. Petersburg last year were Chicago (1,437); New York (1,148); Detroit (1,061); Pittsburgh (1,001); Cleveland (969); Philadelphia (874); Washington (856); Brooklyn (819) and Toronto (811).

Ten Canadian cities were well represented in the 1936-37 registrations.

Total registration for the past two seasons for the New England States and New York are:

	1936-37	1935-36
Connecticut	1,665	1,609
Massachusetts	4,987	4,810

Rhode Island	612	538
New Hampshire	947	968
Vermont	541	492
Maine	1,506	1,400
New York	10,852	9,827

Connecticut Society

Members of the Connecticut Tourist society of the "Sunshine City," anticipate the continuation of another year of good times in Florida. The club meets regularly at the new Tourist Center each Thursday evening and fourth Thursday afternoon during the winter season, but throws in for a good measure other activities such as card parties, dinners, luncheons, boat trips and beach outings.

A branch of the group is the Connecticut Sewing society, members of which meet in the afternoons to sew for the Needlework Guild, American Legion Hospital for Crippled Children, Florence Crittenton Home and other worthy projects.

Arthur D. Ayars, Candor, N. Y., is president; Mrs. Ruth Howard, Hartford, vice-president; Mrs. Mazie Clark, Higganum, secretary; George Rudkin, Hartford, treasurer, and James R. Veitch, Manchester, auditor.

PUBLIC SERVICES

Since the public services are closely geared to the general business and industrial machinery, the public utilities which furnish those services are the first to record, on their production charts, the trends, up or down, in the business situation, and in 1937 there was no truer measure of the general trend than the demand for public services.

A survey among Connecticut's public utility companies shows that the demand for service was larger than in many years and in some cases was of unprecedented size, and that this trend continued through the summer into August and September when the business recession hit. In the latter months of the old year, the demand followed the downward swoop of business.

Taken as a whole, the twelve months of 1937 yielded larger gross revenues than in 1936 or preceding years, but sharply rising operating costs and increased taxes ate their way into those revenues to reduce net incomes substantially below the point which might have been expected. This situation resulted in a slackening of the pace of rate reductions as compared with previous years, but further cuts in prices were made nevertheless. Rate reductions in Connecticut by light and power companies alone, amounted to $3,376,00 for the years 1932 through 1936, a pace which utility managements feel cannot be fully resumed until business has recovered and the growing tendency toward making tax-collectors out of the utilities is retarded.

MADAME CURIE
by Eve Curie
This is the biography of Madame Marie Curie, discoverer of radium, twice winner of the Noble Prize, the greatest of all women scientists.

The story that it tells is almost too strange to be true. It is that of a little Polish girl, daughter of an impoverished and patriotic professor in Poland still in the iron clutch of Russia; forced to earn a living as a governess in country houses on the Polish steppes while her elder sister studied in Paris on the combined meagre funds of the family, able finally to reach Paris herself when the sister married, starving in stone garrels, often on the verge of collapse, beautiful, poor and burning with an unappeasable ambition.

At last she met Pierre Curie, married him and went on to her first achievements in science still largely ignored by the world. A street accident killed Pierre, and with her two children she carried her work forward alone. The note of triumph deepens; a new science, a new concept of the physical world was growing beneath her slender hands. Because of her, the armament of medicine was to gain a tremendous new weapon, and man's knowledge was able to reach out toward strange new frontiers.

The power and the glory came at last, but she did not want them; the honors pouring in on her frail head counted less with her than her note books, her test-tubes, the bare laboratory walls. To her death it was science and mankind she cared for, not fame.

THE PEARL OF THE EAST

by Arthur L. Griffiths, M.A., Yale

But it is not of the oddities of that garden spot that we must think, but of its indescribable beauties. "Wondrous, beautiful and calm, is the country of the palm; Crowned with sunset and sunrise, Under blue, unbroken skies; Spreading from green zone to zone, Over wonders of its own. Trackless, untraversed, unknown, Changeless through the centuries." It might be as well to mention the beautiful lines above to mention a fact quite the opposite. My first year was spent in northern Luzon, far in the mountainous interior at the pueblo, or town, of Bucay. There was only one way out of the town by land and that was over what remained of the old Spanish road back toward the China Sea and to Tayum and the Capitol, Bangued. At one section of the original road, it passed down the jungle-clad hills at the wild, uninhabited region of Battio. I never passed that section on pony-back without an uncanny and uncomfortable feeling, for there the battle had been fought between Colonel Villamor and his Filipinos and the Fifth U. S. Infantry.

Right at the base of the hill, alongside the Cogon grass swale where the bolomen had hid, was a stone and cement bridge pock-marked by Filipino bullets. Crossing the bridge going toward the west, you at once came to a great mud-hole directly in the middle of where the road had been. How it seemed as if its sticky arms

What's What In BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

An open forum for the discussion and explanation of construction and material problems
By Walter R. Shiner

SUPERVISING SMALL HOME CONSTRUCTION

If the scheme calls for mahogany stain or mahogany finish, real mahogany, birch, gum-wood or white-wood may be used. The mahogany may be stained or left natural; the other woods stained with mahogany stain of shade desired and finished with gloss varnish, flat varnish, or wax.

It may be kept in mind that only a few thousand feet of lumber is required to trim the average home and that the difference per thousand between a cheap looking wood and a high grade appearing wood is only a very few dollars.

It is therefore very poor economy to select and use a cheap looking wood when real mahogany may be had for a matter of $20 to $40 additional. This mistake is commonly made because the layman does not know and is not told the facts. For mahogany stain, the penetrating stain is preferable to oil stains in most cases and will give the best color results.

WATCH THE FIRST FIVE POUNDS

The reason why most people grow fat is that they wait until they are fat before they do anything about it. When you allow yourself to accumulate 15 to 20 pounds more or less, you conclude that it is difficult for you to reduce. I would like to tell every person to watch the first five pounds which they gain, then they will not have to worry about the others, for one can lose five pounds in a short time through our health courses.

Here's a "play system" of exercise, individually given to each person to fit his or her own individual case and needs. Recipes for Poisons of Borgias Bared by Girl

London.—Recipes of the deadly poisons used by the Borgias have been placed in the vaults of a London bank to prevent them getting in the hands of the wrong people. They were discovered by Miss Kitty Shannon, daughter of Sir James Shannon, when she went to Italy to discover material for a book.

Miss Shannon advertised in a newspaper of Rome for somebody who knew the recipes. First callers were the police who had to be reassured that the recipes were not to be put into actual use. Next came a chemist, who claimed his ancestors had prepared poison for the Borgias. He gave Miss Shannon ten different recipes. "I was appalled by the simplicity of some of them," Miss Shannon said.

"One is prepared by boiling down three common weeds. "One drop of it can kill in fifteen minutes." The recipes will be kept at the bank until destroyed.

JEFFS TO TAKE ON CITY-WIDE CHAMPIONS

E. H. H. S. To Meet Stratford

By Eddie Munson, Sports Editor

Next Saturday in the East Haven High Gym the Jeffs will take on the City-Wide Champion Sally Oil five.

The Sally Oilers are undefeated this season and should give the home array a whale of a battle.

In the preliminary contest the undefeated Jeff girls will tackle the Odds and Ends girls of New Haven in a game that should be a real test for the local team.

Jeffs Take P. N. A.

The Jeff Big Five scored a pair of fine wins this past week beating the P. N. A. team 41-34 Saturday and overcoming the Ansonia Blue Devils 50-39 in a return game Sunday.

Saturday's game, which was played in the East Haven High School gym, was a close battle for the first half but the sharp shooting of the Sheehan brothers and Swirsky in the last two periods caused the Jeff triumph.

The Jeff girls whipped the Bristol Ingrahams in the preliminary, 25-19.

Sunday evening, the Jeffs traveled to Ansonia and turned in a spectacular win at the expense of the Ansonia Blue Devils. The Blue Devils had defeated the Jeffs in the first game of the season and it seemed they were about to repeat until the Jeffs went on a rampage in the last period, scoring 18 points to the Blue Devils 6.

E. H. H. S. - Stratford

East Haven will try to get back in the win column tonight when they tackle Stratford High in the Stratford Gym. Although the Blue and Gold was edged by Branford Tuesday, they have high hopes of advancing their Housatonic League standing by defeating Stratford tonight.

The Jayvees of the two schools will meet in the opening game which starts at 7:30.

To Meet Madison

Tuesday, January 18, East Haven will again hit the road when they meet Madison on the Madison court. This isn't a Housatonic loop contest but should prove interesting as the teams seem evenly matched.

The East Haven and Madison seconds will tangle in the preliminary.

East Haven Takes Derby

East Haven's High School team invaded Derby last Friday night and nosed out Derby High 42-37. It was a close game all the way with East Haven clinching the victory in the last few minutes of play.

Branford Trips East Haven

East Haven dropped a heart-breaker to Branford High Tuesday night by a 42-32 margin. It was East Haven's initial defeat in the Housatonic League and dropped them to second place in the league standing.

Fifteen hundred people, the largest crowd to ever witness a game in the High School gym, saw Branford lead all the way by a slight margin and then draw away in the last few minutes.

Captain Jimmy Glynn of the losers was high scorer making 16 points with Ward of Branford second with 14.

Grammar School League

Although a date hasn't been announced as yet the Grammar school basket ball league will start play in the near future. All the school teams have begun practice and some seem to be shaping up pretty well. The high school gym bleachers are to be taken down so that two grammar school games can go on at the same time.

Ancients Had Sense of Humor

FEATHERED SONGBIRD

"The Metropolitan was never like this," is evidently the thought of Lily Pons, who, garbed in this featherweight costume of vulture feathers, faces the camera from a jungle scene in her newest picture, "Hitting a New High."

His Name Tattooed in 34 Languages and Codes

Marshfield, Ore.—Claiming to be the only man in the world who "cannot be lost," T. D. Rockwell, of Portland, carries his name tattooed in thirty-four languages on his legs. Rockwell said he conceived the idea of the tattooed names to provide him identification for cashing checks no matter what part of the world he traveled in.

Languages include Russian, Italian, Spanish, Japanese, as well as the symbols of the Morse telegraph code, the Continental code and the Braille system. Rockwell said he had several Indian languages he planned to add to his investment—which, he said, already cost him $50.
