Five English Scientists Share Equally In Award Given By Egbert Fuller

Pine Orchard Resident Created Fund of $1,000,000 To Be Used In The Study Of Cancer—Award Made Upon Recommendation Of American Medical Association.

Five scientists, all at the Research Institute of the Royal Cancer Hospital, London, England, Ernest Laurence Kennaway, director, James Wilfrid Cook, Colin Leslie Hewitt, Israel Helger, chemists, and William Valentine Mayneord, physicist, will share equally in the first award of a prize of $7,500 for their contribution to knowledge on the subject of the cause, care, prevention and cure of cancer.

This announcement was made by the Union and New Haven Trust Co. and Carleton E. Stevens trustees of the Anna Fuller Fund.

The fund from which this contribution is made amounts to $1,000,000. It was created under the will of the late Egbert C. Fuller, a manufacturer who died March 5, 1931 of a heart attack. Mr. Fuller gave practically his entire fortune to be used for the study and cause of cancer or a cure. His wife died of cancer in Philadelphia December 14, 1918. In addition to establishment of the huge fund for cancer research Mr. Fuller left $50,000 each to Grace, New Haven and to St. Raphael's Hospitals as memorials to Mrs. Fuller. The Fullers were residents at Pine Orchard and the Pine Orchard Chapel Association was left $1,000 in the Fuller will.

The award was made upon the recommendation of the president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Irvin A. Bell, dean of the Johns Hopkins Medical School, Dr. Alan Chesney, and the dean of the Harvard University Medical School, Dr. C. Sidney Burwell. The prize goes to Professor Kennaway and his associates in recognition of their group study in the fields of chemistry, physics and biology of cancer producing substances, specifically for "Chemical Studies in Carcinogenesis; Isolation and Synthesis of Cancer Producing Hydrocarbons from Coal Tar and their identification by Fluorescence Spectroscopy."

Esther Ralston Will Appear In Playhouse Cast

Elissa Landi and Esther Ralston have signed contracts to appear at the Chapel Playhouse in Guilford this summer. Miss Landi will star in "Tovarich" and Esther Ralston will be seen in a new play, "Let The Mare Run," by Marian Grant and Robert E. Perry.

The casting for the permanent company at Guilford is going forward and in addition to Louise Platt, who is featured in the current motion picture, "Tell No Tales," the actors will be Jean Warren, Alan Hanley, Robert Crane, Peter Van Buren, Edward Franz, Jane Bancroft, Ann Karen and Elizabeth Stearns.

There is a possibility that Martha Sleeper will be booked to appear in A. E. Thomas' "No More Ladies," if the former screen actress can take time off from her thriving costume jewelry business.

Peter Wolf, formerly scenic designer for the Hampton Players in Bridgehampton, L. I., has been signed to design the stage settings for the Chapel Playhouse.

CRUISER IN
Charles Jaffe's new cabin cruiser entered the harbor at Stony Creek last week. The boat replaces one lost in the hurricane.

JOINS PLAYERS
Miss Louise Platt who summers in North Guilford will be featured with the Chapel Playhouse this year.

Mother's Classes at the Health Center will be held every Thursday afternoon through June. They will be discontinued during the summer but will reconvene in October.

Thimble Islands Have Sanitation Inspection Made

State And Local Health Officer Would Eliminate Methods Detrimental To Health

An investigation was made in April of the water supply and sewage disposal facilities of some of the Thimble Islands.

Previous to the hurricane of September a large group of privies was located so that they discharged directly into the water.

When the matter of reconstruction of toilet facilities came to Dr. A. S. McQueen's attention he suggested that occupants might build chemical toilets which would care for the sewage without discharge to the Sound.

This arrangement might have been satisfactory, only the manufacturers of chemical toilets would not guarantee the metal units to be tight indefinitely so in at least one instance there was the possibility of having a well contaminated by the chemical arrangements.

One suggested solution is to construct a concrete vault, privy type toilet so that solids could be stored during the summer time and carted away at a convenient time during the fall. An objection arose that the construction of a concrete vault was practically impossible on some spots because of sea and weather conditions.

A second possibility would be to construct a large chemical toilet so that accumulated wastes could be pumped out and transported by boats for burial on land at the end of the season.

With the use of a common chemical toilet installation might be the discharge of the summer's accumulation into tide water by opening the tank discharge valve if the contents of the tank were found to be adequately disinfected. It might be that additional caustic soda, or even chloride of lime could be added the day previous to the discharge, which should be before the beginning of the oyster season and should be done only under the supervision of the health authorities.

There appeared to be a few places where individual chemical toilets might be installed which would not contaminate in any way the wells.

James F. Hines Will Replace Robert Gerrish

Congratulations were offered James F. Hines, (D) of Thompson Ave. East Haven this week on his appointment as New Haven county commissioner. His unexpected appointment came in the surprise shake-up in which Robert H. Gerrish of Bradley Avenue, failed of reappointment. Hines, chairman of the Democratic town committee since 1931, had not been mentioned as a candidate for the place.

The new county commissioner is well known through New Haven county and was prominently mentioned some time ago as a likely appointee to the post of United States marshal for the district of Connecticut. He is employed in Waterbury and has been for some time, commuting daily. He led the Democratic party through two successful political campaigns here which gave the town a Democratic administration for the first time in years.

He has been a member of the Board of Finance since 1932 and in that place has consistently fought for what he believed to be the right and correct fiscal policies for the town. Mr. Hines also led the fight for an East Haven high school and headed the special committee which had charge of the erection of the present building.

RECEIVE APPOINTMENT
The board of management of Mary Chap Wooster Chapter, D. A. R. has appointed Miss Marion Thatcher to the Girl Home Makers group and Miss Marion Thatcher to historical research.

Fire Laddies To Stage Events On Fifth Field Day

Plans are being made by the M. P. Rice Hose Company No. 2, for their Fifth Annual Field Day, which is to be held at Hammer Community Field, Saturday afternoon and evening, July 29th. Invitations have been sent to Fire Companies throughout the State, as well as to Drum Corps to participate in the Parade, which will take place in the afternoon, throughout the principal streets of the town.

Suitable trophies will be awarded to the Best Appearing Units by judges selected from prominent men of the Town, qualified in this particular kind of work. In the evening at the Field, there will be acts of Vaudeville, with the festivities ending with a mammoth display of Fire works. Captain Thomas Suda is general chairman of the Field Day, and is to be assisted by a large committee of members from the Hose Company, who are earnestly working to make this event its usual success. A great expense is incurred by the Fire Laddies in putting on an affair of this kind, and funds are to be raised by a Souvenir Program, and the cooperation of the Town is being selected. The proceeds this year are to be used in equipping the Fire House with furnishings which are badly needed, and members are hopeful of making their headquarters on a par with other Fire Houses of the State.

Unknown Soldier

"Good morning, Herbert."

"That's perfectly all right."

"The telephone rang and the doctor, excusing himself, answered it."

Harvey observed that on the north side of the room between two windows...

"Well, Herbert," said Dr. Larkin, hanging up the receiver.

"You're being so kind to me that I do mind leaving."

"Nothing is good enough for such brave men."

"Doctor, thank-you; I've no need for it."

Not wishing to offend Harvey, Dr. Libaux placed the money on his desk and said:

"I don't know—get a job somewhere I suppose."

"Have you ever thought of studying medicine and surgery?"

"Yes, but in the meantime think over what I've said, Herbert. Here, I shall be there in two months."

When the steamer docked in New York, Harvey took a train to Hartford, Connecticut.

A merciful sun beat down upon the speedway as Wilbur Shaw...

Never before in all the history of the most cars...

While drinking the hot, delicious coffee, he glanced out the window and saw a girl who was about twenty years old.

"Heavily looking youngster," he said to the proprietor.

"That's Jane Allen. Her father was killed in the war about three years ago."

Harvey's face tensed in astonishment. He had not recognized his own daughter!

"It is a misfortune, but Jane has a step-father now," her mother married her brother-in-law.

"Oh, yes, very happy indeed! The children idolize Jake and he adores the whole family. Too bad that Harvey thought he was a fine chap. He and I were such good friends."

"A boy, Jackie; he's five."

Harvey drank the rest of the

OUR IMPORTED BESTIALITY by William R. Singleton Intolerance is a horrid thing... it seems so mental, so deluded that we should hate our fellow creatures simply because they do not look like we do, think like we do or worship God according to our fashion and belief.

To hate with bitterness even to torture and even to kill a kindred being, one who had never done us wrong and whom we do not even know, so base an emotion that it cannot be weighed in rational language.

Why all this hatred? Why this wicked thing called intolerance? Or is it rather an outcropping of the beast? Are we puny creatures so inferior to ourselves that in the presence of our kind we can tolerate no other race, creed or color being on the same plane of latitude which we occupy?

America, proudly acclaimed, by ourselves as God's Country with its vaunted Christian Civilization was never quite as "civilized" as it would like to make us believe.

Time marked fantastic changes in the affairs of men; and it is not too fantastic to look into the future to the day when the vast yellow race may swarm our continent and our children and children's children may meet the same fate as the Jew faces today.

things—a lot of generalities like-wise a lot of tripe—fit food for fools, from the same propagandist mill that turns out the usual run of bigoted bunk.

The other silly charges against the Jew are just as empty. Surely he flecks to the beaches and resorts like everyone else—if he has the funds to take him.

Old man, where is thy boasted humanity? You would not kick a dog—why loathe a fellow being when he has fallen at your feet?

TWO STRIKES ON HIM BEFORE HE GOES TO BAT

The "Monopoly Committee" investigation of patents has turned the spotlight on the old question of the relation of machines to employment.

There are those who would have the government refuse to grant patents on "labor-saving" devices. They would do well to consider a recent case study of the chain of events leading from the invention of the glass bottle-making machine.

More thought given workers (By B. G. Forbes in Forbes Magazine) In the company of Charles M. Schwab, while being shown over Bethlehem Steel's mammoth new Lackawanna Plant, near Buffalo, N. Y., he remarked, "I have seen the ideal 'shut' factory."

WOULD THE TAX COLLECTOR MIND? Readers for the "tax and spend" philosophy of government have recently cooked up a novel argument to reassure those who feel concern over today's high taxes and tomorrow's higher ones.

Let us gather 'round our flag and in so doing let us bring within our ranks those who believe in its safety and its progress. It is a glorious banner, not only an emblem of the country but in its own way a history of the nation which we each carry on our shoulders.

What harm has the Jew done us? What indignation have we against him?—He takes all the business. He monopolizes everything. He spoils the beaches and resorts. He cuts prices. He can't be Americanized. He is an internationalist. He is a Communist.

East Hampton Here For Game With Branford Sunday

Branford High Nine At Stratford Tomorrow For Last Game Of Season

Knechtchen With Fairly Good Record This Season Meet Stratford High Combining At Lattin's Ball Park Tomorrow Afternoon—Last Game Of Year For Branford Nine

The Branford high school baseball team will travel to Stratford tomorrow afternoon for their last contest of the 1939 season, as after the game at about 8:30 graduation will be held at the local high school. Although the Knechtchen have had sort of an in-and-out season, they expect to close their schedule with a victory over the Stratfordites.

This being the last game of the year for the locals, and it being a Stratford Valley League contest, it will give Johnny Knechtchen a chance to show his league standing which rests just now with 3 wins and 3 losses, at 500. If the Knechtchen could finish with a four out of seven stand it would be much to redeem an otherwise lumpy season.

Lipkovich is slated to pitch and has an excellent chance to turn in a win for his last job of hurling this year and erase the 7 to 3 defeat suffered at the hands of the Shelton high last week. Stratford has a good team, but Knechtchen has a good pitcher in the person of the Queen's face, the Old Saybrook combine at Stratford Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Shore line league has not yet announced when the washouts will be played, but it will be announced at a later date.

Fans Keeping Keen Eyes On Baseball Wars

More than usual interest at this time of the year is attached to the first place flight of teams in the Middlesex baseball league as the clubs prepare for Sunday games. Of chief interest locally will be the visit of the East Hampton club Sunday as the Bellingers tackle the Branford Townies at Hammer Field.

George (Butler) Litch, former Branford Laurels backfield ace, and star baseball player with such teams as the Branford Crosier combine who played some of the best standing teams in the East, including the Shelton, in contest with the Stratford, Pa. quintet of Pittsburgh at Red Men's baseball stadium, also will be with the Branford team Sunday. He is the House of David and made history when they played Chris Cade's All American team at the local state armory in one of the biggest professional games of his career. "Butler" will wed lovely Mrs. Alice Louise Herrigan of Meriden next Tuesday morning in the Silver City. All of his many friends wish him the best of luck.

Three Clubs To Fight For Lead In Middlesex League Games Sunday

Higginum, Belltown, Giants battling For Top—Naimo, Townies Ace Twirler, To Face Former On The Mound In What Should Prove To Be Outstanding League Game Of Day—Time 3:00 p. m.

The East Hampton Bellingers who have fallen off in hitting in the last two games, will play here at Hammer Field Sunday afternoon facing the dangerous Branford Townies team. The Bellingers expect to stage a comeback by copying a win over the Townies, but their heavy hitters who in the first three games made 61 hits, a "Butcher" Naimo who may bring an abrupt halt to the Belltown heavy hitters.

East Hampton with Hal Bransfield in the lead in the first place race will have a chance to stay at the top of the league with Higginum if they take over the lead-improving Branford combine Sunday. Naimo's right hand pitcher faces five of the leading Bellingers who are left-handed hitters, Ben Phelps, Ed Bransfield, Hal Bransfield, Red Barber and Nelson are the portside hitters. This gives them an edge, but Higginum in rare form may encounter plenty trouble during the afternoon of batting.

Larry Nosal, Higgy's number one twirler will make his third start on the mound Sunday, facing Essex. Nosal beat Saybrook 2 to 1 and lost an extra inning game to Meriden. He showed improvement in the last game when he pitched when he beat Saybrook. Bannister will be sent against Higgy combine, with Manager Jim Bombard, also a right hander in reserve. Nuth, Essex newfirst baseman who hit a long home run Memorial Day in Branford, will be in the lineup.

Meriden will play Sunday at Middletown. Manager Frank Gowin of the Giants is likely to provide the signal to the mound. The Giants are now in third place, and are certain to finish near the top of the league if they win the game.

Stamps will be on sale here June 14th.

Middlesex League All Star Game Set For July 9; Two Locals In Lineup

League Picks Men For Star Game—Desmond To Manage Southern Group And Branford Is Northern Pick—Sokolowsky And Donofrio From Branford Will Be In Southern Team Lineup

Middletown (Special)—The all star game to be played on July 9 at Municipal Field, Middletown, as the Middlesex County League contribution to the 100th anniversary of baseball celebration, will be the outstanding event in baseball of Middlesex County and in the history of the game in this section.

Every one of the players selected at the meeting will play in the All Star game, for at least an inning every effort will be made to make this game attractive and colorful.

In addition to the ball game on July 9, there will be a program which will be arranged by the officials by the side of some of the old-time players and former officers of the league.

COMMENT ON SPORTS

Just like the other sports, baseball is a game of strategy. The news of the week in baseball circles is the report that two dugouts, like the ones you see in the big league parks, will be constructed at Municipal Field in Middletown, mainly for the use of the Middlesex County League and the teams opposing them. They will be about 20 feet long and four feet wide, and will be used for the purpose of breaking into the players' circle. With dugouts ready for use only players will be admitted and the manager will have his protection hereafter impossible.

Three hours after the marines at New York, Boston, Norfolk and other cast naval stations have raised the flag, that comrades at San Diego and other post along the Pacific seaboard present arms to the colors as they hailed briskly to the tune of the flagstaff. The time interval varies only when daylight saving is in vogue.

About two and a half hours later the ceremony is repeated in the United States Navy. The flag is raised by the sea soldiers in the far-off Philippines, and at virtually the same hour the marines hold the flag in China, at Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai.

Several hours later the western marines at daylight cadence the flat taring folds of the Star-Spangled Banner flying over American naval vessels in European waters, and soon after this sun has passed its zenith in the Old World. It is again flying to the breeze on the Atlantic seaboard.

SUMMER HOMES AND CAMPS FOR PLACE FOR WORN BEDDING

The back-lantern movement currently popular in furnishing Summer homes is not an advisable one to follow when it comes to providing mattresses, springs and pillows for cottages and camps, bedding experts agree.

Vacation days are spent in getting healthily tired and even the hardiest vacationist needs a good, hard bed to fall into at night.

Summer homes should be equipped with new, sturdy built mattresses, springs and pillows that are equal in quality and comfort to those used in the city. Under any circumstances, if the Summer holidays are to be really restful, should be worn-out bedding equipment be taken to summer abodes to "finish them out."

HOT TIP FOR WEEK
A tense scene was being shot for "The Gorilla," the 20th Century-Fox comedy-thriller which is now being shown at the Loew Poll College Theatre for one big week.

A rock had just been thrown through Lionel Atwill's window, and tied to it is a note threatening him with murder at midnight. The Ritz Brothers, as three demented dicks, glanced hurriedly at their watches. Each called out a different hour.

"You're all wrong!" is Atwill's impatient comment. "It's exactly a quarter to 12."

"Remind me to have some hands put on this watch!" ad libbed Al Ritz.

Director Allen Dwan liked the lines so much he left it in.

The bride's gown was of white tulle with panne velvet and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias. The maid of honor, Miss Marie DeNegre, wore white organza dotted in blue and a leghorn hat, and carried garden flowers.

The best man was a brother of the bride, Charles Mascola.

The bride's mother wore navy blue chiffon and a corsage of lilies of the valley and gardenias. The church was decorated with garden flowers and a reception was held after the ceremony at George's Restaurant at the Annex. At the offertory, Dudley Buck's "Ave Maria" was rendered by C. Ramsteadt at the organ and high mass was sung by Anne Del Montico. The couple will live at 43 Allston Avenue, Boston, Mass.

EAST HAVEN PARKWAY

Sometime ago I suggested that East Haven try to find a suitable name for the splendid highway that is now being blut through the town, I suggested "East Haven Parkway," and asked the legislature to give it that official title. I found that there was some difficulty about that. The Merritt Parkway and the proposed Wilbur Cross road will have the word "Parkway" as a part of their official title. This word usually implies that the road will be restricted to only certain types of vehicles. So it should not be used in naming our road. As for Saltonstall Parkway, or Boulevard, my criticism would be that the word would mean nothing to people at a distance from East Haven. I think the words "East Haven" should be a part of the name. It will designate its locality to people at a distance from here, and it will be a sort of advertisement for East Haven. Perhaps "East Haven Boulevard" would be as well as we can do. But I like to hear other suggestions. It will be a thing of great utility and of great beauty when it is completed. I met the Highway Commissioner the other day, and thank him for what was being done for our town, and felt that I was expressing the sentiments of all of our people.

Undeserved Praise

Last week in the Review there appeared an article concerning myself, written by some unknown but misguided friend. I greatly appreciated his kindly and complimentary sentiments, but feel unworthy of such generous praise.

No, I am no politician, and do not aspire to that estate. But I have associated with them much and am convinced that a good deal of so-called politics is just mistaken nonsense. Many seem to think that to be a successful politician one must be shrewd, cautious, secretive, and not over sensitive as to moral considerations. I do not believe a word of it. I believe our people would much prefer to vote for a person whom they believed to be thoroughly honest than for a schemer and a plotter, and a shady "sport." At any rate that is the plan I laid out for my own guidance. I make no secret of where I stand on any public question. I will gladly tell anyone how I have voted or expect to vote on any question, and also, I make no secret of the candidates I intend to support.

I gladly supported our two New Haven County Commissioners. They have made a fine success of their jobs. The county has accumulated a large surplus. And the county voted a large reduction in county tax. I fully believe they should be reelected. How can we expect honesty and good management in public office if we play shrewd politics and throw out worthy public servants?

It is true that I am a Republican, and most of the time go along with the party. But I would a thousand times rather stand with a good Democrat than with a shady Republican. In short, I tell my unknown friend that my political platform is to honestly work for the public interest, and do it all out in broad daylight, regardless of race, color, religion, or political expediency.

Paul Solves Church Problems
Because next Sunday is Children's Day, this important lesson may not receive the attention which it deserves. This first letter to the Corinthians deals with many and varied problems which had arisen in the church in that city. The one great solution is set forth in the 13th chapter, that exquisite description of the love that never fails. Dr. Albert Buckner Coe has summed up some of the suggestions in the lesson text as follows: "We can solve church problems by following the counsel of Paul—be imitators of the best; have friendship one for the other; believe greatly in God and Christ and their mastery over evil; let your Christian fruits be shown not in your much speaking; but in your power to do his will."

Due to some changes to be made in and about the factory, where layouts are necessary, Bob Lindcen has been temporarily transferred from the pattern Department to the Drafting Room, to assist in this work. Joseph Kilmowicz, also has been transferred from the Emery Department where he is to learn a new vocation. Both of these men seem to be very interested and are doing very well in their new endeavor. It appears that these two men have gotten some knowledge out of attending classes of the school held each Thursday under the leadership of Mr. Krouse.

The cabin at Twin Lakes being built by Dominic Bontalibus with the able assistance of Mr. Hobart Page, is nearing completion. Mr. Bontalibus has gained some helpful suggestions from his supervision of the showers in the Steel Foundry.

The Cost Department had its annual luncheon at the Oasis on Thursday. This is an annual event and is financed by a payment of five cents each week. John Cameron gave a talk on his recent trip to Florida.

Stanley Jennings, chairman of the Steel Foundry Outing, has secured the services of John Sveta to be Master of Ceremonies. He hopes to render a few vocal selections accompanied by Frank Moschette who will play the accordion.

The Steel Foundry Track Team is very fortunate in securing the services of Cosmo Carullo, former Athletic Instructor of the University of Naples. Cosmo has shown good judgment in securing a fine field of men. He has selected the following to compete in the Track Event to be held at the outing June 10th: Henry Zuwallack, Tom Sic-

Bluebird Shower For Bride-To-Be

Mrs. C. Henry Holsenbeck of Hopson Avenue entertained at a bridal shower Saturday evening in honor of Miss Ruth Esborn of Stannard Avenue, whose marriage will take place on June 29. The party was in the form of a "bluebird shower" and was repetition of her mother's shower 21 years ago. A large nest made of paper, with a bluebird hovering above it, held the gifts and a shower of bluebirds was suspended from the chandelier. The table was decorated with bluebird favors and a bird bath formed the centerpiece. The decorations throughout the house were of blue and yellow lilies.

Attending were Mrs. Swenson, Miss Agnes and Hilda Swenson, Mrs. Ida Anderson, Mrs. Mina Stradberg and Miss Gladys Strandberg, of East Haven. Mrs. Edwin Maddern, Mrs. Joseph Mattson, Mrs. Gustave Johnson, Miss Gayle Johnson, Mrs. Axel Mickelson, Mrs. Swan Esborn, Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Mrs. Whittey Marsh, Mrs. Carl Greenvall, Mrs. Edgar Williams, Mrs. Hilma Corcoran, Mrs. Kate Keast, Mrs. C.
