Town Draws Ordinance Regarding Nuisances Detrimental To Health

Anyone Violating Provisions On Piggeries And Garbage Collection Subject To $25 Fine—Burning Of Filthy Noxious Matter Prohibited.

Residents are notified by local advertisement that no person, firm or corporation shall maintain a piggery in Branford unless the owner shall obtain a permit from the Selectmen and Health Officer.

Before the permit can be issued a public hearing will be held and the Selectmen and Health Officer must certify that in their opinion the proposed piggery will not be detrimental to public health.

Within the meaning of the ordinance a piggery is a place where more than 10 swine are kept or bred.

Anyone who violates the provisions shall be punished by a fine of not more than $25.00 for each violation.

Another ordinance given publicity refers to transportation of garbage, refuse, animal matter, mash, bones, fat or other rejected unwholesome or waste substances through the streets unless the material is watertight and closely covered.

No one from any surrounding city or town may transport for the purpose of feeding such garbage to animals without first petitioning the Selectmen.

Upon investigation the Selectmen may issue a permit provided there is created no nuisance injurious to public welfare.

Other items include action against standing filthy water, burning of noxious matter, manures and fertilizers.

Colonial Days To Be Setting Of Field Day

Many of the members of Pawson Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men of Branford are to take part in the activities of the state Field Day of the order to be held July 3, 4 and 5 at Park McLaughlin, East Haven. Some of the members are to act on various committees, some to take part in the open air degree on the afternoon of July 4 and some to have a part in the pageant of Colonial days that is to be staged in the evening of July 3. This pageant which is being written by Elmer Brainerd of East Haven will portray the people of Colonial times, men of the village will be armed with muskets and children will be hanging to the skirts of their mothers. Then will come the attack on the village by the Indians who will advance from over the hill beyond the lake with war whoops and dancing. Elmer Brainerd is to follow history as much as he can in this story.

On the afternoon of Sunday, July 5 there will be a bathing beauty contest and a number of the young women of Branford are expected to take part and compete for the prizes that are to be offered the winners. George Barba, Walter Newton, John Pepe, Clarence Hoyt, Emerson Wright, Sally Donahue and Deputy Great Sachem George Schmittgall are to receive the application for entry in this contest. There is no charge for entry.

It is expected that this Field Day will be attended by the largest number of members of the Red Men, Pocahontas and friends that has ever been present at these annual Field Days. All of the Great Chiefs of the order are expected to be present together with friends. Arrangements are being made by members of Pawson tribe so that all the citizens of Branford who desire to attend this gala affair to have transportation.

DeMolay Forms Sports Group

At a meeting last Monday evening in the Masonic Temple, West Haven, representatives from four DeMolay Chapters of the western Connecticut shore gathered to form a DeMolay Shore Line Conference. This league will embrace Branford, New Haven, West Haven, Milford, and Bridgeport Chapters. Its primary purpose will be to draw closer together the five chapters named by cooperative ritual and social functions and by creating a friendly rivalry among the chapters in athletic events.

Each chapter of the conference will be represented by three members. One of these will have authority in conference ritual work for his chapter, one in social activities and one in athletics. The delegates from Branford Chapter are James Mellor, ritual work; Donald Erickson, social work and Louis Desi, athletics.

The officers chosen at the Monday evening meeting were: President, Charles Taylor, Milford Chapter, and Secretary, John Stebbins, West Haven Chapter. Plans were laid for a gathering of the five chapters at which time the three divisions of the conference will function. The exact time and place of the event was not set.

As soon as possible soft ball games will be scheduled among the chapters. In the fall schedules in bowling and basketball will be set up with other sports following in their respective seasons. At the end of the year a plaque or trophy will be awarded to the chapter with the greatest number of points received from competition in all the sports advocated by the conference. Games played in any sport which are conference league games will not be official State DeMolay games.

Musical Art Society members will hold an annual covered dish supper and annual meeting Tuesday evening at 8:30 at the home of Miss Olive Pratt.

Glow Reduced Along Shores

Summer and year round residents of East Haven, Branford, Guilford, Clinton and Westbrook according to the Shore Line Association can consider themselves lucky indeed for the Army dim-out regulations affecting the entire Atlantic Coast from Maine to Florida do not at present apply to them. Shielded from the Atlantic Ocean by Long Island Sound and Long Island itself the Army has not thought it necessary to require enforcement of the dim-out in the small Shore Line towns, for it is not felt that they contribute to the sky glow which the Army is attempting to eliminate.

Only Two Restrictions
There are actually only two restrictions which apply to the territory to be enforced. Hammonasset State Park will be closed at eight o'clock each evening and there will be no overnight camping in the park. Full use of the park can be made throughout the daytime. All carnivals and shows must obtain a license and the application must be submitted to the State Police before it can be accepted. Otherwise regulation of lights is at present entirely up to local authorities in each case.

Voluntary Regulation
Sentiment has been expressed in practically all the towns which are now unenforced by the dim-out regulations to voluntarily cut down on brilliant lighting in order that there will be no chance of sky-glow. The Shore Line Association has been especially active in this respect and has issued the following suggestions to those in the area with the feeling that if there is voluntary compliance there is less probability that more rigid regulations will be later enforced. All display lighting to be extinguished or materially cut down. Outside neon lights to be extinguished. Display windows in stores to have lighting reduced or to have a shield of a curtain of scrim or theatrical gauze hung between the lights and the outside. Use of the low beam as opposed to the high beam when driving, is suggested as well as the screening of lights shining to seaward and the control of street lighting so that the sky glare is reduced. It is reported that there is considerable compliance with the suggestions for voluntary reduction of lighting and it is the purpose of The Shore Line Association to increase the compliance to a point where there can be no question regarding the possibility of the existence of sky glow.

Town Keeping An Eagle Eye About Dimout

Branford's summer business rests on a precarious brink of another dimout.

With the rest of the Eastern coast under dimout the Army has asked Governor Hurley to determine by what right the shore towns from East Haven to Saybrook feel that they are excluded.

As a result of the complaint representatives of the State Police called a meeting Tuesday in the Clinton Memorial which was attended by First Selectman, C. Hobart Page, Chief Air Raid Warden R. Halstead Mills and Reginald S. Baldwin vice chairman of the Defense Council.

Delegates of the towns involved gave their interpretation of the regulation and agreed to comply if the order became necessary or official but until the regulation was interpreted to involve the shore towns only flood lights giving exceptional glow would be shaded.

Representatives expressed an unwillingness to be forced into semi-darkness because of any jealous motives from other coastal towns.

One real estate agent present said that even without the dimout only 50 per cent of summer cottages are rented.

Theatre Maps Full Program Of '42 Events

Director Hammond Organizing Patron's Club At Stony Creek Theatre Which Opens July 4th.

The Stony Creek Theatre, A silver building in Stony Creek, It has been quiet and unobtrusive all winter. It looks serenely still even now. Of course the leaves are full on the trees and the grass is green — nothing disturbing there.

But for actively, just talk a walk up to the Flying Point House where Ronald T. Hammond, who will stage the productions this year for his third season, is to be found. There is plenty doing there to let you know that the players will be back for their 20th season. Mapping out productions for the full year; a rush trip to New York to line up a new play that will be shown here prior to Broadway and to have another reading of the opening play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," letters to apprentices; shaping up the programs so you will know who is what when; posters, tickets, and advertisements — all these things are on the table constantly.

In particular, there is one thing that absorbs most of the attention. That is the organization of the Patron's Club, which has as its primary purpose the bringing of the theatre and the audience into a

Scrap Rubber Is Being Collected

At the request of President Roosevelt and Petroleum Coordinator Ickes the petroleum industry, through its Branford representatives is aiding in collecting scrap rubber during the period up to June 30. America's scrap rubber pile mounted steadily today as deflated beach alligators, discarded tires and punctured football bladders dropped onto it by uncounted thousands of tons.

Specific reports indicating the total that might be collected in the full two weeks of the President's drive were lacking, but the general comment across the country in the second day of the campaign was that it was off to a good start.

Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson gave it an official push with a statement that the Army itself was cutting its use of rubber in clothing and equipment by 25 per cent. Army tires will have 12

Army Approves Useable Rifle Purchase Plans

Wampanoag Rifle Club Will Examine Guns Before They Are Offered To Government For Use Of American Troops.

Army Ordnance officials have approved a National Rifle Association plan by which Branford men have been designated to examine privately owned rifles which may be suitable for military use. The NRA plan was submitted in cooperation with a War Department request last month to civilians owning Springfield and Enfield rifles in serviceable condition to sell back to the Government those not too drastically altered for Army use.

Under the accepted plan the secretaries of the 2,200 NRA clubs and other officials of this nationwide organization have been instructed to examine for suitability all rifles of those types which the owners may wish to return.

Checker in the Branford area for the Springfield rifles is Wilson Adams, Vice President of the Wampanoag Rifle Club, telephone 58-4; address east Main Street. For the Enfield Rifle call George Prout, telephone 122-3, Alps Road.

In the past years many 30 caliber Springfield 1903 and Enfield 1917 Rifles have been purchased from the government by sportsmen in this

Joseph Schenck Dies Suddenly

The death of Joseph Schenck, Sr., of 341 Harbor Street occurred suddenly last night at 8:30, in his home. He was born here where he had lived all his life and was the son of Paul Schneck and Jeanette Palmer. Mr. Schneck was a molder at the Malleable Iron Fittings Company where he had been employed for the past 57 years. He had been ill but a few days.

He is survived by his widow, Mary Cronan, two sons, William of Hartford; Joseph of Branford; three daughters, Mrs. May Palmer, Branford; Mrs. Edward Conway, Guilford and Mrs. Harold Bixby of East Haven, several grand children, one great grandchild and one sister, Mrs. Ruel Blackstone of this place.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning at his late home with services at 9:30 in St. Mary's Church. Burial will be in St. Agnes Cemetery.

PAY DEDUCTIONS TO BE EXPECTED

Within the next week or ten days Branford firms employing more than three people will be notified by the United States Treasury Department that the government wants them to start War Savings payroll deduction plans.

Life Underwriters Association of New Haven has offered assistance in promoting War Savings payroll deduction plans and are authorized as special representatives of the Treasury, Edward Sullivan of New Haven being assigned to contact local employers.

PRE-SCHOOL EXAMINATION

The pre-school examination will be held at the high school on Friday, June 19, from 9:30 A. M. to 11:30 A. M., and 1:30 P. M. to 3:30 P. M. The state requests that all children starting school be examined by a physician before entering school.

"Discontinue until necessary" is not the attitude of the Branford Fire commissioners regarding voluntary manning of firehouses every night from 12 until 6.

One member of the board when asked yesterday if the four men sleeping at the firehouse plan—was essential said that "we are in danger every moment and expressed the hope that the community appreciated the men's task of carting blankets and pillows to the station houses in order that additional protection be afforded.

Edward Kligerman at Short Beach called the department Friday evening to locate a smouldering fire at his home. Without disturbing the entire town, firemen at the Short Beach Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. responded without giving out a general alarm.

Pine Orchard, with no firehouse has guaranteed that at least four men in the vicinity will be available for immediate call. Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 is on the alert and Stony Creek has men sleeping every night in the firehouse. Baldwin's outfit at the center is always on hand.

Auxiliary Needed

Especially active among auxiliary groups organized for the emergency is the Branford Point Auxiliary, part of Company No. 8. With 30-35 men they have equipped a Packard truck and 100 gallon booster and are drilling under the direction of Ernest Wood to handle minor fires in that vicinity.

Approximately 150 auxiliary men

Station Lounge

High praise for Connecticut's Aircraft Warning Service was transmitted to the State Defense Council this week by two officials of the First Fighter Command.
Major Charles A. Blackwell and Captain Fitzhugh Quarrier visited Colonel Samuel H. Fisher, State Defense Administrator and Louis H. Hauer, director of the State Warning Service to compliment them upon the splendid work which Connecticut men and women are doing in spotting aircraft.
Shown left to right above are: Eugene P. Armstrong; Major Blackwell; Colonel Fisher; Captain Quarrier; Mr. Hauer.

Station Lounge
In New Haven
For USO Use
The first USO station lounge to offer sleeping accommodations for severmen is now under construction in the west balcony of the New Haven railroad station. It was announced today by George T. Car-malcho, president of the Greater New Haven Citizens Committee of the United States Organizations.
This innovation is expected to fulfill a long-felt need for servicemen who frequently have to wait several hours for trains during early mornings.
Although there are already 47
USO railroad and bus terminal lounges, the New Haven unit, the first in Connecticut, sets a criterion with a special section with cots and blankets for ten to twelve men.
Construction work has already been started in the 192 x 12 foot balcony and the entire lounge will be built without expense to the USO.
The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad has donated the space and is paying for all necessary construction work and furnishings have been donated by New Haven stores. The lounge will be operated 24 hours daily by volunteers of the Greater New Haven USO group.
For those who wish to dash off a few lines to the folks back home, writing facilities with picture cards as well as USO stationery, will be available to the men.
For the literary-minded, the library will be well stocked with best sellers and current issues of magazines. The lounge also will contain a radio and recordings and those who just want to relax, will find plenty of easy-cushioned chairs.
There will also be office space in which to write.

LIGHT LINES by R.K.

Some people seem to think that companies essential to the war effort are using gasoline and tires recklessly. Let's see if this sounds reasonable. Take The Connecticut Light and Power Company. It isn't a "company" or a "corporation" or a "public utility" that drive the trucks and cars. It's a man—a U. S. citizen—a fellow who owns a car himself and wants tires and gas for his auto. He knows that by driving Company cars sensibly and carefully he'll save tires and gasoline. And the more tires and gasoline he saves at the Company the more tires and gasoline there will be available for private drivers like himself. That's one reason we're asking your co-operation in giving us advance notice on service calls so we can make all the calls in one neighborhood at one time. This may slow down our service to you, but it won't alter the fact that ELECTRICITY IS STILL CHEAP.

SAVE ALL WASTE PAPER

The Need For This Kind Of Paper Is Greater Now Than Ever!
Waste Paper Collecting Is Necessary
To Facilitate Handling
You can help by breaking up small boxes, and packing them flat with the rest of your miscellaneous papers (paper bags, wrapping paper, correspondence, etc.) in a large carton, and keeping all your paper until you have approximately FIFTY POUNDS, or more.
You Can Co-operate
By giving all your Magazines, Newspapers, and Waste Paper to the one Collecting Agency, whether it be a charitable organization or waste paper dealer, thus saving extra and unnecessary trips.
You Can Help Win This War
By helping us save gasoline and tires so vitally needed at this time.

DIARY OF A BEAUTY AUTHORITY

Beauty secrets oftentimes are hidden in strange places, and to a beautiful, it's like a game seeking them out. Sometimes they are found only after years of laboratory research, sometimes they are right under your eyes.
If you have ever watched a cat you have seen a subtle "ball" of fur open one eye, uncoil itself and stretch in a long luxurious stretch or series of stretches before it stretches over the garden wall. The cat spends so much of its time sleeping, or lapping up quantities of cream, and yet it manages to remain lithe and supple, and to lose, or gain, one-half inch here when the Maxin complete mass is ordered shipped to the West Coast.
Separate unit caps 1-41 garden hose, or one and one-half inch here have been brought into use at Short Beach where a small truck will transport them to hydrants to check small fires, leaving experienced firemen with more powerful equipment available for major disasters.
"Be only hope," said yesterday's informant, that we will not be called upon to use our full capacity. But we do want the public to know and appreciate our work, especially the overnight manning of the fire stations.

about town are organized in groups of four to give protection in each section. Sometimes ago Chief Roy Equist requested a sum of money from Civilian Defense with which to purchase group pumps for each of the groups of four men. Pumps have been on order for some time. Fire officials estimate that 200 auxiliary firemen must be organized to assist in the event of bombing.
Two major fires are about all the organized departments can handle so home owners must provide individual protection.
Looked Ahead:
Officials have been looking ahead and ordering equipment but have experienced delivery delays.
For instance, a good six months ago Pine Orchard ordered auxiliary pumps from the Maxin Company. Several times when they were ready to be shipped the Navy, with its A1 priority rating stepped in and took the job. The last instance being after the bombing of Alaska when the Maxin complete mass was ordered shipped to the West Coast.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 165-millimeter gun is the modern version of the old "GPP" of World War I days. It has a range fifty percent greater than the old gun, having a 98-pound projectile approximately 15 miles. It is capable of high road speed and each one costs $50,000.
Now the modern woman also leads a rather sedentary existence. Like Mrs. Cat, who occasionally indulges in an orgy of fence-climbing, she has periods of intense activity—such as an evening of dancing, or an occasional day on the tennis courts. But the greater part of her life is spent sitting—in her car, at the dining table, at the theatre, at her desk.

ARE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Olo E. Bath of Devey Avenue, East Haven announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Monsees, to Mr. Charles Joseph Coar, son of Mrs. Ada Ready of New Haven. The ceremony will take place on the tennis courts at the home of Mrs. Thompson of Branford will be soloist.

Fear of a serious rift with the Vatican stopped Mussolini from ordering Jews in Italy to wear yellow Star of David, as has been done elsewhere in Europe on Hitler's orders. It can now reveal.

Mussolini then mobilized all Jews in Italy between the ages of 18 and 25 for forced labor in war industries. Four hundred Jewish physicians and 300 Jewish engineers exempted from general forced labor will soon be called to special service by the Fascists.

Everything cottons to cotton these days, as scientists experiment with processes to make it look like wool, silk or linen.

The Army and Navy ride in trucks and battlehips utilizing the new fireproof cotton. Before long Mrs. Housewife will be able to spray her kitchen curtains and living room drapes with a fireproof formula. Handy, when and if incendiary bombs fall.

Need a dress of silny silk? "Able 'Impena'" of lustrous smoothness. Designer that will hang with grace? You'll be able to buy them all—made of cotton.

In this fall of 1942, says the latest O.P.A. order, Mrs. America will find the price tags on the clothing she buys are based on those current between July and September, 1941. A similar order setting a ceiling for Mr. America's fall togs will be issued later.

We hear we shall have not one speck of wool in any cloth from which women's and children's house-clothes, robes and negligees will be made. No wool in bencheats or lounge pajamas, either, according to the War Production Board.

Now we know where it's all going! And hurry for it, too! Washington experts say it takes the wool of 26 sheep to uniform one soldier for one year.

No more imported taploca! As with other war-torn imports, now we "grow it at home." Government plant breeders say they have a new waxy type of corn that will take the place of our lost 350 million pounds of taploca a year.

With all the new and necessary food restrictions, now seems the time to rid our statute books of some of the old and unnecessary ones. After all, America must eat, and at a price all Americans afford.

Has your electric clock been misbehaving? Blame those strange new electric pulsations, resulting from overworked utility lines striving to meet war-time demands.

Assistant Director of the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Service in charge of nutrition, suggested to delegates to Federal-State Conference on War Restrictions, called by President Roosevelt, that they deliberate on recommendations made at the National Nutrition Conference. One such recommendation was that laws and taxes discriminating against wholesome, nutritive foods, such as colored and uncolored margarine, be eliminated.

Mr. Wilson further pointed out that scientists recognize margarine, to which Vitamin A now is added, as a nutritious spread, but "legislatively the most put-upon of all food products."

Better fill up the coal bins. And maybe store some in the garage along with the laid-up car. The transportation and fuel oil shortage will be responsible if rationing must come, according to WPB Chief Donald Nelson.

This war should bring us no needless days, as did World War I. Total production in April was about 30 per cent above average. More beef and lamb were slaughtered in April than over before recorded for that month, while pork production hit an eight-year peak.

No more pretty pink and blue sheets, ladies—not even white sheets with colored edges. We must conserve dye materials, says even-watchful WPB.

You can't get copper window screens? Try varnishing your old ones to make them do one more year. By that time we'll probably have plastic screens. A chemical product called "saran" is entering the field.

Freddie: "Papa, what's an average?"
Father, (hesitatingly): "Well, er—my son, what do you think it is?"
Freddie: "I guess it's the bottom of a hen's nest."
Father: "Great Scott! What do you mean?"
Freddie: "Well, every time I read about a wonderful hen, it says she laid so many eggs on an average."—Wall Street Journal.

Scrap Rubber Is

per cent less rubber; tanks will be made with one-third the rubber formerly used, Army vehicles will carry only one spare tire, and soldiers will wear oil-treated instead of rubber raincoats.

Mr. Patterson warned that rubber for civilian use would not be available until 1944 at least.

One thing that slowed the collection in many points was the lack of scales in filling stations to weigh the rubber citizens offered. However, filling station operators reported that in many cases adults refused to accept the stipulated penny a pound.

Some communities already had been scoured almost clean. A committee in Cincinnati, organized soon after Pearl Harbor, had collected 39,000,000 pounds there and the President's rubber drive found little left.

Self-Cleaning HOUSE PAINT developed by DU PONT STAYS WHITE!

Du Pont House Paint is a brilliant white... and it stays white, too! It is "self-cleaning"! It forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot, or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it and exposing a fresh white surface. Usually this self-cleaning process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual dirt-collecting conditions such as found in sooty industrial areas. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. And it saves you money because it needs fewer repaintings. Next time you paint, ask your painting contractor to use Du Pont House Paint.

PLACE CARDS UNCLE SAM WOULD APPROVE

At a dinner party recently given by friends, instead of the usual place cards, each guest had at his plate a United States Defense Postal Savings Stamp Book with his name inscribed. Underneath a little note was attached by the hostess, "We started it—now you finish it!" The first 10c stamp was carefully affixed, leaving the remaining 40 to be added by each guest. Everyone gave his hearty approval and left the party with the firm resolve to start a "Stamp Book Collection!"
