HOUSING PROBLEM AND SEWERS

We have had considerable to say lately about the need for have fresh merchandise in fair housing accomodations in East Haven, especially small apartments for the fmilies of returning war veterans, many of whom are obliged can be found here that will take to double up with parents and others because of the acute housing hours of searching for in some of shortage. We have urged that the Zoning Commission consider east the larger stores else where. ing its restrictions which prohibit the altering of present over-size dwellings so that additional facilities might be provided for these beginning familes.

This week a member of the Commission explained to us that Main St. Will the prime reason for barring three family dwellings when the zoning law was adopted, was to prevent and forestall future trouble from lack of proper sewage disposal. With cesspools and septic tanks as the only means of sewage disposal it was felt wise from a health and sanitary standpoint to limit and restrict the use of the average house-lot to one family. We realize this was a wise provision.

However, the possibility that East Haven will be provided with a modern sewage disposal system in the not too far distant future mittee set up by the newly organized ther through joint use with New Haven of that city's proposed effect through joint use with New Haven of that city's proposed east Haven Business Association Chidsey Ave., Phone 4-1585, or stores across the street on land East Shore Disposal plant, or with a disposal plant of our own, has arranged with Mr. Amendola of Mrs. John Sanford 248 Hemingway which was formerly the residence would seem to put a different light on the housing problem. RECOGNIZING WAR II VETERANS

We note that the East Haven post of the American Legion, life in World War I, has been undergoing a few changes recently. These changes point up to new departures in the organization, no doubt. The Harry R. Bartlett post has a record of service in this community which is equalled by few American Legion Posts in the state. It has its own building, a very attractive and well laid out club house, which stands as a memorial to the heroes of War I. Unquestionably with its larger markethin and its extension War I. Unquestionably, with its larger membership and its extension of club privileges to service women, Harry R. Bartlett post is due for even greater things in the years to come.

Welcome Home!

JOBS ARE WAITING FOR YOU

During the war more than 200 employees of your light and power company left their iobs with us to serve with the armed forces in all parts of the world. Eight employees will not return. These gallant young men gave their lives that men of good will everywhere might live in peace, freedom and security. We acknowledge our debt to them with pride and reverence and pledge ourselves to uphold the ideals for which they died.

In recent months 19 employees have been honorably discharged from military service and have come back to work with us. Now we are looking forward to the return, which we hope will be soon, of the many employees who are still in the armed forces. We've missed our soldiers, sailors and marines and we've missed the fine work they did.

We plan a hearty welcome for our employees in service and we are confident that we will be able to supply jobs - suitable and congenial jobs - for each and every one of them.
