PREVUES, VIEWS AND REVIEWS

BY PAUL H. STEVENS

WE'RE PROUD OF YOU, FRANK

It was great news to all of us East Haveners when Frank Dooley III made the eight column headline in the sport's section of the New Haven Sunday Register for his swimming prowess Saturday in Yale's Payne Whitney Pool. His dad, our old friend Frank Dooley, Jr., now at the Veteran's Hospital in Rocky Hill, is a mighty proud man over his son's achievement, but no more proud than the rest of us who watched the doughty youngster's upward climb to swim fame.

In winning both the 220-yard freestyle and the century, thereby becoming the only double victor, in the 20th annual interscholastic swimming meet, young Frank equaled the feat we wrote about a couple of weeks ago, when he also took the honors in the 220 and 100 events against fast fields in the Eastern Interscholastic championships in Trenton, N.J.

The local boy's outstanding record takes us back a few years to the time his dad directed the swimming and safety work, sponsored by the American Legion, at Momauguin Beach. Frank the 3rd was like a little seal in the water then, and already showed great promise. His dad's coaching not only instilled in him a great love for aquatic sports, but it also made many swimming enthusiasts of scores of other East Haven boys and girls.

Moving on into the High school field young Frank soon revealed unusual skill in swimming and Coach Frank Keefe found in him the metal of which champions are made.

Yes we are all proud of young Frank.

TRAINING FOR FIREMEN

Fire Chief Ernest Hanson tells us that at a meeting of the New Haven County Fire Chiefs' Emergency Plan held on the evening of March 19 at the West Shore Fire Department in West Haven, with some 150 members and guests attending, plans were unfolded for a program of training for firemen. This program should go a long way toward preparing firemen of the small towns to become better and more efficient fire fighters.

The program was outlined by Mr. Coster Crouse, Director of Public Service Training, State Department of Education, who has recently been assured the full cooperation of the State Board of Education, the Connecticut Fire Chief's Association, engineering facilities of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and the several County Plans.

The proposed school will run on a year round basis, with a class of 20 or 25 men in each period. Thus in a year 400 or 500 men could be trained. Mr. Crouse has been offered what he terms an ideal location or site with buildings and ample grounds at a very reasonable cost, central and very accessible, yet isolated.

There still remains the very important cooperation of the officials of the several towns to furnish the funds necessary to reimburse the man or men selected, with wages, and expenses for the two-week period.

This is an endeavor in which East Haven should, and we believe will, heartily cooperate. This town, like many others has a large investment in fire-fighting equipment and facilities. The training, which is to be made available, will enable our firemen to become even better fitted than they are now to carry on the business of fire-fighting.

THE FLATS ARE BITING

H. A. Kling of South End who frequently contributes to our paper interesting little articles on the joys of fishing sends us one this week in which he informs us that the flats are biting. He says: "The flats are biting! That's the remark you'll hear repeated from one end of town to the other from now until warm weather sets in. For the dyed-in-the-wool sportsman, who claims that the only sportsman-like way to catch fish is with artificial lures, the remark won't mean much. To the average fisherman, whose idea of a fisherman's paradise is to go out and catch a good mess of fish, however, catching flat fish is not to be scoffed at."

"Homely as a flatfish may be, there are few fish in these waters that taste any better. And with the scarcity of beef and pork on the butcher's counters, there's many a family that will be happy to see Dad or Brother come home with some flats. And, somehow, the first flats of the season always seem to taste the best."

"For the benefit of those who have never fished for flatfish, it is no great trick to catch them. Almost anyone can do it. Often Junior will vie with Dad for honors as to who can catch the most or the biggest. And it doesn't cost very much to get rigged up for them either. Go to a sporting goods counter, get a hank of tarred line, a half dozen snelled hooks, three sinkers (it's well to have one extra) and you'll have enough to start with. Cut your line to any length you expect to use, and wind it on a stick. Tie a sinker on the end of the line and one hook about four inches above the sinker and another about four inches above that."

"Fishing from a boat is perhaps the best way to catch them, but many are caught by casting from the shore or by fishing from rocks, piers, and bridges. Don't try to use more than two lines per person because when they're biting good, you'll be busier than the proverbial one-armed paper hanger. If there is any choice of spots to fish it might be wise to choose a spot a little down current from the mouth of a river or creek."

"There is one characteristic about flatfish that sets it aside from most other fish and that is the way it swims on its side. When the flatfish is very young it swims normally like other fish, but when it gets a little older it turns on its side and swims that way thereafter. When it turns on its side it twists its skull so that the eyes are both on the top side."

"Then nature takes care of the coloring and the top side turns a brownish, olive green and the bottom side turns white."

"So with both eyes on the top side it becomes natural for the flatfish to stay close to the bottom. That's why it is well to fish on the bottom or very close to it when you're fishing for flats. And don't leave your line still for long because if you do, even a flatfish will steal your bait."

"Easy as flatfish are to catch there are days when you might as well have staved in bed, for all the good it would do. But if they don't bite one day, they might the next."

"There's an old saying, 'When the winds in the East—the fish bite the least' but don't ask me, I don't know from nothin'."

Legion Post Buys More Land For Expansion

It was disclosed this week that the Harry R. Bartlett post, American Legion, has purchased from Margaret Shiner the lot on Kirkham avenue which abuts the present Legion property on Thompson avenue adjacent to Union school. The acquisition of this Kirkham avenue property gives the post a large tract of land reaching between the two avenues. The handsome Legion Building now stands on the Thompson avenue site and it is planned to build on to the rear of the building in order to enlarge the present quarters.

The Building committee which is headed by Leslie Redfield sponsored a meeting of the post last week at which the views of the members were invited on the question of expansion of the facilities.

Growth of the post has been heavy recently with the influx of new members recruited from the ranks of World War II veterans.

Blue And Gold Varsity Show April 25 and 26

The seventh annual Blue and Gold Varsity Show, written and directed by Faculty Supervisor Joseph Mayo of the Social Science department, takes to the Boards on Thursday and Friday night April 25 and 26.

Plans for a Schoolroom, Stardust, and Spanish scenes have been launched by Manager Leona Munroe and Assistants Janet A. water, Laura Civello, Barbara Klein, Barbara Norwood, and Phyllis Rowley.

Tentative plans are being laid by committee heads, Theresa Altro, Publicity; Rhoda Cassel, Programs; Pat Scharf, Tickets; Peter Bertler, Stagehands; and Betty Jaspers, Boosters.

The show includes only student talent with the traditional Stardust scene featuring those alumni who have returned.

Betty Daniels, featured singer of the Yale production "Yip Yip Yank" will be among the East Haven alumni appearing in the Stardust scene. This scene has been included in every show since 1939 when the first Blue and Gold Varsity Show was produced.

Norman Hall, another East Haven Alumnus, will return to play his inimitable piano style while the dancing team of Merritt Thompson and Kay Minter, will appear fresh from finishing an appearance on Broadway.

All proceeds will be turned over to uniforms and equipment for East Haven's future football team.

OFF FOR FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Goodrich plan to leave for St. Petersburg the first of next week.

THE RED CROSS

Editor Stevens:

Our first knowledge of Kenneth's being seriously ill came to us at 3 A.M. Wednesday, March 13, nearly three hours after his death.

We were awakened at the aforementioned hour by Miss Raleigh, Supervisor of the Miami Branch of the Red Cross.

When she had told us all she knew of the case, she questioned us as to our finances, and had we needed it, was prepared to advance us any amount needed to get us to Keesler Field and then home to Connecticut.

She was instrumental in securing air passage for us out of Miami, an almost impossible task for anyone else other than a Red Cross representative. She arranged our passage to New Orleans and then wired the Red Cross at Keesler Field who took us in charge at that point.

A Miss French was assigned to look after us there and she did a very thorough job of it. A nice bedroom with shower was provided for us, transportation, lunch and dinner at night, and everything possible was done to lighten our burden.

We will state that without the aid and persistence of the Red Cross, we would have received little if any satisfaction and certainly would not have received many of Kenneth's personal effects at that time.

At the time of our departure from Keesler Field, after having dispatched telegrams for us regarding our plans and arrangements, we were taken to the train in Biloxi in a Red Cross car, and were accompanied by the Red Cross girl up to the very minute our train pulled out of Biloxi.

Frankly, neither of us had ever realized the actual work done by the Red Cross and we are both pleased to state that kindnesses shown to us were far beyond anything we could have expected.

C. A. J. Poirot Celebrates His 78th Birthday

Charles A. J. Poirot, whose dwelling is at 400 Bradley street, was the first building erected north of the railroad track when his family came to town in 1889, celebrated his 78th birthday Saturday. He was born in what was then Glen Cove, N. Y.

Mr. Poirot is one of the oldest active plumbers in the state and has been in business for more than a half century. He is now associated with his sons, Joseph and Charles in the firm of C. A. J. Poirot and Sons.

He recalls the days when East Haveners paid their taxes at East Grand and Quinnyplac avenues in Fair Haven. That was before the western part of East Haven was annexed to New Haven.

At one time he was associated with his brothers in the Vinyard Dairy which was the largest retail milk firm in East Haven.

He is one of the oldest original members of St. Vincent de Paul's parish and a weekly communicant at the church. Before the church was established here the family went each Sunday to St. Francis church in Fair Haven, many times walking over the Fair Haven Heights to get to worship on Sunday mornings.

Mr. Poirot's wife died in 1937. There children are Helen, Jane, Marion, Cecelia, Anna, Joseph and Charles. Mr. Poirot's mother who lived to the age of 80 died in 1920. Two other members of the family had birthdays this month, Charles

Check For $2,448.31 For Frank Catalano

The Frank Catalano Fund has closed, and on Tuesday night a committee, consisting of Peter Weber, Anthony Caruso, Frank Carbone and Frank Messina, informally presented a check for $2,448.31 to the Foxon war veteran, who at the age of 19 years, lost both legs while serving in the infantry in Germany, Frank Messina, for the committee said.

"To all those who aided in anyway to the success of the campaign we wish to extend our deep and sincere thanks. Individual names cannot be mentioned in praise without someone being slighted. It can be stated, however, that the original committee had the assistance of several unselfish citizens who gave time and effort to this cause. To these we owe much, also the Harry R. Bartlett Post for its active part deserves credit along with many local organizations who sponsored the auction in the Town Hall. To sum it up, East Haven, Thank You!"

Gen. Knox Says

I see where the Connecticut company has sold its properties at Momauguin including the old hotel the ball field the parking lot and the picnic grounds to out-of-town parties who plan general development down that way. Seems like that is a good thing if it will give some definite shape to the development of our shore front which in recent years hasn't been too well done to my way of thinking. The old hotel which they tell me used to be some pumpkins back the old days of Theodore Swift has been going into rack and ruin what with hurricanes and general neglect for some time. There used to be a pretty nice beach there in front of the hotel but now there isn't much left but rocks and stones and that hasn't been very comfortable for bathing. The public has had pretty free run of the property so much so in fact that most folks seemed to think it was a public park and acted like it leaving all kinds of rubbish around for the Connecticut company caretaker to pick up the next day. Now I guess all that is over and buildings of one kind or another will go up and that ought to make for an improvement. But this passing of an old waterfront landmark brings up the old questions of whether or not East Haven is going to obtain for itself some waterfront property for public use while there is yet any to go. I've felt for a long time that East Haven ought to have a public park and bathing beach somewhere down there preferably to my way of looking at it. Silver Sands where there is a nice bathing beach and where a picnic ground could be developed for the use of our folks. Most folks felt this the

MORE HOODLUMISM IRKS RESIDENTS

We heard complaints this week that boys, out late at night, had run riot with rubbish cans and the contents, put at the curb to await the trash collector Tuesday morning. Some residents in the Hemingway avenue section were aroused from slumber at midnight by the overturning of trash cans. Next morning tin cans and broken glass littered the roadway.

BACKWOODS SCENERY
A great deal of interesting backwoods scenery has been opened to public view by the Parkways, either completed or under construction, which will soon block the terrain east to west right across the State.

Returning from a search for timber during the current house building campaign, I pulled up along side a section of the Cross Parkway, looked through the fringes of landscaping at each wooding edge, and thought: "Why! right before my eyes is a cross section of what I find in the backwoods of Connecticut. Here are abandoned fields, here are abandoned farms, here are abandoned fields, fast being covered with a healing sequence of grasses, briars, brush, tree seedlings and saplings, and supporting a wild life department on such unmolested woodland openings. For the student of geological history there is the glacial recess schists, fossils imbedded in sedimentary slates and sandstones, and the story of glacial leveling and deposition, visible along the new exposure of fresh cut banks beside the Parkway.

So I set my trip speedometer, started plotting the forest types in tenths of miles, and got out at proper intervals to list the trees and timber by species, diameter, number and quality on representative quarter-acre sample plots (a circular plot of 50 feet radius equals one-quarter acre).

Now, the tourist and the physicist are never without the time or physical ability to tramp the woods in search of interesting things and learn woodland lessons not available to rally the trees and make estimates without the customary leg work.

Cancer Struck All Three

It is not always necessary for an adult to stay at home with a cold, but it is often the wisest thing to do if the cold is accompanied by fever, both adult and children should by all means stay in bed.

Rest and diet are important factors in curing a cold. Weekend by the cold, the body needs extra rest and easily digested foods. Thick, fatty foods should be avoided. The diet should include plenty of liquids, water, fruit juices and clear soups. Colds are undoubtedly a nuisance, but by taking care of ourselves when we have them, future trouble can be avoided.

Checking up on health will be discussed in the next article.

Sgt. Joseph Thomas has been discharged.

Approximately 250 sat down to dinner at Three Elms recently when the firemen gave a welcome home party for returned veterans.

A Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held Monday, April 15 at 7:30 in Trinity Parish House.

There will be a district meeting April 8 at the home of Delos Blanchard.

ADVANTAGES OF CHEST X-RAYS

Many people say, "If I have tuberculosis (or heart disease or a tumor) I don't want to know it." This attitude is understandable and may be a natural, but it is irrational and may be dangerous, for early diagnosis in all cases gives the best chance for recovery.

Frequently, x-ray examination will disclose disease before the patient has any symptoms or being it as would a concave surface, and all planting suffered here during the drought of two summers ago. Along the Parkway these concave surfaces of grass and soil were considered necessary to allow entry of disabated cars for repairs.

George A. Cronie, New Haven Farm Forester southwestern Connecticut

HEALTH FOR ALL

Take Care of Colds

Colds are almost as popular a topic of conversation as the weather. And, as with the weather, few people do anything about them. Many people, of course, have their favorite remedies for colds but even they find that colds keep coming back.

While people do not get just from colds, the common cold often leads to serious illnesses which may cause untimely death. Not only that, colds are a nuisance and very disagreeable things to have. They can make a person miserable and lower his capacity for work and for the enjoyment of leisure.

Medical science does not claim to know all the answers about colds. It does know enough, however, to help people avoid catching colds or, once they have them, to indicate how to care for them to prevent serious illness from leading to more serious illnesses.

It is important to remember that colds are catching. They do not develop spontaneously. We catch colds from someone who has one—we give a cold to someone else. There would be fewer colds if people always remembered to cover their mouths when sneezing or coughing. If they were careful not to drink from glasses or cups used by another person.

One way to avoid catching is to keep away from people who have them. We can't always do this, so let's keep our bodies in such healthy condition that they are able to resist colds. This means getting sufficient rest, eating well-balanced meals which include fresh fruits and vegetables, and seeing the doctor periodically, even if we think we are perfectly well.

If we do catch a cold we should not neglect it. A cold may lead to influenza, a pneumonia, or other trouble. It may so weaken the system that we become a ready prey to tuberculosis.

Children are particularly apt to develop ear trouble after a cold. When they have had colds they should be kept away from school until the worst is over. While at home, they should be kept quiet and should not be permitted to play with other children.

Did you make 1,500 calls last year?

Records show that an average of more than 1,500 calls were made from each Connecticut telephone last year. Still more are being made today. Multiply those calls by the thousands of telephones in service and you'll readily see why your local telephone operator is so busy—why she may sometimes be unable to answer your call the moment it reaches the switchboard.

That's why she would greatly appreciate your help—especially during mid-morning and early evening hours. Whenever you find it convenient to do so, won't you please postpone your call to a less busy time?

Did you make 1,500 calls last year?

Records show that an average of more than 1,500 calls were made from each Connecticut telephone last year. Still more are being made today. Multiply those calls by the thousands of telephones in service and you'll readily see why your local telephone operator is so busy—why she may sometimes be unable to answer your call the moment it reaches the switchboard.

That's why she would greatly appreciate your help—especially during mid-morning and early evening hours. Whenever you find it convenient to do so, won't you please postpone your call to a less busy time?

4-H Club Movie Contest Opens

Four-H Club members and leaders are invited to cooperate in producing a new movie which will portray the actual contributions of 4-H'ers to better rural living. The picture will be the first ever based upon a story idea furnished by a volunteer leader of a 4-H Club. A typical 4-H boy and girl, selected from the 1,700,000 club members in the nation, will play leading character roles in the movie.

The movie will be sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and produced in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the State Extension Services and National 4-H Club News. To obtain the best material for the movie—both in story ideas and talent a nation-wide 4-H contest has been launched. As incentives, the club leader who writes the best story idea for the movie, and the 4-H boy and girl selected to play the leads, will each receive an all-expense trip to the 25th An-iversary National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. The nine runners-up in each of the three categories—leaders, boys and girls—will receive $50 or $25 U. S. Savings Bonds.

The purpose of the movie is to stimulate interest in 4-H Club work among rural youth, and thereby increase membership to the goal of 3,200,000 in 1950.

All entries should be addressed to National 4-H Club News, 59 East Van Buren street, Chicago 5, Illinois, and must be postmarked not later than April 15.

Complete information regarding the 4-H movie contest may be obtained from club agents.

Star salesman of Easter Seals is six years old Patricia Esposito, a patient at the Bridgeport Children's Workshop. She is shown selling the first sheaf of Easter Seals to Governor Baldwin as the campaign to raise $175,000 opened this week. W. Watson House, president of the Connecticut Society for Crippled Children and Adults looks on approvingly.

Governor Baldwin, who is honorary chairman of the state Easter Seal Sale Committee has endorsed the campaign saying, "during this month before Easter, the people of Connecticut will again have the opportunity to support this organization which affords handicapped persons the opportunities they have been denied but so truly deserve."

Patsy made the trip from Bridgeport all the way to the state capitol in Hartford to represent all the crippled children who are being given a chance "to get like other kids" because Connecticut people bought Easter Seals during previous campaigns. Patsy has been a patient at the workshop, one of five operated by the Society, for three years. She is being taught to walk on crutches and is learning her ABC's at the Workshop under the tutelage of specially trained personnel.

Forest Blaze Burns Over A 150 Acre Tract

East Haven had a wild and woolly forest fire which blazed forth in real movie style Sunday when 160 acres of woodland used largely for the cutting of cord wood for brickyard use burned over in a fire which lasted 12 hours and which was fought by more than 100 men.

The fire started in the vicinity of Thompson street in the Foxon section and before it had finished the fingers of flame had reached out across the line into Montewese and North Haven. Ralph Hurder of Foxon flew over the fire and directed the firemen to the extent of the blaze.

Chief Forest Fire Warden Joseph Polrot directed the fighting and called on the state forest fire department for additional equipment. Also entering the fight were Headquarters and Foxon companies of East Haven, the Foxon Fire forest fire crew and the North Haven and Montewese departments.

A driving rain which set in at midnight aided the firemen in bringing the blaze under control.

The Safety of School Children is My Business

THE MOST PRECIOUS LOAD ON EARTH

Every day in the school year The Connecticut Company carries approximately 20,000 youngsters to and from their schoolhouses.

More children are riding to and from school than ever before which means that bus transportation is largely accountable for bigger and better schools — particularly in the rural districts.

The safe transportation of school children is this Company's greatest responsibility and we look back on an enviable safety record over a period of many years.
