TOWN TOPICS

by John E. Loeb

It's a few minutes after eleven this Wednesday eve and we're anxious to put ourselves and our paper to bed. However, the candidates for the town election are still in the air. The candidates for the town election are still in the air. The candidates for the town election are still in the air.

I'd hate to be a politician about now, out every night campaigning when it's so much easier to sit home and read the paper. Even so, earlier in the evening I had a radio in my car and pick up the opening innings of the game.

Even though the majority of people if asked would pull this either windup wheels for politics or big league ball players, it also is getting recognition as Religious Education Week as of last Sunday. "The practice and teaching of religion constitute a significant phase of our American culture," according to President Truman.

On Sunday "Newspaper Week" hits the headlines. We hope that you'll take a moment or two to study the picture below and also to read the article on Governor Bowles' proclamation.

Speaking for both the Republicans and the Democrats we urge the approximately 6,000 voters in town, every last one of them, to go to their respective voting districts and cast their ballot. Further, those of you who are able to avoid the early 7 P. M. rush of business the returning from work. The politicians tell you who to vote for. We simply tell you to vote.

A report by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department disclosed that in the first six months of 1949, a total of 1,552 cancer deaths occurred. Cancer fatalities ran second only to heart disease. Both diseases accounted for 66.3 of all deaths. The tuberculosis death rate of 23.4 deaths per 100,000 promises to be the lowest on record.

Mrs. Thomas Sutton and children, Judy and John Michael, are returning to their home in Oaklahoma this week after visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sarasohn of 43 Sidney Street.

Miss Hilford Svenson and Miss Zita Matthews will represent the Teachers' League at the Connecticut Education Association Workshop in Lakeville on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Mrs. William G. Newton of Townsend Avenue celebrated her 80th birthday Saturday. Mrs. Newton is well known in East Haven and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nickerson. Her husband is chairman of the New Haven Board of Harbor Commissioners.

Mrs. Edgar Myers of Silver Sands Road and Miss Laura Atwood of Joyce Road recently returned from visiting Richard Myers, who is a freshman at Clemson Agricultural College.

George E. Munson of Park Place has returned from a regional meeting of the Acacia Mutual Company at the New Ocean Hotel at Swampscott, Mass. He attended as an honor member of the William Montgomery Club.

Bradford Manor Wins Another At Unionville Meet

After an inactive period of two weeks, due to cancellations in scheduled Drum Corps competitions in the State, the Bradford Manor Corps continue to win at the Drum competition sponsored by the Cassper Davis Senior Corps held at Unionville on Sunday, Sept. 25, by taking the first Junior Combination class, and also winning the second place award for appearance in the Junior Modern classes.

The second place for best appearing Junior Majorettes was won by Miss Nancy Owens and Miss Kitty Pollard captured the first place award for Junior Feminine Baton Twirling.

LAST WEEK'S FIRES
Sept. 17, 2:20 P. M., 193 North High St., auto, tractor, and shed.
Sept. 21, 11:21 A. M., 24 Dwight Place, oil overflowed in furnace.
Sept. 22, 8:17 P. M., Holmes St., off Burr, reported lightning struck house.

Ambulance calls: 2 hospital trips Sept. 21 and 22.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING ASS'N
The regular monthly meeting of the Public Health Nursing Association of East Haven will be held on Monday evening, Oct. 3 in the Town Hall at 8:00.

Dental Health Program Study Nearly Complete

Public Health Official Calls For Health Council, School Study And Medical Advisor

In January of this year a group of interested citizens representing civic organizations of the town met in the Hagaman Memorial Library under the sponsorship of the East Haven Parent-Teacher Council, to study the possibility of forming a Dental Health Program Council for the benefit of the East Haven School children.

Dr. Frank M. Erlenbach, Jr. of the State Department of Health and Dr. Ira Beebe, Chairman of State Dental Clinic met with this group at the initial meeting and spoke to them. Since then many meetings were held in the study of the forming of this Dental Health Program. Plans are going forward for this new school year and a meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 5 at 8 P. M. in the Hagaman Memorial Library to discuss them.

A campaign for funds has been in progress and pledges have been signed by many of the civic organizations in East Haven. The drive for funds still open and the group will welcome donations of any amount to help further the development of this program.

A dental unit has been purchased through the success of the campaign, and it will be installed in the health room of the remodeled Union School on its completion.

Representatives of all of the participating organizations and those interested in this program are urged to attend the meeting to be held on Wednesday, Oct. 5 at the Library.

Dr. Rocco Bove Starts Four Year Health Post Term

The Board of Selectmen of East Haven last night announced the appointment of Dr. Rocco Bove to be health officer for a four-year term beginning Oct. 1.

Dr. Bove has served as health officer for the past two years. The appointment for a four-year term is in accordance with a new state law calling for such and has been approved by the Connecticut Commission of Health.

Tax Collections Reach $511,290 In Fiscal Year

Ogilvie States Requirements Have Been Exceeded By $13,744.26

Tax Collector James C. Ogilvie announced yesterday that at the close of business on Sept. 26, $511,289.69 had been collected in taxes due for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1949. Total collections have exceeded the requirements by $13,744.26.

The required amount of taxes to be collected during the present fiscal year, as set by the Board of Finance, was $494,545.43 in taxes and interest and liens, $3,000.

Actual collections and percentages for the fiscal year are: current taxes $471,585.54, 101.8%; back taxes $35,507.75, 118.3%; and interest and liens $4,196.40, 139.8%.

Collections for September totalled $112,943.58. Current taxes produced $293.02, and the income from interest and liens was $437.93. These figures are not final inasmuch as there are four days of collections to be included in the total.

October 10th Date Of Annual Town Meeting

Action On Finance Board Report One Of Several Matters Before Townspeople

The adjourned annual Town Meeting for East Haven will be held in the Town Hall on Oct. 10 at 8 o'clock of the Public Library. Action will be taken on several matters.

The first item to be considered is the appointment of three directors of the Public Library. Action will also be taken on the Board of Finance Report, and then authorization will be sought for the Selectmen to carry out the Board of Finance's recommendations.

Woman's Club Helps Community Chest

Because they believe in the Community Chest Program and wish to help make the 30th annual Red Feather drive a success, members of the East Haven Women's Club are asking East Haven merchants to arrange special Community Chest window displays during the campaign, October 17-November 3.

The committee in charge of the project is shown above at Campaign Headquarters, 307 Temple Street, New Haven, looking over some of the new 1949 posters. The public-spirited ladies are, left to right, Mrs. Charles F. Pickett, Mrs. Alvin L. Thompson, Mrs. LeRoy E. Lawson, Mrs. Malvin V. Biedryck, Mrs. Andrew S. Kmetzo, and Mrs. John E. Gould. Mrs. Biedryck is president of the club.

LIBRARY BOARD PRESENTED WITH ANNUAL REPORT

At the September meeting of the Library Board Tuesday with Chairman John D. Houston presiding, Treasurer Ellsworth E. Cowles presented his annual report, indicating expenditures of $9,200.00 for the year.

Receipts from the Hagaman Fund amounted to $5,078. A total of $1,324.11 was expended on books. The board's annual meeting will be held next month.

ROTARIANS HEAR ROSEN

James F. Rosen of New Haven was the guest speaker this noon at the luncheon meeting of the East Haven Rotary Club. His subject was "The Effect of Labor Laws on the Average Business Man."

The program chairman this week was Judge Armen Krikorian.

6,000 Eligible To Cast Votes This Monday

Polls Open From 6 A.M. To 7 P.M. — Fourth District Has Booth For First Time

With the approach of election day, members of both the Republican and Democratic hierarchy are working overtime to get out the approximately 6,000 vote potential in town. A generally accepted fact is that the town elections without the impetus of a national or at least state election fails to attract the voters.

Workers in both parties are conducting all-out campaigns in their efforts to have every possible vote cast, thereby upsetting the public honored truth. Should the public respond in force in the closely contested election, an estimated 3,000 votes will be cast in the center district. The West End would then be productive of more than 1,000 votes and Momauguin and Foxon would each yield 800 votes approximately.

CAMPAIGN POLITICAL CHIPS ARE DOWN AS CANDIDATES BEGIN STRETCH DRIVE FOR PUBLIC'S ALL-IMPORTANT VOTE

East Haven Republicans, with a strong candidate for every office, a six-plank, progressive platform and a record of 12 consecutive years of municipal accomplishment, will go before the electorate in next Monday's town election confident of victory, Republican Party officials stated this morning.

"This combination is so attractive," Republican Town Chairman John Lawlor said, "that the independent voters, as well as many Democrats, to vote with the Republicans to elect Frank A. Barker and every other candidate on the ticket."

Republicans Confident Candidates, Platform, Accomplishments Will Bring Victory

"Behind the Republican ticket," Lawlor declared, "is a united Party determined to exert every effort to elect every candidate so that our town can continue to have the good, efficient and economical government it deserves and which it must have if it is to grow and prosper as it has during the past 12 years."

Lawlor asked: Let's look at our record. Then he provided the answers. "We have built new firehouses in the center and in Momauguin," the chairman explained. "We installed a garbage and refuse collection system to keep our town clean and free of disease. The town's health and other salaries of all teachers and other town employees have been raised to a decent standard of living. We pay salaries comparable to and, in some instances, better than surrounding towns. We built the memorial playground on Thompson Avenue. We repaired Main Street, Hemingway Avenue and Coc Avenue, improving business district. We have a modern school building program to properly house the increasing school population.

Clancy Writes Letter Of Reply To Opponent's Statement Made In This Paper

The following letter entitled "The Voice of Inexperience" was received by the East Haven News from Frank S. Clancy, Democratic candidate for First Selectman in East Haven. It is in reply to statements made by Frank A. Barker, Republican candidate for First Selectman in East Haven in the Sept. 15 issue of this paper.

"I plan to carry out the tradition of the Republican Party which has been in the past to give the residents of East Haven a good, sound economical administration."

AMVETS Forming W. W. II Vets' Post In East Haven

At 8 P. M. tonight (Thursday) in the town hall, AMVETS, American Veterans of World War II, will meet to form a new post in East Haven.

All men and women who served in the nation's armed forces during the last war are eligible for membership and are invited to be present.

George H. Mix, state public relations officer, of 16 Dorman Street, New Haven, has been active in getting the local group organized. Among the participating East Haven veterans are Eugene and Frank Marucci, 886 Main Street, 4-2301, and Frank Flood, 73 Clark Avenue. The slogan of the AMVETS is "We Fought Together—Let's Build Together."

'Freedom Goes Where the Newspaper Goes'

Governor Bowles, in designating the week of Oct. 2-8 as "Newspaper Week" had some nice things to say about the American press. He also had some things—not so nice—to say about some newspapers which, he said, "distort the news and cater to the lowest prejudices."

With some notable exceptions, our newspapers have maintained levels of performance which has not been equaled elsewhere in the world. "With some notable exceptions, our editors and newsmen are conscientious observers and capable craftsmen. A growing majority of our newspaper publishers have come to realize that running a modern newspaper means that the public interest on occasion must be placed before immediate profit."

DO YOU QUALIFY?
The Selectmen and Town Clerk will be in session in the Town Hall Saturday, Oct. 1 from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. to examine qualifications of electors and admit to electors oath only those persons whose qualifications will mature after Sept. 17, 1949 and on or before Monday, Oct. 3.

Why Do They Want to Put A&P Out of Business?

The answer is to be found in the formal complaint "they" have filed with the court. By "they" we mean, of course, the anti-trust lawyers from Washington who are out to destroy A&P. They say... and these are the anti-trust lawyers' own words... that we "have regularly undersold competing retailers."

To this charge we plead guilty:

We confess that for the past 90 years we have constantly stepped up the efficiency of our operations in order to give our customers more and more good food for their money.

The American people have seen nothing wrong in this. By their ever-increasing patronage for 90 years they have shown that they like this low-price policy.

Apparently the people still see nothing wrong in this today. All during the past week - since the anti-trust lawyers made their charges - we have been deluged with phone calls and letters from men and women in all walks of life who want us to know they are opposed to this effort to put A&P out of business.

An enormous number of customers are telling our store managers and clerks that they want to continue to enjoy our low prices for quality foods.

Farmers and other suppliers are asking what they can do to preserve this efficient outlet for their products.

Our 110,000 employees are asking us to protect their jobs and pensions.

Labor leaders are wiring us their opposition to this threat to labor's living standards.

If all these people will be hurt, why then do the anti-trust lawyers want to put A&P out of business?

Low Prices Don't Hurt Anyone

The anti-trust lawyers say because we are able to sell food cheaper than other grocers, we make it impossible for those grocers to compete with us.

If this were true, we should have all the food business in the United States by this time.

Just the opposite is true. In 1933 we had 11.6 per cent of the nation's food business. Now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, our share has decreased to 6.4 per cent in 1940. Anyone can see we have nothing even approaching a monopoly.

As a matter of fact, there are about 30,000 more individual grocers in business today than there were ten years ago.

There are about 275 more food chains in business today than there were ten years ago.

In other words, we have more competitors in the food field and do a smaller share of the nation's food business than before.

Where is this alleged destruction of other grocers? Where is there any evidence of their inability to compete with us?

Do You Want Higher Prices?

As anyone can see, the only purpose that would be served by putting A&P out of business would be to raise food prices.

Who would this benefit?

We were the first merchants to set the pattern for low-cost, low-profit distribution. Our example and our competition has led other grocers to keep their prices down.

Remove A&P from the picture and food prices are bound to go up.

Remove A&P from the picture and the way will be cleared for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor.

Is this what the American people want?

Is this in the public interest?

Why Do They Want to Put A&P Out of Business?

The answer is to be found in the formal complaint "they" have filed with the court. By "they" we mean, of course, the anti-trust lawyers from Washington who are out to destroy A&P.

They say . . . and these are the anti-trust lawyers' own words . . . that we "have regularly undersold competing retailers."

To this charge we plead guilty:

We confess that for the past 90 years we have constantly stepped up the efficiency of our operations in order to give our customers more and more good food for their money.

The American people have seen nothing wrong in this. By their ever-increasing patronage for 90 years they have shown that they like this low-price policy.

Apparently the people still see nothing wrong in this today. All during the past week—since the anti-trust lawyers made their charges—we have been deluged with phone calls and letters from men and women in all walks of life who want us to know they are opposed to this effort to put A&P out of business.

An enormous number of customers are telling our store managers and clerks that they want to continue to enjoy our low prices for quality foods.

Farmers and other suppliers are asking what they can do to preserve this efficient outlet for their products.

Our 110,000 employees are asking us to protect their jobs and pensions.

Labor leaders are wiring us their opposition to this threat to labor's living standards.

If all these people will be hurt, why then do the anti-trust lawyers want to put A&P out of business?

Low Prices Don't Hurt Anyone

The anti-trust lawyers say because we are able to sell food cheaper than other grocers, we make it impossible for those grocers to compete with us.

If this were true, we should have all the food business in the United States by this time.

Just the opposite is true. In 1933 we had 11.6 per cent of the nation's food business. Now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, our share has decreased to 6.4 per cent in 1948. Anyone can see we have nothing even approaching a monopoly.

As a matter of fact, there are about 30,000 more individual grocers in business today than there were ten years ago.

There are about 275 more food chains in business today than there were ten years ago.

In other words, we have more competitors in the food field and do a smaller share of the nation's food business than before.

Where is this alleged destruction of other grocers? Where is there any evidence of their inability to compete with us?

Do You Want Higher Prices?

As anyone can see, the only purpose that would be served by putting A&P out of business would be to raise food prices.

Who would this benefit?

We were the first merchants to set the pattern for low-cost, low-profit distribution. Our example and our competition has led other grocers to keep their prices down.

Remove A&P from the picture and food prices are bound to go up.

Remove A&P from the picture and the way will be cleared for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor.

Is this what the American people want?

Is this in the public interest?

"J. C.'S WITH THE U. N."
(Every word printed, as entitled for in the words of the Holy Bible (St. John) and actually said by Jesus Christ. Copied with all sincere and reverent respect for His word.)

That seemingly empty chair here at the U. N. One really senses a void. It really seems, but somehow felt, and oddly enough, understood with an inner joy, that a strange "light" had departed, yet you know, but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and you joy no man taketh from you.

These supposedly "sophisticated" representatives of the world, many of them looking like children at their Father's feet, "hilariously drunk" in the words of Life magazine, to omit from that "reference." They had been speaking of love one another with all sincerity and earnestness when suddenly from within the unathomable depths of the "light" these words seemed to penetrate each and every member:

"What seek ye? Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe. Verily, I say unto you, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of Man, and they that hear shall live. Search the Scriptures; for in them ye have eternal life: ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free." I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is Day. The night comes when no man can work. Love one another as I have loved you. I am the Way, the Truth and the Light. If you love me, keep my commandments. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. Ye now know that ye have loved me, because ye obeyed my commandments. The Light disappeared, and Love appeared, and there was no more war.

Miss Louise Donroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donron of 851 Woodward Avenue, was married Sept. 12 to Orlando Gargamelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Gargamelli of 49 Silver Street, Branford. The ceremony took place at St. Vincent de Paul's Church in East Haven with Fr. Buckley officiating. The church was decorated with white gladioli and palms. The nuptial music included "Ave Maria," "Pani Angelicus" and "Benedicite."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, had her sister Margaret as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were: Theresa Donron, another sister of the bride, Marie Furino, New Haven, cousin of the bride, Annette Nuzzo, New Haven, cousin of the bride, and Rose Gargamelli, daughter of the groom. The bridesmaids were: Theresa Donron, another sister of the bride, Marie Furino, New Haven, cousin of the bride, Annette Nuzzo, New Haven, cousin of the bride, and Rose Gargamelli, daughter of the groom.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a sheer yoke which had a beaded design. Her finger tip had been fastened to a tier of white roses and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. The bridesmaids wore gold satin gowns with matching hats and the other two bridesmaids were attired in olive green gowns with hats to match. The bridesmaids carried cascades of yellow pompons.

The groom wore a dark suit with a white shirt and a dark tie. He carried a boutonniere of white roses and carnations. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The reception was held at the Light House Restaurant in East Haven. A dinner followed the ceremony in the Light House Restaurant, followed by a reception in Fairmont Hall.

The couple left for a wedding trip to New York, Washington and Virginia Beach. Mr. Gargamelli served in the U. S. Army for three years during the war.

Miss Ida Vitale, James Cappello Wed Recently

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Vitale of 231 Hermitage Avenue, East Haven, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ida Vitale, to James Cappello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cappello of 113 Head Street, New Haven. The wedding took place Saturday, Sept. 17, at St. Vincent de Paul's Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Buckley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had Miss Ann Vitale of East Haven as her maid of honor. She was attended also by Miss Mary Carlin and Miss Ann D'Adamo as bridesmaids, and by Miss Rosemary Casasin as flower girl.

Miss Argio Cappello was best man for his brother, and guests were ushered to their seats by Mr. Joseph Capace and Mr. John Capace. The ceremony was followed by a reception in Fairmont Hall.

The couple left for a wedding trip to New York, Washington and Virginia Beach. Mr. Cappello served in the U. S. Army for three years during the war.

Hiscock Talks On Findings In Health Survey

Interested East Haveners met in the town hall auditorium last evening to hear Dr. Ira J. Hiscock, head of the State Department of Public Health, present the findings of a health survey conducted recently in East Haven.

Dr. Hiscock reported that the survey showed a high percentage of the population in good health. However, there were some concerns about certain health issues.

Dr. Hiscock recommended several measures to improve the health of the community. These include better nutrition, more exercise, and regular medical checkups.

Dr. Hiscock also discussed the importance of public health education. He encouraged citizens to take control of their own health and to help others do the same.

Dr. Hiscock's report was well-received by the audience. Many citizens expressed their appreciation for the information provided and their willingness to take action.

A BUSINESSMAN'S OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF EAST HAVEN As a business man and a property owner I am sincerely interested in good, sound business administration for our town. For the past 12 years we have had what seems to be an economical form of government, but as you look into it, you find it has been penny-wise and dollar-foolish.

For example, the condition of our school buildings and the need now to bond the town to the extent of $400,000. Good business management doesn't let everything go until conditions are impossible. The police department under Chief Priest is giving us police protection under terrific odds; He needs new, modern equipment such as two-way radio squad cars. He needs more manpower to give us the protection we need and should expect.

The fire department under Chief Hansen is also doing an outstanding job with what he and his men have to work with. But here again he lacks proper equipment such as a new pumper, gas mask, lights and salvage blankets. The lack of manpower is also a serious handicap. I am neither a Democrat nor a Republican, but a free citizen not on any primary list. What I want is good, clean and efficient business-like administration so that we as taxpayers get the most value for our tax dollars. In my opinion this year the Democrats have such a slate in naming Frank S. Clancy as First Selectman. He has proven his ability as a business man who is efficient and understanding and has the peoples' interest at heart.

As Second Selectman they have in Alfred F. Holcombe a candidate who also has proven himself to be a level-headed business man. He has done business with the people of East Haven for many years. His honesty and integrity are above reproach. Yes, my fellow townsmen, now is the proper time to cast your vote for, Clancy and Holcombe. When you do this you are voting for two capable men to represent you. This year when you cast your vote I ask you to do before you pull the lever is to THINK. If you do that, Frank S. Clancy and Alfred F. Holcombe will be our next First and Second Selectmen, respectively. Fred Wolfe, Jr. 27 Elm Court East Haven, Conn.

GOP's At State Club Outing

Among the prominent Republicans attending the State Republican outing at the Pines, North Haven, last Sunday are left to right: John F. Lawler, East Haven Town Chairman; Harry Birney, New Haven Town Chairman; Frank Lynch, State Auditor; Michael J. Whalen, Hamden First Selectman; James J. Sullivan, East Haven First Selectman; Frank A. Barker, candidate for First Selectman of East Haven; John DeNicola, State Pharmacy Commissioner; William Jasper, State Senator from East Haven; and Ralph P. Ausitker, Hamden Tax Collector.

Continued from page 1. Park Commission for the establishment of further recreational facilities at Foxon, West End and Montaugin. 6. Expansion of the Board of Education of the cost of installing permanent lights at the high school field for night events. Barker, leading the ticket as candidate for first selectman, operates his general trucking business. A veteran of World War II, he is a member of the American Legion and other veteran associations. He has resided in the town 16 years. His running mate for second selectman is John M. Mele, owner of the Mc-Orange Company. A resident of East Haven for 30 years, he has been a member of the Board of Education, Board of Relief and sponsor's agent for the town. Other Republican candidates are: Margaret Tucker for town clerk; James J. Ogilvie for collector of taxes; Alfred Bowden for town treasurer; Otto Bath for Board of Assessors; Matthew Anastasio for registrar of voters; Myron Grover for Board of Tax Review; Jane Thomson, Ralph Hurder, Baker, co-chairmen of the committee which is planning a supper meeting to be held on Monday evening, Nov. 14. Miss Rose Di Francesco and William Noble and Elizabeth Crowley for Zoning Board of Appeals and John Norwood, Herbert Rowley, Roy Johnson and Clement Catalano for constables.

G.O.P.'s Point To Record Of Bath Tucker, Ogilvie

The selection of qualified candidates for the positions of Assessor, Town Clerk and Tax Collector on the Republican side was easily accomplished. The three who willingly accepted the nomination of their Party for these posts are East Haveners whose combined record here is 95 years. In addition to their participation in civic affairs, they have all held posts in the local government which have been successfully administered. The choice for Assessor of Otto Bath gives the voters a businessman affiliated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He has worked for the U. S. Government in the Dept. of Examiner of Accounts in the Panama Canal area. He has also been both a director and physical director for the Ansonia Y. M. C. A. His connection with the Volunteer Fire group covered a period of 15 years and he worked on the building committee for the Bradford Manor Fire House. During the War he served as a district warden in Montaugin and is at present a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals. He has been a resident of the town for 24 years. Margaret Tucker, who has served the people of East Haven with unparagoned efficiency for 12 years. His business has grown with the expansion of the town, adding a greater tax collection burden as well as necessitating modern accounting methods. He is a past commander of the American Legion and has resided here for 35 years.

stating effort for 12 years is the logical choice for town clerk. She has been able to contribute much to the success of the Republican administration. She has lived in East Haven for 36 years and is a member of the Music Club. James Ogilvie, running for Tax Collector, served the people of East Haven by doing an excellent job in collecting taxes for 12 years. His business has grown with the expansion of the town, adding a greater tax collection burden as well as necessitating modern accounting methods. He is a past commander of the American Legion and has resided here for 35 years.

Teachers' League Plan Nov. Supper

At an executive meeting of the East Haven Teachers' League held in the High School on Monday afternoon, Sept. 20, Miss Betty Joy and Miss Pearl Magid were named co-chairmen of the committee which is planning a supper meeting to be held on Monday evening, Nov. 14. Miss Rose Di Francesco and William Noble and Elizabeth Crowley for Zoning Board of Appeals and John Norwood, Herbert Rowley, Roy Johnson and Clement Catalano for constables.

Town To Have Its Dental Clinic Per P.T.A. Prexy

"Mrs. George Kane, chairman of the dental clinic, has informed me that the dental equipment has been purchased and is stored in a safe place, to be set up in Union School when the necessary remodeling is completed at the school. A dental clinic meeting will be called soon and all organizations will be notified. The amount of $600 has been pledged. "The by-laws of the National, State and local P. T. A. states: Article 3, Section 2: This association shall be nonsectarian and nonpartisan. No commercial enterprise and no candidate shall be endorsed by it. Neither the name of the association nor the names of its officers in their official capacities shall be used in any connection with a commercial concern or with any partisan interest or any purpose other than the regular work of the association. "The Parent and Teacher Association of East Haven has been following this policy of the national, state and local by-laws and we shall continue to do so."

RETREAT

BY BILL AHERN

The 102nd Army Band never played more fervently nor did a handful of soldiers ever parade more smartly than they did last Monday night in New Haven, when a graying officer reviewed them for the last time.

It was the occasion of the retirement of Lt. Col. Leonel C. Morris, group executive officer of the 208th A.A.A. from the United States Army. A mere handful were present when he snapped his hand in professional salute as Old Glory passed but their minds were busy reviewing the thirty-odd spans of years since he first enlisted in the Branford Battery as a private on June 20th, 1917.

They recalled his rookie awkwardness, the ungainly stride of a budding soldier, but remembered a mind that was flashing quick with figures and deceptive-keen in ferreting maps.

If Branford was not his birthplace then it could be called his foster home for he went through every enlisted rank here. First, with the 103rd Field Artillery; then, the 43rd Tank Company; next, the Service Company.

But in the meanwhile Muzzy Morris skipped the gap from the enlisted ranks into the commissioned role. The bridge was joined in 1922 when he became a second lieutenant after having served a considerable period as Master Sergeant. Muzzy was an officer with the Branford service men when they were incorporated into the 208th A.A.A., as an active aircraft unit.

Advancing with unusual rapidity, Morris eventually became Captain in the local outfit and remained with the boys until they never to be-forgotten days at Camp Edwards.

Eventually he was relieved of his connection with the Anti-Aircraft unit to become an officer in the Air Force. While his former charges work in the Pacific, he kept close tabs on their activities and joyfully welcomed as many as he could when they returned home.

When the National Guard was reactivated in 1940, he joined the 208th A.A.A. Group as its executive officer and remained its Lt. Colonel until the strains of the music died into nothing last Monday night. In essence, it is a simple biography.

Yet, it is a page in the military history of his loved country.

Horses wore the military mode of travel in 1918, aside from staff cars. Mules hauled field pieces into position. He witnessed the mechanization of the nation's military might from tanks and planes cumbersome and unwieldy to sonic fast jets and paratroop transport.

For most of the way the transition has been as a soldier member of our town.

Those incidents are only general history easily recalled by any student of history, willful or otherwise.

But there is scientific fact behind Monday's Review; also a bit of personal revelation.

Any high school kid, or even an observant sixth grader can verify that water magnifies. Letters or numerals on one side of a filled glass will become large and easily readable.

So were the events of Col. Morris' life when tears flooded his eyes at the service separation.

The drumbeat of marching steps recalled his years with the Battery.

The clarinets playing high above the cadence of the march recalled France as a doughboy and the numerous men who were with him. Stevie Bombalicki, Joe Driscoll, Lucky Reynolds, Ed Poulton, the Lay brothers, Harry and Charles, Hank Chamberlain, Julius Gumkowski, the McCarthy brothers, Jack and Tim, Red Jack McCarthy, Ernie Averill, John Coolan and scores more who served in the First World War.

The drums and the tubas pounded his memory with the first tanks. The hundreds of men who joined the Company then. Bushy Erickson, the Kling brothers, Justin Erickson, Ed Tobin, Kent, Carroll and Bill Neal, Bobby Kelly, Mikey Cooke, and other Fourth Warders, Johnny Randazzoli, Johnny Lipkovich and more from downtown. From over the river, Nick Cline and Gun Holmes, the Montellus twins, Axel and Carl. The intimate, fresh tones of the trombone brought his thoughts down a few more years when Blochy Erickson, Lon Klockars, Cap Deriso, Bob Kirby, George Neal, Freddy Roganson, among others stumbled through the Manual of Arms and became top notch soldiers.

The vivid glare of the trumpet completed the last ten years of his service when Vin Raitola, Dan McCarthy, Paul Piscatelli, Bob Neal, Ted and George Birbarie, Frank Kinney, Jr., Steve Hylenski, Stan Gumkowski, Whitey Modzewiewski and half a hundred more bared unfamiliar hands to the task of winning a war.

It may be that the music struck a dance chord, recalling the years of the Battery Ball. The different governors who visited here; the brilliantly gowned women; the parties before and after the event. He saw the styles in music and fashions change just as the Army did.

Probably it was a little strange to realize that he had come to the end of a military trail but it never can take his thoughts away from his associations.

The older ex-Branford soldiers know it because once they gave a party. It was sponsored by the 103rd F. A. Veterans' Association. It marked the return of the first of the World War II members of the 208th A.A.A., which was comprised, in a great part of local boys.

Lt. Col. Morris was about the scene after several years away from his former command.

The affair was held at Jimmy Leach's Kool Kup in the Annex for Leach was a former soldier buddy of Morris' in the first conflict.

The incident was given little publicity but off in one corner, when they were not mobbed by hysterical Branfordites, were three G.I.'s just back from the South Pacific and Col. Morris.

His questions were not of impending battles or methods of defense or attack but rather of the intimate things, the health of the boys he had been associated with and how they had fared in the fetid jungle warfare.

He spoke that Sunday afternoon.

In undorned words of tremendous depth, he feelingly gave vent to his joy of having spent the major portion of his military life with Branford men, who did not reason why, but performed their duties as designated. Oratorical splendor did not strike the ears of the assembled friends but simple love, expressed in a simple way, jabbed their hearts.

It was the same a few months later when the local Battery came home from the Philippines. The same 103rd Field Artillery Veteran's Association tossed a large shindig, a Welcome Home dinner at the Old Town Restaurant. It was complete with entertainment and not many speeches. Vin Raitola talked. Ed Poulton was master of ceremonies and a not too tall Lieutenant Colonel briefed the assembly.

Later when songs were breaking the ice of five years of separation, Branford's military friend of three-odd decades was spotted shaking the hand of all of his former charges. Not only shaking their hand but actually getting them aside for a quiet, "Good Job, Well Done."

To be sure others of the 103rd have risen from the ranks.

Major General Richard K. Southerland, with MacArthur in the Pacific, was one.

Colonel Harry Chamblain, now commanding officer of the 102nd Infantry Regiment, was another.

There is an optical illusion in the story, too.

Unfamiliar tears which welled in his eyes have now passed away. Muzzy has patterned his life along that of a retired soldier. He now accepts his civilian chores with the same attitude he welcomed his military ones.

The illusion is simple.

He has discovered that he likes the magnification of his friends and that build memories serve the purpose in more aably.

It makes the print in the storybook of his a und greater by the day. And the scene of the locale is mostly laid in a tiny town on the shores of the sound, seven miles from New Haven.

SAMPSONMEN PREPARE FOR DERBY TILT HERE

From the frying pan into the fire expresses Coach Warren Sampson's thoughts this week as he prepares for a loaded Red Raider array from Derby in the opening game of the scholastic season at Hammer Field here on Saturday afternoon.

Rated as potentially as great as the Shelton dreadnaught which hammered the locals into the dirt of Lafayette Field last Friday night, is Coach Leo Ryan's veteran have a decision over Naugatuck, perennially one of the state's toughest elevens.

But Sampson remains confident. Bessed with much spirit if not material, the Hornets have been improving week by week. Symled early in the year by the loss of Addison Long, the locals came into the Housatonic League banking only on tackle Don Atkinson. In the first fraces against Southington, the Branford mentor unveiled a speedster back, Wilbur Washington. To complement him last Friday, he developed a new passer. Although his prowess ended up in a defeat, the Branfordites had the scrap to scratch out three scores against the Galloping Gaels.

Throughout the remainder of the tilt, both teams played unusual overpowered. A dispute marred the blocking was clean and hard on both sides and the defenses equally as clever.

Ed Verelle accounted for East Tylver margin with a neat placement of the second canton score.

East Haveners Tie Fairfield

Quarterback Ron Rossetti dug deep into memory last Friday afternoon at Roger Ludlow Field in Fairfield and pulled the old style Statue of Liberty play with himself faking and Buddy Mautie running, for forty seven yards and a touchdown in a second period touchdown which enabled the charges of Frank Crisafi to tie the orange and black, 7 to 7.

All the scoring was done in the first half. A poor kick gave East Haven trouble in the opening quarter, Ed Mulloy crashing over from the one yard line. A dispute marred Fairfield's seventh point when the Blue and Gold claimed that the home team had twelve men on the field.

Throughout the remainder of the tilt, both teams played unusual overpowered. A dispute marred the blocking was clean and hard on both sides and the defenses equally as clever.

Ed Verelle accounted for East Tylver margin with a neat placement of the second canton score.

UCONN FROSH EVENTS Last Thursday evening the annual Univ. of Connecticut rally preceding the Yale-UConn football game took place on the campus. On that occasion the enlight ceremony took place and the freshmen took the pledge that formally initiated them as new members of the student body.

Freshmen girls dressed for the occasion in short skirts and huge hair ribbons and carried dolls and toy animals. East Haven girls who participated were Miss Marianne Apuzzo, Miss Carol Rossiter and Miss Shirley Post.

A bus trip to Hyde Park, N. Y. is being planned by the Women's Democratic Club of Branford on Sunday, Oct. 30. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Marie Lucian, phone 8-0880, evenings for further information.

Joe Chandler Highly Rated By Prep Coach

Joe Chandler, last year's Branford High football star, will open his collegiate career tomorrow afternoon when Collegiate Prep travels to New Jersey to oppose a strong Newark Academy.

Chandler has impressed Coach Fletcher Ferguson with his brilliant long runs throughout the season to date and the football mentor is confident that the Branford star will be the spark to set the New Haven Prep on a new track in the pigskin world.

He will team with Harry Comsowich of Shelton, Bobby Fritz of Seymour and Dan Zwack of West Haven in the starting backfield.

Anchored by Captain Pile at left end, the line has Ed Ulrich of Seymour at the right terminal, Jim McNulty of West Haven and Dick Wisniewski of Beacon Falls at tackles, Joseph Nasti of West Haven and Robert Lasko of Branford at guards, and Americo Spaziani of West Haven in the pivot.

The starting line will average a shade over 170 pounds. In reserve and slated to see plenty of action, are Larry Koelg, a big newcomer from Bridgeport, Bobby Irons of West Haven, Bob Dugan, Lindo Blagland of West Haven and John Cassidy, the only other member of the squad who saw 1948 service at Collegiate.

EAST HAVEN GRIDDERS PLAY ST. MARY'S FRIDAY

East Haven's power rigged high school combine is looking for a rugged test when it meets the St. Mary's combine of New Haven in a floodlight contest at West End Stadium on Friday night starting at 8 P. M. but the victory should be acquired by several touchdowns.

Admittedly Coach Frank Crisafi has probably the greatest gridiron material at his disposal that East Haven High has ever presented to a scholastic mentor in that town. Nevertheless he fears overconfidence.

The Easties have a multitude of young fast backs who are released through the gaping holes of forward operators.

In its three games to date it has proven that it can score on the ground just as easily as through the air and the medium of Ron Rossetti's jet-like heaves.

St. Mary's, on the other hand, in its several performances, has yet to win a contest but it has held Branford to a one touchdown win and has improved in all phases under the dully tutelage of Head Coach Horse Marrone.

Aside from Rossetti, who puts the "T" in East Haven, the Crisafim team boast able backs in George Schultz, Bob Mautie, both of whom have shown ability to go all the way. Carafeno, in the forward wall, is both a defensive and offensive standout.

If East Haven can successfully combat possible overconfidence, the game should provide a good warm-up for next week's traditional contest with Branford High.

Laurels Drop Opener, 6 To 0

The Branford Laurels played in hard luck for two minutes last Sunday at Hammer Field and dropped the opening contest of the season the Forbes of New Haven, 6 to 0.

The home club field the upper hand all the way until the closing minutes of the contest when Ed Salvati grabbed a long pass from his brother and raced over the white line for the game's only score.

Otherwise Branford played them off the field for three quarters. Tockey Tamulevich and his mates raced all over the field but fumbles at critical moments stalled the attack.

Aside from Branford's kicking, fans are agreed that the Laurels are an improved club. The line under the guidance of Nick Dykun charges well and the backs, coached by Walt Tamulevich, pick the openings nicely.

In an effort to improve the kicking for next week, end Coach, Ed Galavaski, will don playing logs. Sunday's game is unscheduled but the locals will meet the East Haven Rams and the Prospect Beach Stars on the following Sunday.

A Big Boost For Smitty!

Stepped into Smith's Department Store the other noon and saw the strangest thing. "Sis" Davis was coming up the stairs from the basement with a bundle of wash. "Is Smitty taking in washing these days?" I asked. "Not quite," she says. "He's just put in a new automatic washing machine, so the girls who work here can get their laundry done while they're eating lunch. Means more time to relax at night and on weekends."

I thought what a swell boss Smitty must be. Human relations between the boss and employees have certainly taken a big step forward during my lifetime.

From where I sit, people seem to be doing a better job of seeing our neighbor's viewpoint these days. Though his ideas and tastes may not be ours, we can understand his preference for a certain breakfast cereal, a favorite movie star, or for a temperate glass of beer or ale. That's the way it should be in a free country.
