

Early Meeting Of Parking Authority Is Promised

The first official meeting of the Parking Authority, and appointment of its five members to definite terms of office were promised for the very near future by First Selectman Frank Clancy.

The town chief said he would have John Kmetz, acting chairman, convene the authority as soon as possible. Five members have been named but their terms of office have not been designated.

Richard Reilly, town counsel and a member of the authority told the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday night that the new body, authorized by the town meeting of October 27, would have the very important power of condemnation and its authority would supersede all other town planning agencies.

Reilly said that the authority would have the power of purchasing, condemning or receiving land for off street parking purposes and would have the power to administer these lots.

Discusses Financing
The matter of financing could be handled by several methods: 1) general obligation bonds, which would come under the ten percent bonding limit. 2) revenue bonds not under the limit but harder to market. 3) assignment of parking meter revenues to the authority's fund.

While the method of financing would be up to authorization by a town meeting, Reilly said, the simplest way would be by assigning parking meter revenues to the authority. Last year, he said, parking meter revenues totaled about $4,600. At present the money goes into the general fund. Half of the receipts must go to the meter manufacturer until they are paid for.

Reilly also said that it was possible for parking violation fines to be used, but explained that the fines are divided between the state and the local town court. He said he doubted that there would be much left after court costs were met.

In answer to a question, Reilly said that the formulation of a town zoning plan had no necessary effect on the authority and its powers and plans.

Flavored Assignment of Funds
Dayton Well, former president of the Chamber, "recalled" that the local business group had supported the installation of the parking meters with the provision that their revenues be used for securing future offstreet facilities.

This is the second year for the annual event, according to Miss Parlato, who reported that about 200 persons attended last year.

"Too often, our families don't meet except at graduation time or class night," she said. "At 'family night', our parents have a chance to have some fun together and get acquainted," Miss Parlato explained.

Beausoleil Asks Follow-Up Of Pilot Plan, Policed Code

Immediate revision of zoning and building regulations so that they are brought up to date and strict policing of these codes was recommended this week by D. Charles Beausoleil, director of the Redevelopment Agency here.

Beausoleil also called for action on a town pilot plan which has been in process since last year. "Without these two projects," he said, "we cannot complete our survey."

Beausoleil also declared that "this tremendous project has not had the support of either political party of our town." He pointed out that it was started under the first Clancy administration in 1951, and that surveys were authorized by the Barker administration (Republican) which followed.

The director said that the Town should apply for a federal grant under the terms of the Housing Act which, he said, provides the sum of five million dollars for grants to state redevelopment commissions, which, in turn, allocate the money to local planning agencies.

Beausoleil also called upon the Town to "start re-assessing the town, now" to spare taxpayers the possibility in the next few years of being presented with "a big bill" for taxes. Re-assessment should be done honestly and fairly in order that all might share equally in bearing the Town's tax burdens.

On Friday, Beausoleil spoke to classes in Problems of American Democracy at the High School. In his outline history of the local

Two Men Arrested For Fist Fight In Restaurant Sun.

Two young men, in their early twenties, were charged with breach of the peace early Sunday morning following a reported fist fight in Vicky's Restaurant, at 15 Hemingway Ave.

The charges were lodged against Donald Bates, 21, of 48 Short Beach Rd., and Albert A. Malo, 24, of 206 Popular St., New Haven. Officers Louis Torelli and John Leary filed the charges after investigating.

Bates told police that Malo had shoved his (Bates) date, a 21-year old girl, and that he had protested. Malo, who disappeared from the restaurant when arresting officers arrived, turned up later at police headquarters where he was booked.

The New Haven man claims that he became involved in the brawl after it had started and he had intervened to break it up.

Peter Boychuk, supernumerary policeman, was one of the witnesses but reported he did not see the fight start.

Both defendants were released under $25 cash bond or the equivalent.

The management of the restaurant claimed that $75 worth of furniture and furnishings were damaged in the fight which took place shortly before 12:50 a. m.

Adequate Supply Of Polio Aids Are Available In State

Note: Because of the increase in reported cases of polio throughout the state, the Department of Health has issued the following reassuring information:

Connecticut is experiencing at this time an unreasonable increase in the incidence of poliomyelitis. The large number of cases are not of the severe form of the disease which might be expected at this time of year. If new cases should happen to be of the severe form there is an adequate supply of mechanical aids in the state for the treatment of severe poliomyelitis.

There are over 30 respirators of the "iron lung" type located, at and owned by hospitals throughout the state. In addition, the state department of health owns four respirators which are loaned to strategically located hospitals in the state and several respirators owned by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are on permanent loan to hospitals. Many of the hospitals and all of the state police barracks in the state are supplied with chest respirators either for emergency use in transporting patients or for the care of patients who do not need the iron lung type of respirator. All of the hospitals that accept poliomyelitis patients for treatment have "hot-pack machines" so that regular use of this type of care is available when needed. Rocking beds are owned by several of the hospitals of the state. These are used generally by patients who have been in large respirators and are being weaned away from them.

In spite of all this available equipment, there is need for additional machines, a supply depot is maintained in Boston by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis from which respirators, machines for preparing hot packs, and material for packs can be furnished within twenty-four hours.

There have, during the 1954 poliomyelitis season, been a number of patients who needed care in the iron lung type of respirator. Some of these have recovered sufficiently so that they no longer need the respirator, a few have been transferred to respirator centers outside the state for long-term care. At present only six respirators are in "actual" use. There would seem to be no need for fear that the demand for mechanical aids will exceed the supply.

Redevelopment Director Outlines History Of Momauguin Project

Dr. Charles Beaulieu, director of the Redevelopment Agency, spoke Friday to members of the High School classes on Problems of American Democracy.

The director outlined the history of the proposed million dollar project for the redevelopment of the Momauguin area in Momauguin, and described how the project would be handled. His talk is printed below with some minor editing.

We are to discuss Public Law 500, 83rd Congress, Chapter 619, Section 1, known as the Housing Act of 1949 and also the Amended Housing Act of 1954. The Housing Act states: "To aid in the provision and improvement of housing, the elimination and prevention of slums, and the conservation and development of urban communities." A very simple statement, yet it has developed into the most complicated bill that has ever come out of Washington. The Federal Housing Administration is broken down into several divisions, namely: FHIA - Federal Housing Authority, FNMA - Federal National

Easties, Capitalizing On Seymour Fumbles, Win 24-6
It just wasn't Seymour's day on Saturday when East Haven High beat the visiting high school team 24 to 6 before about 600 spectators on the local gridiron.

Despite some valiant offensive and defensive efforts, the Easties were fanned with a bad case of the fumbles which time and again, were capitalized upon by the Easties.

East Haven's first score came in the opening minutes of the game when a fumble by Dick Szyszak was scooped up by Hank Luzzi giving the Easties possession of the ball on the Seymour 33-yard line. After Ralph Streto and Art Conicelli took turns advancing the ball from there, Luzzi scored on a stiff tackle from the four-yard line.

The remainder of the first half resulted in a stiff battle with both sides fumbling several times and neither able to score until the second half got underway.

The Seymour team kicked off and then held the home team to a punt before a first down forcing a punt by Streto to the Seymour 35 where a fumble put the Easties in control again on the 36-yard line. Several plays later Streto passed to Ed Gustafson, East Haven ended on the 11 who ran it over for the second score of the game.

For their third score the Easties again took advantage of a Seymour penalty and a fumble which put the visitors on the 11 who ran it over for the second score of the game.

In the final quarter, Luzzi locked like a shut-out when Luzzi took a pass from Streto on the four-yard line to score from there. One in every six is under twenty-five years of age. In fact, only 15% of all persons with chronic disease are more than sixty-five years of age.

Unlike some of the diseases, chronic disease is not contagious. It is a simple and specific disease which is caused by a variety of factors, including heredity, environment, and lifestyle. Easties: Tops In Housatonic League Play No. 11

This Saturday the Easties will play host to North Haven High on the local High School Field. The game will start at 2 p. m. On Thanksgiving Day the Easties will invade Branford to meet the Branford Hornets in the traditional closing game of the season.

League standing for member teams shows East Haven with no losses (in the league). Shelton and Branford tied for second place with only one loss each. Seymour third with two losses and Wallingford with no wins.

UConn President Sees Needs For Expansion In All Education Levels
STORNS—Education of many young people in technical skills and in moral and citizen responsibilities was termed today by a Connecticut educator as the best investment for future prosperity and national safety. Dr. A. T. Jorgensen, President of the University of Connecticut, started Sunday urged public cognizance of "the growing crisis in education."

Education Week, the State University President declared, "is a time when leaders in commerce, industry, labor, agriculture, government and education should call attention to the growing crisis in education resulting from the rising tide in our school and college age groups."

"To graduate more young people in the sciences, engineering, and broad-based education to moral and citizen responsibilities, by the end of the next decade we must be able to guarantee our future properly national safety and individual happiness. Pointing to an expected additional 130,000 elementary and secondary school children in Greater and 25,000 more college age youth by 1960, Dr. Jorgensen asserted that the continuing growth and welfare of the state depends upon the quality of its educational institutions. He added, however, that despite the problem, "there is good reason for confidence." The state, he declared, "is favored with an enlightened population which appreciates the advantage that education brings to the state."

"Connecticut," he said, "has a long and proud tradition of college graduates drawn to our industry and farms. Citizens of Connecticut are not only responsible for the support of the state's educational program, but also for the support of the state's educational program. Citizens of Connecticut are not only responsible for the support of the state's educational program, but also for the support of the state's educational program."

MARGIN OF ERROR

There is nothing easier than making mistakes, and many of these can be more amusing to others than to those involved. A paraphrase of a famous poem about a romantic mistake reads:

Of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest are these — 'It might have been.'
More sad are these we daily see —
'It is, but it hadn't ought to be.'
Amos and Andy's friend Kingfish is quoted as saying: De finance committee had a meetin' at de lodge hall last night, and dey decided dat every member what is nodan six months behind in de payment of his dues shall be forthwith dismembered."

Two small boys were out in the woods hunting, when one stopped to pick up a chestnut burr. He called excitedly to his friend, "Come here quick. I've found a porcupine egg!"

Little Bobby had gone to bring in the kittens. His father, hearing a shrill meowing, called out, "Don't hurt the kittens, Bobby!" "Oh, no, I won't," Bobby assured him, "I'm carrying them very carefully by the stems."

A guide was showing an old lady through the zoo, and he took her to the kangaroo cage, explaining, "Hello, madam, we have a native of Australia." "Good, gracious!" she cried, "and to think that my sister married one of them!"

After a visit to an old friend in the hospital, a man took the patient's very lovely nurse aside, and asked, "Give me the real low-down — is he making any progress?" "None at all," replied the nurse decisively, "he's not my type."

An old fellow recounting some of his worst disappointments in life said, "There isn't one that stands out over the years like the one that came to me as a boy. I crawled under a tent to see a circus — and discovered that it was a revival meeting."

A group of English women in a Somerset village set up a snack bar for American servicemen. They contributed sandwiches, cookies and sweets from their slim rations, but the project was a failure. A few Americans did dash into the room, but when they saw the volunteers they hastily backed out, muttering apologies. Finally the disappointed women asked an American Red Cross girl if she could tell them what was wrong. It was all clear to her as soon as she took one look at the sign the English ladies had tacked outside the door: COMFORT STATION for AMERICAN SERVICEMEN."

A noted Canadian entomologist was delivering a lecture on the dangers of rat infestation, to the sixth grade class. The children listened with apparent attention and after the talk one of them was assigned to write him a note of thanks. The note concluded: "We didn't even know what a rat looked like until you came."

"Oh, I'm so glad to get my feet on vice versa again!" exclaimed an American woman as the ship landed in France. "My dear," corrected her husband, "you don't mean vice versa — you mean terra cotta."

One girl said to another, "Jack was at the masquerade last night but I couldn't tell him from Adam."

"My heavens!" exclaimed her friend, "did they dress like that?"

On the general subject of making mistakes it has been said that you must learn from the mistakes of others — you can't live long enough to make them all yourself. And also: You are young only once — after that you've got to be pretty smart to think up a good line of excuses for all the foolish

MRS. NORMAN K. CONNELL

Mary Brereton, Norman Connell Are Wed Here

Mary Ellen Brereton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Raymond Brereton, of 298 Chidsey Ave., was married on Saturday morning, October 20 to Norman Kenneth Connell, son of Mrs. Howard Glynn of McKinnel Ct., Branford and the late Timothy Connell.

The double-ring wedding ceremony was performed in St. Vincent de Paul's Church by the Rev. William O'Neill, and in a setting of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and carnations. Salvatore Delise, soloist, sang in a program of wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Mrs. John DuPuy, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Dore, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Muriel Andres. The bride wore a white gown of tulle and satin, with a long pointed sleeve, a basque bodice and long pointed sleeves.
